Mrs. Aubrey Bowles poured tea in the dining room, Misses Kate Killam and Norma Webster served, while little Miss Hazel Caldwell opened the door for the many callers. The rooms were prettily decorated with autumn flowers. The ladies looked very charming. Mrs. Philip Isley wearing her wedding gown of white satin; Mrs. Cassie Isley, a handsome dress of grey silk with rose trimmings; Misses Killam, Webster and Caldwell, white silk dresses. Capt. C. W. Corey who spent considerable of the past year as chaplain of Aldershot is addressing our political patriotic meetings in New Brunswick in the interests of serving in the war. The Monitor Transcript is wrapped in the wool grit that it rolls at New Mr. Corey thus:

Pettidiac, October 28.—(Special)—The Reverend Mr. Corey, who poses as a Captain in Khaki, but who has not yet smelled gun powder yet, but reserves his fighting qualities to attack in New Brunswick the French of Quebec, held as political meeting here this week. His speech was entirely a political one. That non-partisan G. B. Price, of Moncton, was present. A great many Liberals attended under the impression that the meeting was entirely non-political, but were so disgusted that they left.

The typesetter got so disgusted with this railing at Mr. Corey that he took a spanner and never finished the service.

Pork Barrels For Sale—Price 50 cents each at Young's Fish Market

On Tuesday we were obliged to send by auto to Aylesford to obtain the necessary gas to run our Linotype and press. Gasoline is still obtainable and we are through the courtesy of the Western Chronicle using their press as water is plenty.
