ABOUT THIS CASE

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure a Young Man Who Had Reached a Very Critical Stage of Kidney Disease

His Case Was More Serious Than He Thought, But Thanks To Dodd's Kidney Pills He Is Well and Strong Now.

St. Leon, Glo. Co., N. B., April 8.—(Special.) Mr. Patrick Downing, of this place, is a young man only twenty years of age, but some time ago kidney disease had him firmly in its grasp and had it not been for Dodd's Kidney Pills he would probably not have been alive to-day.

"I think the cause of my trouble was over work," says Mr. Downing, "any way it began with a heavy dragging pain in my back and across my loins. Then I was subject to headache, cramp in the muscles, dizzy spells and weakness till I felt fit for nothing. But the worst symptom of my case was when I noticed my urine was streaked with blood, then I knew that my kidneys were affected. Bearing of Dodd's Kidney Pills I sent for some and I am pleased to say the pains have all gone since using them and I am well and strong as ever I was."

Successful Stock Show.

Clinton, April 6.—The first show under the auspices of the directors of Huron County Stock Exhibition, was held yesterday, and was a success in every particular.

Every class was well filled, 75 entries in heavy class, 60 in roadsters and 87 of cattle. Fully five thousand people were in attendance.

STRAINED BACK AND SIDE. "While working in a saw mill," writes C. E. Kenney, from Ottawa, "I strained my back and side so severely I had to go to bed. Every movement caused me tortures. I tried different oils and liniments, but was not helped till I used Nerviline. Even the slightest application gave considerable relief. In three days I was at work again. Other men in the mill use Nerviline with tremendous benefit. It's an honest record of nearly fifty years has established the value of Polson's Nerviline."

Ye Professional Humorist.

It's not much fun to scribble rhymes and make humor out of things. When one is wholly at a loss for things to write about. And who for years has had this sort of thing to do, it's very hard to find a theme that's new.

So sometimes as my weary brain I rummage o'er and thrash in vain attempt to find a thought that's true. I'm tempted more to cease to quip, to give up joke and quirk, And grab a shovel or a pick and really go to work.

YOU ARE AILING.

Not quite sick—but robbed of ambition to work—find it hard to think of doing, but bad enough for life to be pretty dull. There is a remedy. Ferrozone—that quickly lifts that half dead feeling. Gracious, but Ferrozone makes you feel good; it brightens the dulllest appetite, makes it keen as a razor.

BLOOD? Ferrozone makes lots of it, the rich, nourishing kind that vitalizes the whole body. You'll be wonderfully quickened, immensely strengthened, feel hearty and vigorous after using Ferrozone. Envyant health, surplus vigor and reserve energy all come from this great restorative. Fifty cents buys a box of fifty tablets at all dealers.

THROW MEDICINES TO THE DOGS

At best they are unpleasant, often useless. You have some disease of the nose, throat or lungs. Doctors would call it bronchitis, asthma or catarrh. The common root of these diseases is germ or microbe irritation—Catarrhazone not only destroys disease germs, it does more, it heals diseased and inflamed tissue. The disease is not only cured, but its return is forever prevented by using Catarrhazone, which is splendid also for colds, coughs or irritable throat. Remember, you inhale Catarrhazone—Nature's own cure—use no other but Catarrhazone—it's the best catarrh cure made.

Nothing can constitute good breeding that has not good nature for its foundation.

CURE FOR SNAKE BITE.

Permanganate of Potash Said to Be an Infallible Remedy.

The Indian cobra has been since time immemorial the terror of India because its bite has been universally attended with fatal results. Tradition has it that natives commit suicide rather than endure the agony of the inevitable death and that the only man who ever survived an encounter with the hooded reptile thrust his whole arm into a blazing fire. Science comes now with a remedy for even this snake bite—simple permanganate of potassium, discovered by Dr. Leonard Rogers and reported by Consul Masterson of Aden. The paper "reports twelve cases of snake bite in which this new remedy was put into practice. In two cases it failed, but these were the cases in which the longest interval had elapsed before the remedy was applied. The persons were bitten during the night and were not treated till the following day, the interval in one case amounting to eleven hours and in the other to nine hours. In seven of the successful cases the snake was killed and identified. In five cases it was a cobra and in the other two it was a viper.

"Of the two fatal cases one was bitten by a cobra, the other by a snake that was identified. Two of the successful cases were treated by Europeans without any medical training. In three of the successful cases treatment was begun at once, in the remaining seven the interval varied from half an hour to four hours. These results show that even when all the doubtful elements have been excluded or allowed for this method promises to be most efficacious, and a very satisfactory feature is that it is so simple anybody can apply it and so cheap that it's within the reach of the poorest.

"When a person has been bitten by a snake the first thing to do is to apply a ligature above the wound to prevent the rapid absorption of the venom. Then an incision is to be made over the snake bite with any sharp cutting instrument that is perfectly clean and free from rust. Permanganate of potassium is a cheap drug, obtainable from any druggist. It keeps indefinitely, and a pound would suffice at the rate of ten grains for each case for between 700 and 800 people."—Indian Medical Journal.

No Shadow After Death.

In the course of a lecture before the Psycho-therapeutic Society of London Dr. Ward announced that Prof. Elmer Gates of Washington, D. C., who has been experimenting with light rays, has found about five octaves above violet a form of waves similar to X-rays.

Under these rays living objects throw a shadow which exists only as long as there is life in the object. A live rat was placed in a hermetically sealed tube and held in the path of the rays in front of a sensitized screen. So long as the rat was alive it threw a shadow. When it was killed it became suddenly transparent.

"I was," said the lecturer, "there was a strange phenomenon. At the very instant the rat became transparent a shadow of exactly the same shape was noticed to pass, as it were, out of and beyond the glass tube and vanished as it passed upward on the sensitized screen."

Happily Illustrated.

Lord Odo Russell while calling on Prince Bismarck during the sitting of the Berlin conference asked him how he managed to rid himself of that class of importunate visitors whom he could not well refuse to see, but whose room he found preferable to their company.

"Oh," replied the Chancellor, "I have a very simple method. My wife knows them pretty well, and when she sees they are with me she generally contrives to come in and call me away upon some pretext or other."

He had scarcely finished speaking when the princess put her head in at the door and said:

"My dear, you must come and take your medicine. You ought to have had it an hour ago."

New Spelling "Tuf on the Tongue."

At the convention of the department of superintendence of the National Educational Association, recently held in Louisville, Ky., on motion of Dr. E. Benjamin Andrews of the University of Nebraska a resolution was adopted recommending that the department of superintendence request the National Educational Association to order that the following twelve phonetic words be used hereafter in all its publications, says a Louisville dispatch: Business for business, enuf for enough, rather for feather, measure for measure, pleasure for pleasure, red for read, ruf for rough, trauf for trough, tung for through, tuf for tough, tung for tongue, yung for young.

Masterpieces on Asylum Walls.

There was a man named Dodd, some of whose pictures I expect will be exhibited in a short time in London. He showed extraordinary power, and if he had not become insane he would have rivaled, if not out-distanced, Watts. He only recently died at the Criminal Lunatic Asylum at Broadmoor. He painted many pictures, a number of which were sold, but it was thought by the Government that it was improper that these pictures should be sold in open market, and the superintendent of Broadmoor therefore allowed him to paint the walls, which he continued to do in an elaborate way. From Guy's Hospital Record, London.

"His Ears Were Frozen."

One frosty morning a Gorman man called to his son to go and harness the donkey. It so happened that night, the door being left open, a young bullock had strayed into the stable and driven the donkey out. Johnnie, in his hurry, took no notice with him to provide a light, and could not see the difference. Being a long time away, his father came after him to see what he was about, saying: "Johnnie, what are you doing?" Johnnie replied: "I can't get the colts over his head. His ears be froze."—Birmingham (England) Post.

A "Pass" That Failed.

"Till pass the butt," said he while trying to pass the browning goat.

"Till butt the passer," said the goat as he helped him over the fence.

TWO OPEN LETTERS

IMPORTANT TO MARRIED WOMEN

Mrs. Mary Dimmick of Washington Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well.

It is with great pleasure we publish the following letters, as they convincingly prove the claim we have so many times made, in our columns that Mrs.

Mrs. Mary Dimmick

Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., is fully qualified to give helpful advice to sick women. Read Mrs. Dimmick's letters.

Her first letter: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I have been a sufferer for the past eight years with a trouble which first originated from painful periods—the pains were excruciating, with inflammation and ulceration of the female organs. The doctor says I must have an operation or I cannot live. I do not want to submit to an operation if I can possibly avoid it. Please help me.

Mrs. Mary Dimmick, Washington, D.C.

Her second letter: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"You will remember my condition when I first wrote you, and that the doctor said I must have an operation or I could not live. I received your kind letter and followed your advice very carefully and am now entirely well. As my case was so serious it seems a miracle that I am cured. I know that I owe not only my health but my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to your advice. I can walk miles without an ache or a pain, and I wish every suffering woman would read this letter and realize what you can do for them."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 50th and East Capitol Sts., Washington, D.C.

How only it was for Mrs. Dimmick to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and how little it cost her—a two-cent stamp. Yet how valuable was the reply! As Mrs. Dimmick says—it saved her life. Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of just such letters as the above, and offers aiding women helpful advice.

A Stingy Man.

Naggs—"Wow! Ouch! I've just been punctured by a batpin you left sticking in the sofa! Why are you so careless with them?"

Mrs. Naggs—"Why, John, they cost only two for five cents!"—New York Press.

An Unusual Event.

"Yes, I sent my uncle a telegram on Wednesday to say I was coming. I wonder if he received it."

"I reckon he didn't, cos I seen him this mornin', an' he didn't brag about no telegram."—Brooklyn Life.

PURGATIVES ARE DANGEROUS.

They gripe, cause burning pains and make constipated condition even worse. Physicians say the ideal laxative is Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Mandrakes and Butterbur; they are exceedingly mild, composed only of health-giving vegetable extracts. Dr. Hamilton's Pills restore regular movement of the bowels, strengthen the stomach and purify the blood. For constipation, sick headache, biliousness and disordered digestion no medicine on earth makes such reliable cures as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Try a 25c. box yourself.

Problematical.

"Miss Kookoo, if I should call some evening next week might I hope to find you at home?"

"Why, that would—would depend on whether or not I knew what evening you were coming, Mr. Thikull."—Chicago Tribune.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY THE BEST AND MOST POPULAR.

"Mothers buy it for croupy children, railroad men buy it for severe coughs, and elderly people buy it for a gripe," says Moore Bros., Eldon, Iowa. "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than any other kind. It seems to have taken the lead over several other good brands." There is no question but this medicine is the best that can be procured for coughs and colds, whether it be a child or an adult that is afflicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by all druggists.

Often the Case.

Stella—"Did you have a good time at Mrs. Chatterton's party?" Maude—"No; Mrs. Chatterton worked so hard trying to make her guests feel at ease that she made everybody uncomfortable."—Chicago News.

RHEUMATIC PAINS QUICKLY RELIEVED.

The excruciating pains characteristic of rheumatism and sciatica are quickly relieved by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The great pain relieving power of the liniment has been the surprise and delight of thousands of sufferers. The quick relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by all druggists.

Malice is sharper at the hilt than in the blade.

If you would lose that dull old head-ache, And feel as lively as a flic, Make haste to pour drug drops on your head. And buy some Rocky Mountain Tea.

THE PLANET JUPITER.

There Are Practically No Seasons In This Distant World.

Taking the earth's mean distance from the sun at 92,796,950 miles, the mean distance of Jupiter from the sun will be 482,803,970 miles. The eccentricity of its elliptical orbit being .04825, its distance from the sun at perihelion is 459,507,760 miles and at aphelion 506,100,180 miles. Between its greatest and least distances, therefore, there is a difference of 46,592,420 miles, or about one-half the earth's mean distance from the sun. The inclination of Jupiter's orbit to the plane of the ecliptic being only 1 degree 18 minutes 41 seconds; or less than that of any of the other large planets with the exception of Uranus, the planet never departs much from the ecliptic, and hence it was called by the ancients the "ecliptic planet." Its period of revolution round the sun is 11 years 314.8 days.

The inclination of its axis of rotation being nearly at right angles to the plane of its orbit, there are practically no seasons in this distant world, and at any point on its surface would be that due to the comparatively small variation in its distance from the sun referred to above. Its mean distance from the sun being 5.2025 times the earth's mean distance from the sun, it follows that the heat and light received by Jupiter are 27 times (5.2 squared) less than the earth receives. The amount of heat received from the sun by this planet is very small, and were it constituted like the earth its surface should be perpetually covered by frost and snow. Far from this being the case, the telescope shows its atmosphere to be in a state of constant and wonderful change.

These extraordinary changes cannot possibly be due to the solar heat, and they have suggested the idea that the planet may perhaps be in a red-hot state, a miniature sun—in fact, glowing with inherent heat. The great brilliancy of its surface, the "albedo," as it is called, and its small density—less than that of the sun—are facts in favor of this hypothesis. As the attraction of Jupiter's enormous mass would render the materials near its center of much greater density than those near its surface, the latter must be considerably lighter than water and may possibly be in the gaseous state.

TO PARENTS AND TEACHERS

Let the child choose his ideals from the many that are presented to him. Boys and girls saturated with low literature form low ideas, which cling to them through life.

To teach concentration should be the end and aim of all school instruction.—New York World.

Study the child, find out what his capabilities are and show him that you take an interest in him.

Let the children see how ugly low ideals are and then encourage them to study the lives of great men.

The whole life and future usefulness of a child depend largely on the way his mind is trained at school.

Many a child's life is ruined by having parents or teachers who do not take the trouble to understand his capability.

It is more important for the mother to superintend her son's reading than to see that he wears the latest thing in collars.

The character depends upon the ideals, and the ideals are the standard which the parent or teacher sets before the child.

The Miner's Inch.

In California the miner's inch is the flow of about 3,796 gallons of water per minute. Fifty miner's inches are equivalent to one cubic foot per second. The most common measurement is under a mean pressure of four inches, through an aperture two inches high and two inches above the bottom of the box, the plank being one and a quarter inches thick and the height of water above the aperture three inches, giving a mean pressure of four inches. Each square inch of the aperture represents one miner's inch, or about 1.2 cubic feet flow per minute.—Maxwell's Talsman.

Popes and Their Beards.

If we are to believe the old proverb, prophets have always had beards for the faithful to swear by. Not so with the popes. From the time of St. Peter down to the year 1153 the popes all wore full beards, but for the next four centuries they were cleanly shaven. Then came a period of two centuries in which they again wore the beard, but from the year 1700 until the present time the smooth face alone has been seen in the papal line.

Starving, but Not For Bread.

A beggar who informed a gentleman well known for his philanthropy that he was dying of starvation was presented by the worthy man with a loaf of bread. The would be benefactor was considerably startled, however, at the indignation of the emaciated one. "I'm not bread hungry!" said that individual haughtily.—London Globe.

Had Not Observed It.

Mr. Had Not Observed It.—(at the banquet)—The colonel is a good dinner speaker, but did you notice how queerly he mixed his metaphors? Mr. Struckley—"Why—er—no. He's been tracking 'em straight, I think, so far."

Mark in His Line.

"Could you do the landlady in the 'Lady of Lyons'?" asked the manager of the steady actor. "Well, I should think I might. I have done a good many landladies."—Kansas City Independent.

His Head Saved.

In the House of Commons no incident is greater with more hearty laughter than that of a member who, after an eloquent oration, plumps down on his silk hat on the bench behind him. A young member who had just made his maiden speech sat upon a new silk hat. There were roars of laughter. An Irish member immediately arose and gravely said: "Mr. Speaker, permit me to congratulate the honorable gentleman upon the happy circumstance that when he sat on his hat he was not in it!" This remark upset the dignity of the House, and the Speaker called "Order, Order," amid roars of laughter.

Too Late.

Some drinkers say they know when they have had enough. How sad it should happen as they never know till after they have had it!

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
