YOU'RE not buying as much coal this winter," said the coal man frowning darkly at Mr. McBride. "So you noticed that, did you?" remarked McBride with a smile of keen delight.

"Buying somewhere else?" questioned the suspicious coal man. "No, just threw out the old 'Warhorse' that I had in my cellar and put in a McClary's Sunshine Furnace. And I'm buying onethird less coal." "You see, McClary's Sunshine Furnace has many features for cutting coal bills that no ordinary furnace has. For one thing it has four radiating surfaces that gather up the heat and distribute it through the house. The gas chamber is built to get all the heat out of the gases which would otherwise escape up the chimney. And its four triangular grate bars release ashes without wasting fuel. And its straight fire-pot-"

"Gee! Mr. McBride," interrupted the coalman, "You talk like a McClary salesman."

"Well, you see," said the enthusiastic Mc-Bride,"I went into the furnace question mighty thoroughly before I decided on the Sunshine, and I know what I am talking about."

"Well, Mr. McBride, I must say that the Sunshine is a bad furnace for the coal man's business. But I wouldn't mind saving some coal myself, now that the cost of living has gone up so high.'
