BOOK HURLED

By a Suffragette at Police Magistrate—She and a Companion Had Set Fire to a Building in Kew Gardens.

(Courier Leased Wire)
LONDON, Feb. 20.—Suffragettes paid another havoc-working visit to the Kew Botanical Gardens today and fired a large refreshment pavilion, which burned to the ground. Two women were arrested.

The two women taken into custody gave their names as Lillian Lenton and Joyce Locke, aged 22 and 23 years respectively. They were caught while running away from the scene of the fire. Each of them carried a bag containing a dark lantern, some cotton soaked in oil, a hammer and a saw.

When brought up at the police court and charged the magistrate re-

The House of Commons Prisoner is Having a Fine Time

OTTAWA, Feb. 20.—R. C. Miller, Canada's first famous state prisoner, is still under lock and key in the Parliament buildings. He showed no visible signs of repentance, and gave no intimation that he would tell the House what he did with the $41,026 which he swears he spent to secure $117,000 of Government business between 1907 and 1911.

Since last night he has remained in custody of the sergeant-at-arms who has kept him under guard in his own private room. All day long a uniformed policeman has paced up and down outside his quarters, and he has been allowed no such liberties as to go to the bathroom, or the latrine, or to see his wife, who has been sent in from the Parliament restaurant and last night before retiring he ordered up a Scotch and soda which was accordingly brought. Last night he received a letter, but he did not sleep well at "Bitter were the words," but he is evidently growing accustomed to his quarters and last night he retired at an early hour.

The Arbitrators in Connection With a Threatened Strike

(Courier Leased Wire.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—W. W. Atterbury, vice-president and general manager of the Pennsylvania lines east, and Albert Phillips, third vice-president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, went into conference here today to select the third man who will compromise with them the board of arbitrators to decide, under the Erdman Act the firemen's demands of the Eastern railroads for increased pay and additional firemen on large locomotives.

Should they fail to choose the third arbitrator within five days, the federal commissioner of labor, and the chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission must select a man to fill the place. Within ten days from the selection of the third man, the board

Willing to Submit the Outcome to the Powers

(Courier Leased Wire.)
LONDON, Feb. 20.—In a review of the European situation The Times says:

"It is believed in St. Petersburg that both Roumania and Bulgaria are willing to submit their differences to the decision of the powers. According to the information of one St. Petersburg correspondent the actual arbitration is likely to be conducted under the Russian and Italian Governments under the auspices of Great Britain. In Sofia considerable uneasiness is caused by reports that the powers are likely to lean toward Roumania's view. In Bulgaria the impression is that this particular danger will soon cease to be acute.

"The Roumanian cabinet met today and our Bucharest correspondent reports that public opinion is in favor of arbitration.

"The outlook with regard to the Austro-Russian differences on the subject of the delimitation of Albania is not so hopeful. The question has been complicated and envenomed by being made in a sense a test of diplomatic strength instead of being discussed on its merits. But there is no reason to despair of a solution.

"Today Sir Edward Grey and the ambassador will resume their meetings and will consider the latest Russian proposals, which have already been communicated to Vienna."

IN THE BALANCE

Is the Fate of the Deposed President of Mexico—Mysterious Orders Were Suddenly Issued to Prevent the Proposed Exile of Himself and Family—An Old Official Who Was Executed Died Bravely.

(Courier Leased Wire)
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 20.—The fate of Francisco L. Madero, the deposed President of Mexico, was still in the balance this morning. Preparations had been made at midnight for his departure with the members of his family into an unknown exile, but these although they had been ordered by General Huerta, the new provisional President, were suddenly halted by mysterious orders from the chief executive.

The ex-President, therefore, until long after daylight, remained in the capital.

Those familiar with the propaganda of the northern rebels express the belief that Pascual Orozco, Loez Salazar and other leaders may not be satisfied with the selection of only one of their comrades, David de la Fuente, as a cabinet minister.

On the other hand, it is well known that the men who have been operating in the north are tired of fighting, and have repeatedly said that their main object in doing so was the removal of Francisco Madero from power.

The new administration appears not to be inclined to temporize with any of the rebels. It declares that all that is possible will be done to effect a reconciliation, but in the event of the failure of its efforts in this direction it proposes to renew the war against all of them with more vigor than ever.

Already the federal troops have been sent to Guernavaca to prevent the occupation of that city by the rebels.

In the meanwhile attempts have been made to convince Emiliano Zapata that he should order his men to lay down their arms and return to work.

The new government has been proclaimed officially in every state of the republic, and practically all the governors have telegraphed to General Huerta declaring their allegiance to him, and stating that they will act in conformity with his new plans.

After the manner of newly-installed governments, that of General Huerta began with the liberation of political prisoners, while the proclamation of a general amnesty is expected
