Don't be a fun dropout

“Who, me?”

Yes, you. On problem days can you honestly say you've never asked for a gym excuse? Or given a feeble answer when the gang decided to go horse-back riding or swimming on the spur of the moment?

If your answer is definitely no, never—you probably already use Tampax tampons—the world's most widely used internal sanitary protection. If you have to admit that yes, sometimes you've dropped out of the fun—here's your answer.

Tampax tampons were developed by a doctor over 30 years ago for the benefit of all women, married or single. There are no pins, pads or belts with Tampax tampons. When properly in place, you can't even feel them. No odor or chafing, either. And both the Tampax tampon and its container-applicator are easily disposable. They just flush away.

In short, nothing can force you to drop out of the fun unless you really want to. Unless you just may have another date!

Tampax tampons are available in three absorbency-sizes: Regular, Super and Junior—wherever such products are sold.

'the freedom and responsibility mean a lot to me'

Dave Shelly, a London Life representative in Montreal

"In my last year of university I talked to recruiters from several different types of companies. All of them offered jobs with training programs which would eventually lead to a position of responsibility. But I wanted something more. I wanted something that would let me get out and meet people. I wanted a position that would give me responsibility right away and at the same time a degree of independence and freedom. In other words, I wanted something more than just a job. That's why I joined London Life."

Dave Shelly graduated from Loyola College in economics in 1966. After a three-month training course, he chose the agency he wanted to work in from among the 100 operated by London Life across Canada. In the following months, he established himself as a successful life insurance underwriter. If you are interested in a career that offers you something more, ask your placement officer about London Life sales positions. Or write to the Personnel Department, London Life Insurance Co., London, Ontario.
