A SUGAR FACTORY

We May Get One Here if a Government Bounty is Granted.

The Mayor Appointed to Co-operate With a Large Delegation to Toronto.

"I understand," wrote Norman B. Gaab, barrister of Toronto, to the city council, "your community is largely interested in the proposition of the beet sugar industry in the province of which I am an evidence by the phenomenal success it has met with in the State of Michigan."

"I have been in touch for sometime past with foreign capitalists who are prepared to invest their capital in a number of factories in Ontario provided the government can be induced to assist the industry by way of bounty for the first few years of its existence. Another gentleman and myself have interviewed all the cabinet ministers in the local house privately, and I may say they are considerably interested and some of them have suggested getting a large representative delegation from various parts of the province to meet them in council and to lay the matter before them at an early date."

"We would therefore ask you to send as large and influential a delegation as possible from your locality to meet here, not overlooking the farming interest to meet here in convention next week, and then wait on the government council in a body and try if possible and carry them by storm."

A second letter notified the council that the delegates to the convention had been called together for Wednesday, Feb. 21.

Ald. Sulman at last night's meeting said there was nothing of more importance to Canada than the beet sugar industry. It had proved a great success in Michigan. We had the right kind of soil here to grow sugar beets and if a factory were established it would do well.

Ald. Stephens also spoke strongly in favor of the encouragement of the beet sugar industry.

Ald. Marshall moved, seconded by Ald. Sulman, that the Mayor be a delegate to go to Toronto and wait on the government.

THE TRUANT SCHOOL

How the Bad Boys Are Treated in the Great City.

In New York city, or, more properly speaking, that portion of it termed the Borough of Manhattan, the rules of the Board of Education regarding truancy are strictly enforced, and education is truly compulsory. Those who persist in playing truant are sent to the Truant School, in East Twenty-first street, where, for two or more weeks, the boy is detained as a prisoner; but he is a prisoner only in name, for, while it is true the door is locked, there are no bars nor anything else which suggests a reformatory. There are twenty-two men and two women employed in the borough as truant attendances officers. They investigate the cases of truancy reported by the principals of the schools, and visit the parents of the children and try to get the parents to co-operate in seeing that the pupils attend school regularly. If this is unavailing, it is the duty of the attendance officer to take the little offender to the Truant School, where the acting superintendent decides whether or not he shall have another chance, for the boys are committed to the school only as a last resort. When a boy begins to absent himself from school, the reason, and reprimand. Then the attendance officer calls on his parents and reads them a copy of the compulsory education law. If this fails to make the boy a regular attendant, he and one of his parents are summoned to a private hearing before the superintendent. Every case is carefully considered, and if there seems to be an antipathy between the teacher and the boy, he is transferred to another school. Sometimes these persuasive tactics are not sufficient. Then the boy is put on probation for two weeks, and he must bring in a card to the superintendent, showing that he has been a regular attendant at school and his conduct has been good. If the small truant persists, however, in pursuing his rebellious career, there is nothing that can save him from incarceration in the Truant School.

The boy is kept in the Truant School at the expense of the city for two weeks or more, and this time can be extended to even six weeks if necessary. When a boy leaves the Truant School he is put for two months on parole. During that time he must report at regular intervals to the superintendent. If his conduct has been excellent, he is allowed to drill on Friday evenings with the truants, the work which has been done in the truancy school is very remarkable. The boy is taught by kindness and appeal to his moral nature, and there are no cases that the governor or later do not yield to all the influences to which they are subjected.

The building itself does not call for special attention. It was built originally for the Children's Aid Society, and is only fairly well adapted to the purpose. The boys sleep in dormitories, and to some of them it is their first experience in sleeping on a bed, away from home, and the last degree of cosmopolitanism is to be met there. They include Americans, Italians, Poles, Russians, Jews, and Irish. They rise at 6 in the morning, dress and march downstairs, where they wash. Breakfast is eaten at 7 o'clock, then they make their own beds and do part of the kitchen work. At 8:30 they again wash and brush up for school. Then come various studies until 12 o'clock. From 1 o'clock until 3 o'clock the school is in session again, and they are then allowed to walk up and down for an hour in the little courtyard, for, unfortunately, the school is shut in by high buildings. They have supper at 5:30, and at 6:45 they have a regular military drill. Promptly at 8 o'clock the boys go to bed on their little iron beds. So well are the boys treated that they very seldom think of escape, and if they do, a half hour in a dark but well ventilated closet will always bring them to terms.

Tons of the Chinese Child.
Few indeed would be their playthings if the Chinese children had to depend on toy shops for them. As it is, the hawk is a familiar sight in every Chinese city, and when the children hear the song of a toy seller it is a signal for a rush to the front gate. At a call these men slip the pole from their shoulders and set their baskets on the ground, and there is always a group of children ready to gather round them.

A display of toys carried by one of these toy sellers includes many things familiar, besides kites, made in the shape of birds, fish, serpents, dragons and even inanimate objects, like bells and houses, will have wind harps fastened on to make them sing while in the air, and will have eyes set loose in their heads, so that when the wind blows the eyes will turn round and look as if they were winking at you.

The seller then opens up the bottom tray in his rear basket and shows a bowl of yellow sweets set over a pan of burning charcoal, to keep them soft. He rubs a little flour in the moulds to keep the sweets from sticking, picks up a little of the soft substance, which he works into a cup shape in his finger, and then draws it out, closing up the hole. One end is drawn out longer than the other and then broken off. He places his lips to the broken place and begins to blow, and the lump slowly swells. Then he clasps the moulds which you have chosen round it, and gives a hard blow, breaks off the stem through which he has been blowing, opens the moulds, dips a little bamboo stick into the soft sugar and touches it to the side of the sweetest figure in the mould, lifts it out and hands it to you on the stick, all in much less time than it takes to tell about it.—Pearson's Weekly.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.
Toronto, Feb. 17.—We had only 33 car load of live stock coming to the western cattle yards this morning, but this, added to what was over from yesterday, was ample for all business requirements. The market can be described as a dull and uninteresting one, with no quotable change in price.

The receipts comprised about 700 hogs, 400 cattle, 300 sheep and lambs, and a few milkers and calves.

Shipping cattle were in fair demand at from 4-14 to 4-16c, with 5c. for fair selections; for a few choice lots 5-18c and 5-14c was occasionally paid.

All the best butcher cattle here found a ready sale at from 3-4 to 4-14c per lb.; medium sold at from 3-14 to 3-5-8c per lb., but common cattle were slow sale at weakening prices.

Fair to much poor cattle is coming along, and of course, it interferes with the value of the best stock to-day, owing to weakness in Buffalo; prices to-day ranged from 3 to 3-12c per lb., but they had to be extra choice to realize the latter figure.

Feeders were easy and not much inquired for at 3-12 to 3-4c per lb.

Milk cows sold at from $25 to $50 each, milkers are wanted.

The enquiry for "small stuff" was dull, but prices were unchanged from yesterday.

Hogs are steady and unchanged. Sheep are worth from 3 to 3-12c per lb.

Lamb sold at from 5c to 5-12c per pound.

Bucks are unchanged at from 2-14 to 2-12c per lb.

Common rough calves are a poor sale, but good veal calves are in demand, and will sell up to $10 to $12 each.

BUFFALO LIVE STOCK.
East Buffalo, Feb. 17.—Cattle—Rather slow sale; the feeling on the choice kind of butcher was a little stronger.

Calves were in moderate supply, demand good, and higher; choice to extra, $8 to $8.25.

Good to choice, $7.50 to $8.

Sheep and lambs—The total offerings were 44 loads; choice lambs higher and sheep steady.

Choice to extra lambs were quotable at $7.15 to $7.30.

Good to choice, $7 to $7.15.

Common to fair, $6 to $6.75.

Yearlings, sheep, $6 to $6.35.

Mixed, $5 to $5.50.

Ewes, $5.25 to $5.50.

Wethers, $5.50 to $5.75.

Hogs—The offerings were 43 loads; the market opened with a good demand and 5c. higher; heavy were quotable at $5.15 to $5.47-1-2.

Mixed, $5.15.

Yorkers, $5.10 to $5.15.

Pigs, $4.75 to $4.80.

Roughs, $4.40 to $4.70.

Stags, $3.50 to $4.

There was a good clearance and a steady close.

AMENDE HONORABLE.
A Star to the Neighborhood That Needed Fixing.

"You had an item this morning in your paper, sir," said the rough-looking caller, "about Fletcher McGinnis moving to another part of the town."

"Yes, sir," replied the man at the city editor's desk. "I presume we had."

"Well, I want it straightened."

"What's wrong about it?"

"You congratulated him on getting into a better neighborhood."

"Are you Mr. McGinnis?"

"No, sir. I live in the house next door to where he lived. We consider, that item, sir, a slur on the neighborhood, and we want something done about it."

"That item," said the editor, inspecting it, "was brought in by one of the reporters. We'll fix it all right tomorrow morning."

Accordingly, the next issue of the Daily Circumstance contained the following:

"Yesterday morning, in noting the removal of Mr. Fletcher McGinnis from Mullighub Square to Dicker Avenue, we congratulated him on getting into a better neighborhood. We wish now to congratulate him on getting away from Mullighub Square alive."

His Great Help to Memory.
A stranger dropped into one of the Woodward avenue groceries the other day and inquired of the clerk if he had any nuts. The clerk answered in the affirmative.

"What kind do you want?" he asked. "I don't know. Just name them over to me, will you?"

"Well, we have hickory nuts, pecans, beech, walnuts, almonds, peanuts," and he rattled off a number of other varieties, but the stranger shook his head.

"Filberts," suggested the clerk. "No, something like that, but not filberts."

"Butternuts?" The stranger smiled. "That's it, thank you."

"How many do you want?" asked the clerk.

"I don't want any. I've been trying to think of the name of that street for an hour, and thought that would be a good scheme to help me out. I want to get to Butternut street. What car do I take?"—Detroit Tribune.
