SAME OLD STORY BEGINS

St. John Baptist Lost Game to
St. Josephs Through Glaring
Errors -- Donovan Pitched Well.

About 200 fans turned out at the Shamrock ball field last evening to see the purple and white play rings around the St. John the Baptists in a three and one half inning session. The game was loose and featureless throughout, and was marked only by flimsy errors, on the part of the South End athletes. The St. Joe's played steadily until the first of the fourth when Harris failed to get a clutch securely on Kelly's fly to left garden. This was the only misplay for the St. Joe's. Sixty Donovan was used by Manager McCarthy to cup the game, and he allowed but three puny little singles and fanned six batters. McGuigan was in the box for the St. John's, and the St. Joseph's connected with his curves in right good fashion. They connected with the leather safely on seven occasions, three of which were for two bags. He displayed a tendency to settle down after the first inning, but the men behind were apparently unable to get the pellet safely in their grasp. After Wednesday night arrangement, the small bands of enthusiasts were on hand early, but it was many minutes after 7 o'clock when the umpire called for stentorian tones to "play ball," and Johnny Criegan strolled up to the plate. He popped up a puny little fly to the infield. Riley followed and rapped out a sizzler to left field, which was good for transportation to the second station. Daley hit to the pitcher, who threw to first, but Mr. McGovern, the St. John's talented first sacker wasn't looking just then, and Daley went to second. In the meantime Riley took occasion to come home with the first run. Callaghan was next in order with a grounder to short stop, and again the St. John first baseman erred by dropping the ball. Captain Harris then soaked the ball away out in the grass, and Callaghan and Daley romped across the home plate. McDonald kept up the merry-go-round by passing one to the outfield, Harris going third. Call then rapped the ball at Mr. Keleher who was about to clutch it, when it went clear through his legs, and Harris trotted in. Mills fouled out and Donovan forced Call at second ending the agony. The South End artists went out in order in their half, while St. Joe's with a few hits, helped out by a goodly crop of errors, piloted three men safely across the home rubber. In the third the St. Johns were quickly blanked in one, two, three order. The purple and white added two more for good measure, and the game in the grandstand called to the umpire to call the game. The shades of evening were falling fast when McNeill strode up to the plate and the St. John supporters called to him to knock the cover off the ball. Dolley responded by hitting the wind. Keleher let in a ray of sunshine by whacking the ball for his second hit, and Donovan then issued a pass to Callaghan. Littlejohn fanned, but McGovern in an evident desperate endeavor to make his mark on the initial cushion, rapped out a lucky single which would undoubtedly have been gobbled up by Daley, was it not for the darkness, and Keleher scored. Kelly sent the ball on an extended trip to left field and Mr. Harris got it in his mitt but failed to hold it and Callaghan scored. Melaney ended the proceedings by striking out. Following is a score and summary of the game:

TO PROHIBIT BOOK MAKING IN NEW YORK

Albany, N. Y., May 19.—The senate today passed the Azenew bill prohibiting the publication of betting odds and the Perkins bill, relative to keeping betting and gaming establishments. The bills are two of a series of four designed to prohibit bookmaking. They now go to the assembly rules committee.

Managers Come and Go, but Mack and Clarke Go On Forever

Ball players come and go, but Fred Clarke and Connie Mack apparently are going to stay forever, as, of the men who were at the heads of clubs in the National league and the American league the first year the American invaded National league territory, these two alone remain with the same teams. Mack is still bossing the Pirates and Mack the Athletics.

The American league first invaded the east in 1901, and Mack put his team in Philadelphia. Mack has won the pennant in the younger organization twice, in 1902 and 1905. Clarke in the same time has three pennants to his credit, 1902, 1903 and 1909, when his team also annexed the title of world's champions.

Mack is a head manager, about the road was not only very steep, but was cut out of "caliche," or limestone, and sloped sharply from right to left. The arrival of the car created great excitement in the city of Huajuapam de Leon, and two days were consumed taking various officials for short drives.

In the junior intersociety league on St. Peters grounds last evening, the Holy Trinity and Knights of Columbus teams broke even with a score of 8-8. The game went 5 full innings, and had to be called on account of the darkness. Murphy was in the box for the Holy Trinity blue while Ward administered the curves for the K. C.

The Maple Leafs and LaTour played a fast five inning game in the West End league last evening the Leafs finally winning out by a score of 7-6. Both teams played fast, clean ball and some snappy fielding was pulled off. McLeod and Allingham was the battery for the Maple Leafs, and Baillie and Estabrooks for the LaTours.

The price of a rebuilt car ranges from $500 to $3,500. One firm reported that the average selling price of its secondhand cars was $2,000, writes R. D. Heine in Leslie's. Good standard chassis converted into delivery wagons are selling at $1,800.

Touring cars which last year sold for $1,250, and $2,000, may now be bought for from $500 to $800. A limousine which only saw a few months' service last year was sold from a secondhand shop this year for $3,000. The owner originally paid $4,200 for the car.

Tunedo Park Association, the exclusive residence colony club of New York, recently bought four 3-year-old cars, saving 50 per cent. on the original cost. These were formerly touring cars, but they have been rebuilt into station wagons to carry the members of the colony to and from trains. The Adirondack League Club of New York has also purchased secondhand cars for the same purpose.

The first four wheeled vehicle of any kind to traverse the road into the Huajuapam country from Mexico city was a 30 horse-power Chalmers, driven by J. L. W. Birkinbine of Philadelphia. Previous to his trip the only way these roads were negotiated was by two wheeled ox carts and on horseback. Portions of the road, however, are used by mail coaches, but they require seven mules to pull them and all passengers have to walk up all the grades. The Chalmers not only climbed the hills, but carried five passengers and 900 pounds of baggage and mining machinery.

The second stage of the journey was through dry river beds of deep sand. In crossing from one river bed to another steep hills and roads of boulders were encountered. Coming into the Huajuapam country was perhaps the most difficult of all. The

Bets Offered That Big Fight
Will Not Take Place--Herald
Man Worried Over St. John Race.

Three months ago a prominent New York sporting man wagered $1500 against $6000 with another follower of pugilism that the Jeffries-Johnson fight would not take place on July 4. On Monday night at a hotel near 42nd street, those men doubled the wager and after the money had been posted in the hands of a stakeholder a long discussion of the proposed battle on the coast ensued. The man who will take down $12,000 if there is no fight on July 4 said he was banking on several obstacles that might be thrown in the way.

"In the first place," he explained, "It may rain, cats, dogs and pitchforks on the day fixed for the mill. A postponement would be necessary, perhaps, because of the unfavorable conditions for the taking of moving pictures, which mean probably half a million dollars for the promoters and fighters.

In the second place the reformers may get so busy that the promoters at the last minute may have to take the fight out of California to Nevada and the building of an arena at Goldfield or Reno would require a week or ten days. Then again there may be a falling out over the referee question and either Jeffries or Johnson may declare everything off. It is also possible that one of the fighters may be taken seriously ill or die. An earthquake too may upset the plans. I've got all the excuses to my bet, which seems like a good investment when I can get 4 to 1."

Meanwhile the selection of Tex Rickard as referee, even if only temporary, is causing renewed criticism. At long range many sporting men say they do not relish the idea of the leading promoter acting as the third man in the ring and will not feel that that everything is above board until a substitute for Rickard has been named. If it is true that Rickard will finally appoint Eddie Graney, referee local sporting men believe there will be no fight inasmuch as Jeffries is unalterably opposed to Graney. Rickard's relations with John Wolf, since the fight was first discussed would seem to indicate that in agreeing upon him as the referee the negro possibly knows something under the surface. If Rickard's offer had not been acceptable to Jeffries it is a well known fact that Johnson would not have signed articles of agreement. Jeffries is well aware of this fact, so that Berger's willingness to accept Rickard as judge of the bout has provided new material for conjecture. Rickard has never received a level headed, enforcement of the Queensbury code, it is argued.

Moptrel papers seem to be giving the doings of Cameron and Corkery a great deal of unnecessary attention. The latest report from the Herald reads as follows:

Once more Fred, Cameron ran Jim Corkery into the ground last night. This time the merry-go-round took place at St. John, N. B. Having already beaten Corkery at Boston, Amherst and Halifax, Cameron's ability to do so again would have been thought to have been sufficiently demonstrated. But no. Once more at St. John the stunt had to be pulled off again. And why, think you, Messrs. Cameron, Corkery and their respective "managers" can best answer. Meanwhile, there are a couple of points that strike you. First, how comes it that Corkery, a member of the Irish-Canadian A. C. of Toronto, and Cameron, a member of the Ramblers, of Halifax, both amateur clubs, can leave their respective employments for a sufficiently protracted period to tour through the Maritime Provinces with their managers? Secondly: Are the races run in by these amateurs bona fide races of genuine athletic meetings, or are they framed up to show off the Boston Marathon winner to the gaze of an admiring public?

And then again, where does the Maritime Provinces A.A.A. figure in this? Have these match races the sanction of the governing body? And still once again, where does the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada get off at? Corkery carries a card of the A. A. U. of C. as a member of the Irish-Canadian A. C. of Toronto. Does the A. A. U. of C. intend to permit a repetition of the Longboat junketings?

The ability of Frank Gotch, world's champion wrestler, to hang on a dollar until the eagle yells for help, has never been questioned, but his latest stunt in holding up Zhyzsko for all but $1500 of the $25,000 for which the two men will wrestle the latter part of May, is just about the boldest holdup of the sporting world has witnessed.

Battling Nelson, thrifty soul, also arranged it so he would get the lion's share of the purse after he became the champion, but the Dane never had the nerve to put across the deal Gotch got away with without a murmur. It speaks pretty well for Zhyzsko that he accepted this plain holdup.
