War Between United States and Mexico Rests with Carranza

Future Events Will be Decided Upon by How Mexican Government Will Take United States Refusal to Heed Demands For the Recall of American Troops From Mexico

CARRANZA'S MOTIVES NOT QUITE UNDERSTOOD

Official Reports Show That Throughout Mexico a Wave of Hatred Against Americans Has Been Stirred Up—Mexicans are Told States is Preparing For Conquest of Mexico

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Upon Genl. Carranza's reception of the stern refusal to heed demands for the recall of American troops from Mexico, hinges the question of the Mexican war, in the opinion of President Wilson's close advisers. They were prepared tonight for the possibility of open hostilities, after the Note which will be sent forward tomorrow reaches Carranza's hands. While diplomatic steps were in progress today, the nation was stirring through its width and breadth with the movement of National Guardsmen mobilizing to guard the border. At least one hundred thousand, and possibly a far larger number, is preparing for active service under President Wilson's call. For the present their mission will be one of defence, but should war come they will be ready. No marching orders for the new forces had gone out tonight. They will not be assigned to border duty until they are mustered into the Federal service. Even when mobilization is completed, only such units will be ordered south as Genl. Funston desires to fill gaps in his 1,800 mile ground line. The remainder will rest their arms and stay in mobilization camps for the present, awaiting the turn of events. Official reports from many quarters show the flame of popular feeling against the States is being kindled throughout Mexico, apparently with the sanction of Genl. Carranza. From Juarez to the west coast of Mexico posters have appeared calling the people to arm and asserting the United States is preparing to hurl its armies into Mexico.

ROME, June 20.—Heavy attacks are being delivered by Austrians near Magra Bosch and Poscon, in Trentino. Earl of Longford Killed

LONDON, June 19.—It was announced officially today that Brigadier General the Earl of Longford, who was previously reported wounded and missing, has been killed. The Earl of Longford was reported last year as being wounded while fighting on the Gallipoli Peninsula. He was the fifth Earl of Longford, and was born in 1864.

Neither the State Department officials or members of the Diplomatic Corps here have been able to satisfy themselves as to Carranza's motives. There are some who believe he should ride into popularity by diplomatic triumphs over his powerful northern neighbour or upon a war wave which might establish his tottering government. Once war was on the certain defeat of his armies is foreshadowed and these observers say Carranza might sue for peace, trusting to the magnanimity of the Washington Government to leave him in power.

MANY IMPORTANT MATTERS AWAIT REASSEMBLING OF PARL'T

The Irish Problem is One For Deep Consideration—Much Attention Will be Given to Finance as Another Vote of Credit Will be Asked For—There is a Division Among Cabinet Over Proposals For Settlement Irish Question and Negotiations For Moment Are Stopped

LONDON, June 20.—Matters of great importance await consideration of Parliament which reassembles today. Since recess was taken three weeks ago, there have been three happenings of great moment, namely, the naval battle off Jutland, the Allies Economic Conference at Paris, and the death of Kitchener, which necessitates the appointment of a new War Minister. The legislators will want much information concerning these matters and in addition the attitude of the Allies toward Greece and the Irish problem provide questions for deep consideration. Much attention will also be given to finance as a new Budget is promised for next month and another vote of credit is scheduled for early in August. There remains besides the problem of the extension of the life of Parliament. It is reported there is a division among members of the Cabinet over the proposals for a settlement of the Irish question. Irish negotiations have been stopped for the moment owing to this difference of opinion.

team seemed to have sized the other up and spectators were given a good clean exhibition throughout. The Irish had if anything the better of the game for the first ten minutes of the second half and on two or three occasions were within an ace of scoring. However the Terra Novas put up a good defence and towards the close of the game had play confined to their opponent's territory. No further scoring was recorded in the second half and the first game for 1916 ended in a draw.

The Opening Game Ends in a Draw

Terra Novas and B.I.S. in Opening Game of Season Give Good Exhibition—Teams Scored One Goal Each—Large Gathering of Fans Present and Ideal Weather Conditions

Under ideal weather conditions and before a large gathering of spectators the Terra Novas and B.I.S. met last evening in the opening game of the 1916 fixtures. Interest was keen from the start as much was looked for on account of the entry of the new team who were known to have good material in their ranks.

The game started sharp at 7 o'clock with the Irish defending the eastern goal. Immediately on the ball being put in motion the Irish boys made a good run west but were repulsed by the Terra Novas backs who throughout the game played well. After some fifteen minutes of hard work, "Freddie" Phalen after one of his usual dashes succeeded in netting the first goal for the season amidst loud plaudits of the Irish supporters. This had the effect of making the Terra Novas buck up and just previous to half time they managed to score the equalizer through Simms. No further scoring was done and the teams crossed over at half time one goal each.

The second half opened with a brisk space and play was even better than in the first half. Each

OFFICIAL BRITISH

LONDON, June 19.—A British official issued tonight reads:—"During last night and today the German infantry carried out no enterprises along the front. Except for some heavy shelling of our trenches south-east of Neuville St. Vaast, the enemy artillery was fairly quiet. Arras was shelled last night, and during the day there has been some shelling about Becourt, Thiépale and Hulluch. East of Souchez there have been trench mortar actions. Today our artillery dispersed an enemy working party west of Hulluch. In this region the enemy blew up a small mine, which destroyed one of his posts, but did us no damage. The chief point of interest to record is the aerial report. Yesterday there was a marked increase of the work of hostile aircraft. In all there were 27 combats, in which the enemy suffered the following losses:—One hostile aeroplane was brought down in our lines near Doullens, and the occupants made prisoners two of our fighting aeroplanes encountered two Fokkers in the vicinity of Lens, when one machine was driven down and damaged, and the other shot down, which crashed to the earth from a height of four thousand feet. Two more German machines were driven down in a damaged condition, while another was brought down near Wiegles. Hostile reconnaissances which crossed our lines were attacked and dispersed by our aeroplanes. One of our pilots reported he saw sink two hostile machines, hit by anti-aircraft fire. As a result of the air combats two of our machines were brought down in the enemy's lines.
