Naval Writers Maintain That Sam Cannot Submarine Ca Times Utters G ing

By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Oct. 11.—The German submarine campaign continues to the chief topic in the English newspapers. The fact that the United States had protested against the trial of British cruisers near American coast was not generally known here until the German submarine visit raised discussion of whole question.

Naval writers now maintain that the Washington Govt. have protested against the presence of British cruisers on the American coast cannot fairly countenance the hold constitutes far greater cause of complaint and protest than which could have been based. British naval movements.

All departments of the British Government are maintaining a policy of refraining from comment on man submarine activities off American coast.

What New York Times Says
New York, Oct. 11.—The New York Times this morning, commenting on the State Department's memorandum in reply to the allied note on the submarine campaign pointed out the seriousness of the American position. It says:

"Do we know the purpose which the German submarine entered Newport harbor last week? Was it the destruction of the of sailings from this port of important enemy ships, or the expected date of arrival of such ships was it a band? If that information was sought it might readily have been obtained from a copy of a N
