Come in And Let Us Talk Over Carriage Values

When purchasing a Carriage or Waggon if you buy a reliable make and pay a fair price for it. A cheap carriage may be good value for the money so far as the cost of manufacture is concerned; but a cheap Carriage invariably proves a dear Carriage when it comes to wearing quality and easy riding features.

Better pay a little more for the Carriage at first, and less for repairs in the future.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE PRESIDENT.

"I wonder why he does not come," she asked one of her nieces. "There was no clock in Mrs. McKinley's room, and when it was 10 o'clock she had no idea it was so late, and this is when she began to feel anxious concerning her husband, for he was due to return to Mr. Milburn's residence."

Mr. Milburn had been driven rapidly down Delaware avenue in an open carriage. As he came up Mrs. Buchanan was out on the lawn conversing with a reporter. "Do you know," said Mr. Buchanan, "I had a sort of premonition of this. Since early morning I have been extremely nervous and have feared that something might go wrong. Our trip to the Falls was uneventful, but what an awful sad ending to our day."

At 7:30 o'clock Dr. Rixey came out of the house accompanied by Colonel Webb Hayes, a soldier, ex-President Hayes, who is a friend of President McKinley. They entered a carriage and returned to the Exposition hospital.

After Dr. Rixey had gone Director-General Buchanan said that the doctor had broken the news in the most gentle manner. She stood it bravely, though considerably affected. Dr. Rixey said the President could be brought with safety from the exposition grounds, and when he left all Milburn's arrangements for the removal of the President.

A big force of regular patrolmen were assigned to the Milburn residence. At 7:30 Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, and Miss Wilson, called and were admitted to the Milburn residence.

Cleveland, Sept. 6.—The news of the attempted assassination of the President, was broken to his sister, Mrs. A. J. Duncan, and Miss Helen McKinley, both of whom live in this city, by a son of Mrs. Duncan, who hurried to the home of his mother, and gently as possible acquainted her with the news. Tears were shed, but both feared an attempt upon the life and showed much bravery. They had both feared an attempt upon the life of their brother, and their fears were at last awfully realized.

CULPRIT'S STORY.
Buffalo, Sept. 6.—The police have just learned that the real name of the would-be assassin is Leon Czolgosz. He was born in Detroit and came here from Cleveland.

Leon Czolgosz, the accused and self-confessed assassin, has signed a confession covering six pages of foolscap which states that he is an anarchist and that he became an enthusiastic member of that body through the influence of Emma Goldman, whose writings he had read and whose lectures he had listened to. He denies having any confederate and says he decided on the act three days ago and bought the revolver with which the act was committed in Buffalo.

He has seven brothers and sisters in Cleveland and the Cleveland directory has the names of about that number living on Homer street and Ackland street, which is a street of them are butchers and others in different trades. He is now detained at police headquarters pending the result of the President's injuries.

Czolgosz does not appear in the least degree uneasy or penitent for his action. He says he was induced by his attention to Emma Goldman's lectures and writings to decide that the present form of government in this country was all wrong and he thought the best way to end it was by killing the President.

He shows no sign of insanity, but is very reticent about much of his career. While acknowledging himself an anarchist, he does not state to what branch of the organization he belongs.

Czolgosz has a father living on a farm about eight miles from Cleveland, O. He is unmarried himself. He wears the badge and claims to be a member of the Golden Eagles.

Five anarchists placed under arrest were subsequently released after examination.

SORROW IN LONDON.
London, September 6.—The news of the attempt on the life of President McKinley spread slowly in London. The first ticker reports were discredited; then, with the confusion and general dissemination of news arose a far-reaching feeling of sorrow and indignation, which, wherever Americans were gathered, almost gained the proportions of a panic, accompanied by feverish anxiety for further details.

The thousands of Americans now in London were mostly at the theatres when the news arrived, and going to their hotels found anxious groups of Englishmen and Americans discussing without distinction of race what is regarded as a national calamity. London telephones, usually silent at night, tingled with inquiries addressed to newspapers and American correspondents in the hope of securing a denial of the report. The announcement of the attempted assassination was received too late for extra editions of the papers to announce the news to the mass of English people, and they will not learn until they take up their morning papers of the attempt to kill the President.

A representative of the Associated Press conveyed the news to J. W. Mackay, Colonel Schiltz, C. L. Pullman and J. W. Gates and many others, all of whom expressed their unspeakable indignation at the cowardly act, the deepest sympathy with President McKinley and hopes for his recovery. Added to this personal patriotic sentiment was the dread that whatever the outcome of the outrage upon the President, it would perhaps react fatally upon Mrs. McKinley.

PRESS COMMENT.
London, Sept. 7.—All the newspapers

this morning publish long accounts from Buffalo describing the attempt upon President McKinley's life. Despatches from abroad regarding the reception of the news which greeted excited and anxious discussion of means to prevent anarchist outrages, the urgent need of greater police precautions than ever in republics and the freest countries.

The Daily Telegraph says editorially: "It is with the profoundest regret that the world learns to-day that another distinguished name is added to the long list of names which have fallen victims to the execrable wickedness of the assassin. The most unfeigned and heartfelt sympathy will go forth from every family in Christendom to Mrs. McKinley in this hour of deepest sorrow and trial. Americans will acquit us of all suspicion of insincerity when we claim that the blow will be felt with equal severity in Great Britain, as in the United States."

The Daily News says:—"The ghastly outrage by which a brave, upright, governor of men perishes as Lincoln and Garfield perished in the execution of his duty, comes home to the hearts of Englishmen with inexpressible poignancy. We are proud of America, and an act like this, which plunges the republic into bitter grief, reminds us nothing else can do that we are members of the same house, born of the same flesh, flesh of their flesh. The death of no public man outside of this country could affect as the death of the American President." While denouncing in the strongest terms the madness of anarchistic criminals, the Daily News says, it thinks the growth of the trust system is a perpetual danger to the American combination wealth.

KING EDWARD HEARS THE NEWS.

Berlin, Sept. 6.—King Edward was travelling from Frankfurt to Hamburg, when the news of the attempt upon President McKinley was received, and a telegram was immediately dispatched to meet him, acquainting him with the deed. The Altona Kiel Railway was strongly guarded by a large force of police, and it cannot be doubted that this latest anarchistic attempt will result in the reestablishment of police precautions upon the continental meetings now happening. If there had ever been any likelihood that the Czar would go to Paris, it may now be regarded as a certainty that he will not go. He had already decided yesterday to return direct to Russia from France without returning to Denmark.

WAS THERE A PLOT?
Buffalo, New York, Sept. 7.—The prisoner at first gave the name of Fred Nieman, from Detroit, but a despatch from that city says the directory does not contain a name. Later the police learned that the real name of the would-be assassin is Leon Czolgosz. He was born in Detroit and came here from Cleveland.

He is alleged to have said to a detective last night at police headquarters that he was recently in Cleveland, and had been selected to kill President McKinley.

WEST TABERN.
Montreal, La. 11 a. 30. Had Fix Until Dodd's Dyspepsia a. abate Rescued a. r.

Some people believe that a purely vegetable diet is the most wholesome food, and may be right. The are entitled to their own opinion. But most of us think the natural diet is a mixture of meat and vegetables. To be deprived of meat would be a hardship to the majority. Mrs. Blair, of 1010 St. Denis street, certainly thought so.

Mrs. Blair was not a vegetarian of her own free will. She ate meat because she did not. She could not diet it, it was an involuntary deprivation, enforced on her by the weakness of her stomach. Mrs. Blair was a dyspeptic.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are well known in Montreal. They have cured hundreds of people in that city of dyspepsia in all its various forms and manifestations. They are the simplest, the easiest and most reasonable treatment known. They act on the food and the stomach gets rested. Nine times out of ten that is all it wants. Mrs. Blair used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and she is one of the large number of Montreal people who know what they are from experience.

"I had been troubled for over a year," writes Mrs. Blair, "with a gnawing sensation at the stomach and pressure of wind on the heart. I had no disposition to eat and found it impossible to eat anything in the nature of food. I had heard of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, knowing of so many cures effected by their use among his friends. Before I had finished the first box, I found myself able to eat meat again, or anything else I fancied. I gladly certify to the efficacy of Dodd's Dyspepsia medicine, as I have had no return of indigestion since using them."

One of the highest eminences upon which we stand in life is to be able to look back upon a long life well spent.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

WAS UNCALLED FOR.

Yesterday there appeared in the columns of The Planet, a letter from Hugh Fitzsimons, late janitor of the Queen St. school, complaining of an alleged injustice done him in an interview with Principal Plewes, which appeared in this journal.

As a matter of fact the complaint is the result of a complete misunderstanding and Mr. Fitzsimons has erred in his hasty and unfair comments on Mr. Plewes.

What Mr. Plewes did say in his interview with The Planet was that, owing to the fact that the School Board had arranged for the services of a janitor at Queen St. school all the day, with a view to constant looking after the fire, much of the trouble at that institution would be done away with. There was no allusion, direct or implied, to Mr. Fitzsimons or his services.

Regarding the letter Mr. Fitzsimons wrote Mr. Plewes, and which he complains the Principal did not answer, Mr. Plewes says that he did receive a communication purporting to come from Mr. Fitzsimons, but, owing to the fact that it was not in Mr. Fitzsimons' handwriting and that he had been talking to Mr. Fitzsimons for some time just previously, and no reference was made to the matter, he deemed the letter in the light of a joke, not bona fide from Mr. Fitzsimons at all, and consequently took no notice of it.

Under the circumstances it would appear that Mr. Fitzsimons' course in rushing into print was hasty and unwarranted, and The Planet sincerely regrets the publication of the letter. —Editor Planet.

International Bible Lesson for Tomorrow—Gen. 28, 10-22—Jacob at Bethel.

Golden Text—"Surely the Lord is in place."

As the result of double dealing between husband and wife, we find Jacob fleeing for his life from an angry brother, a homeless wanderer, a lonely, a guilty man over 50 on a tramp of 450 miles. He sleeps to dream of heaven and God, who in grace meets him in his slumbers, shows him His loving care and ministering angels and a covenant from earth to Him. His promises to Abraham and Isaac are renewed to Jacob, who awakes to find the ladder and the angels going up to God. Jacob's covenant denotes the worship of a thankful heart for God's goodness in this hour of need. "Man's extremity is God's opportunity." The stone pillar, the place and the feast of the God of Bethel. Believers have their Bethels.
