

The County.

An Epitome of Events Gathered by ADVOCATE Reporters.

DOUGLASTOWN.

The topic for conversation now is the gripper, and some might say well, but out of the world as out of fashion everyone has the gripper.

The "Women's Foreign Mission Auxiliary" held their monthly meeting at the residence of Mr. H. H. Lamont Thursday morning.

Rev. Mr. McIntosh changed pulpit with Rev. D. Henderson Sunday evening, but as it was snowing and drifting very few were out.

Mr. R. J. Coulter has returned from the Bay, where he has been looking for fortune.

Mr. Richard G. Oliver was brought home from the pulp mill very sick with la grippe.

Hockey is the favorite occupation of the young ladies at present.

Mr. Mitch Porter had the top of his finger badly crushed last week, over at Chatham where he is working.

Miss Hattie Williston who has had a very painful ailment, the result of vaccination, is recovering.

Mr. John Russell's horse ran away Wednesday evening, and after some time was found in Mr. Day's back yard, where it had strayed.

The roads are almost impassable in Lower town, but between Upper town and Newcastle they are, I believe, in a first class condition. I wonder why?

Mr. E. Hutchison left for St. John Saturday.

LOWER BLISSFIELD.

Miss Eddy and Annie Weaver are visiting Mrs. J. T. Sutherland.

Mrs. T. A. Hurley is visiting Mrs. David Weaver.

Miss Annie Merereau spent a few days of last week visiting friends and relatives of this place.

Mr. James Witherell is visiting Mr. Nora Hurley.

Miss May Freeze spent the evening of Jan. 30th with Miss Nora Hurley.

We are enjoying the pleasure of a very fine winter this year, so far, only a few cold days beyond the ordinary, and only a little stormy weather up to the present date, and lastly I must say there are better roads through this community than there has been for twenty years.

Mr. Bobt. Corrie passed peacefully away on Feb. 2nd, aged 98 years, the deceased leaves a wife, five sons, and two daughters to mourn.

Mr. Eugene Weaver left here on Thursday morning for Boston.

DERBY.

At the last meeting of Nelson Division No. 99 it was decided that the forty sixth anniversary of its birthday which is near at hand be celebrated in some public manner. It was not definitely decided what would be done but was left over till next meeting when everything will be arranged in detail.

Although we may send orators to Ottawa and the Municipal Council, still we have enough left at home to discuss debates in division chambers till the lights burn out as they did on the 24th, inst. in our shiretown.

Wesley Willy keeps on the good side of "Satan" by singing "I'm a Cunniver."

On account of the favorable winter some concerns are about through with their lumber operations and several have returned or soon will return home.

On account of the illness of the pastor of the Presbyterian church no service was held on the evening of the 26th inst.

The road snowplows are kept on the move by the frequent snowfalls which drift the road till it is almost impassable. On Saturday one started from the Miller's Co. back yard and went down to the point. It assumed the aspect of some parade rather than a snowplowing crowd, our parish senators and M. P. Peat the head.

DOAKTOWN.

February 9, 1901

MR. EDITOR, DEAR SIR:

After a delay I can hardly claim a little space in your new journal without taking any risk of being thought a literary bore.

This is my first letter in the present century. Time moves along here much the same as usual. About the only difference is that we get the figures 1 instead of the cipher when we date our letters. The few times when the twentieth century responds there is some for a hot and cold war.

N. M. McLeod has returned from the States. He has been in the States for some time. He has been in the States for some time. He has been in the States for some time.

The school is in session. The school is in session. The school is in session. The school is in session. The school is in session.

A number of parties have already finished in the woods and moved out. The young men are returning home daily, all of them in health, most of them in funds, and a few of them in spirits.

H. & F. D. Swan have a number of teams hauling lumber to their mill. Some of these haul a distance of nine or ten miles and average about two thousand feet per load. Their snowplow is large—a twentieth century affair. Their prospect is good for a heavy cut next season in the mill. Samuel Freeze Esq. is also having a large quantity of logs to his mill for next summer's operation.

Gov. Lyons a former resident of this place, has returned on a visit. He leaves for Hamilton this morning. His aunt Mrs. Wm. Munroe who was ill is now somewhat better.

Much doubt at present exists among the Queen's death. Somebody at our elbow suggests that it is the first time they ever thought of their "jurisdiction" before they had exceeded it. Whether they have lost this dignity or not they appear to be in doubt. It seems that it is something which a man can forfeit without being sensible of the loss.

Whatever their present state is the oath of allegiance to Edward the Seventh will probably restore them to their lost honors.

I suppose that the County value is accurately represented with our own property when they visited us last week as our parish of Blissfield seems to be in the list in point of assessable property. Did any of our worthies succeed in concealing anything from these last year's assessors? If so, probably justly on grounds for reporting that often quoted scripture phrase, "Keep your selves unspotted from the world."

Some February came in the weather has been dark and cloudy, with slight snow falls.

Our village is very quiet just now, and things worth reporting are below par. Latest reports from Upper Blissfield show no improvement in the situation. The "Daunting Cloud" still hangs and the way of Zion still mourns.

Councillor Campbell's speech in his response to the toast "The Ladies" at the Warden's supper at Newcastle was apt and of spirit but it fell flat in some quarters. Women he said was the noblest of the great author, and Newcastle had many editions of that work. Has the councillor created alarm lest he should take his copy from Newcastle and leave a fair copy at Doaktown to remain on the shelf?
