The Schliemann Excavations.

ATHENS, Jan. 13.—The presidents of the British, German and American institutes of archeology, now in session here, have addressed a letter of condolence to the widow of Dr. Schliemann. Mrs. Schliemann in reply, after expressing her thanks for the kindly communication, states that she proposes to continue the excavations at Sisarlik, and that they will be carried out in conformity with Dr. Schliemann's plans under the direction of Dr. Dorlfeld.

The Russian and German Budgets.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 13.—The Russian budget for 1891 shows an estimated surplus of $1,167,840. The estimates include an extraordinary expenditure of $26,775,000 for public works and $12,912,500 for arma-

BERLIN, Jan. 13.—The Minister of Finance introduced the budget for 1891-92 in the Lower House of the Diet yesterday. In this the revenue and expenditure balance at $430,208,000.

The Chillen Trouble.

The Chilian Trouble.

London, Jan. 13.—Don Carlos Antunez, Chilian minister to England, to-day denied that there had been any fighting in the streets of Santiago or Valparaiso or in the provinces of Chili. He said there is no revolutionary movement in progress in Chili and the present disturbances are only a protest against illegal collection of taxes, which are not sanctioned by the Chamber. The Chilian navy sides with the Government, and only 3 out of 31 ships in the Chilian navy joined with the party of the opposition.

Archbishop Magee.

London, Jan. 14.—Wm. C. Magee, who has just been raised from the bishopric of Peterborough to the archbishopric of York, is one of the few Irishmen who have risen to prominent positions in the English hierarchy. He is a brilliant orator, and his eloquence is such that not only are enormous audiences attracted by his sermons, but his speeches in the House of Lords are eagerly read. Among the most femous of those latter were those in which he defended the Irish Church against the disestablishment movement. His selection for the exalted position, left vecant by the death of the learned Dr. Thomson, is generally commended.

Colonizing Palestine.

London, Jan. 14. — Baron Hirsch is said to be negotiating with the Sultan for an extensive Jewish, settlement in Palestine. In Baron is willing to pay liberally for a section of the Holy Land large enough to make an asylum for several thousand of the Jews now being driven by persecution from Russia. There is reported to be a difference of opinion between the Turkish Government and Baron Hirsch as to whether the Jewish settlement should constitute a separate province, to be ruled over by a Hebrew. Many of the Russian Jews have their eyes turned toward Palestine, and would hail with delight an opportunity of removing to that country. The negotiations have been conducted with must be secrecy.

Morley's Interview with O'Brien.

London, Jan. 13.—Arnold Morley, the Liberal whip, went to Paris recently, where he had an interview with O'Brien. The subject of the differences in the Irish Parliamentary party and the relations of that party with the English Liberal party were thoroughly discussed, but Mr. Mocley found it impossible to bring Mr. O'Brien around to his way of thinking or of looking at the situation, and the course to be pursued to bridge the existing difficulties between the Irish factions and the Liberals. It is said the McCarthyites expect that John Dillon on his return from the United States will signify his adherence to the faction of the Irish party which supports Mr. McCerthy.

In a Dem of Wolves.

London, Jan. 13.—A telegram from Bolton, Lancashire, states that Bostock's menagerie, now giving exhibitions here, was crowded the other evening, when William Entwistle, a local publican, keeping the Roebuck Inn, volunteered to enter a cage containing a pack of Siberian wolves. The menagerie people consenting, Entwistle walked into and around the cage with a woman performer, amid the cheers of the audience, and broke a bottle of champagne. The cheers being renewed Entwistle and the woman toasted each other and remained in the cage until the wolves very decidedly intimated that they proposed to take a hand in the game. On some of the more sober portion of the audience remonstrating and appealing to the police the latter stated they had no authority to interfere. It appears that Entwistle's bravado was indulged in to win a bet of £20.

Terrible Disaster in Paris.

Paris, Jan. 13.—A terrible accident, by which nine foothardy persons lost their lives, occurred here to-day. The Seine, with the exception of the cente: of the river, has been frozen over for some time. Yesterday the whole river was covered with ice, the middle of the stream, however, being hidden by what the police judged to be dangerously thin ice. Consequently the authorities forbade the people to cross, and the police were instructed to enforce the order. In spite of this a number of venture-some men and boys, utterly disregarding the warning cries of the police and of the crowds of people who were watching them, attempted to cross. As they neared the middle of the stream cracking reports were heard, causing a number of the foothardy people to rush back, but others to show how daring they were pressed on. Suddenly the ice gave way and precipitated a crowd of people into the freezing water. Nine persons are known to have been drowned.

The Newfoundland Dispute.

Paris, Jan. 13.—M. Ribot, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has informed Lord Lytton, the British ambassador, that France will not accept any compensation for her fishing rights in Newfoundland that she does not consider to be their full equivalent. Nothing of that nature has yet been offered her. It is for England to say what she can give. Money will not be accepted.

Paris, Jan. 13.—Sir Charles Dilke, who is at present residing in this city, in an interview, published by L'Eclair, in regard to Newfoundland matters, said he thought, apart from the lobster question, the great difficulty lay in the impossibility to reconcile French treaty rights with the developments of Newfoundland. The entire territory belonged to the colony, yet they could not exercise the rights of sovereignty. The colonists, he said, unable to obtain a settlement of the matter in dispute, would some day certainly take the law in their own hands. During the coming spring, according to Sir Charles Dilke, shots would probably be exchanged between the crews of the French ships and the colonists. It was essential, therefore, to immediately discover ground for an agreement.

True to Irish Interests.

During the heat of the Irish elections in December last, Dr. P. S. O'Reilly, of St. Louis, Mo., addressed a letter of encouragement to Hon. W. E. Gladstone, telling bin of the feeling of Irish-Americans in that civ on the Irish question and promising M. Gladstone moral and material support. A reply has been received from Mr. Richard J. Gladstone, dated Hawarden, Dec. 4. Speaking for his father, the young man says:

"It is ampast satisfactory to know that the opinion of a large majority of leading Irishmen in St. Louis remains true to the policy which nearly five years age joined Irish Nationalists and English Liberals in a firm and, we trust, a lasting friendship. You recognize that on our part we have been in every particular, large and small, abidingly true to the proposale of 1886. In heaven's name, why should the Divorce Court be allowed to compromise the future of Ireland during the past five years. They have refused to give precedence to any British question until Ireland has received home; unleaded the Chrockes strip there was the string declares that we are guilty of treachery to Ireland. will adhere to the solemn pledges which her representatives gave us in 1886."

A Question of Veracity.

Dublin, Jan. 14.—At the meeting of the National League yesterday, Parnell was given an enthusiastic reception. He retitreated his statement that he had informed Justin McCarthy as to the chief features of his manifesto at least 24 hours before twas published. Mr. Parnell said conspiracy and lying were, next to Billingsgate, the prominent features of his opponents' resources and arguments. He said he had outlined to Mr. McCarthy what are known as the four points of his manifesto. Mr. McCarthy twice told him he had consulted with Mr. Gladstone on these points—once when they were alone and once in the presence of John Redmond, According to Parnell, Mr. McCarthy said: "All I can say is I have already told you that Mr. Gladstone intends to deny point blank all your statements," which, said Parnell, showed that Mr. Gladstone was aware of the proposed points of the manifesto. Parnell announced that the subscriptions to the National League funds since the last meetings exceeded £5,000. He warmly urged the claims of the war against landlordism."

John Redmond has authorized the Dublin Telegraph to state that "the night before Mr. Parnell's manifesto was handed to the press it was read by Mr. McCarthy in the presence of Mr. Parnell, Mr. Leamy, W. Redmond, Mr. O'Kelly and himself, Mr. McCarthy then informed Mr. Parnell that Mr. Gladstone said that if it was published he would immediately contradict it and dispute Mr. Parnell's memory as to the Hawarden conversation." Mr. Redmond adds: "My recellection of the incident is wholly inconsistent with Mr. McCarthy's denial."

A Renfrew Farmer's Advice

A Renfrew Farmer's Advice.

Ottawa, Jan. 13.—Prof. Shaw, of the Ontario College of Agriculture, has recently been engaged in estimating the loss occasioned to Canadian farmers by the McKinley Bill, and he will shortly publish the result of his investigations. A reporter interviewed the professor during his stay in Ottawa en route to Rockland. In the field of politics in the United States, he said, the result of the McKinley legislation had aiready been seen in the series of disasters which befell the Republican party. But the change wrought in the condition of Canadians' markets was simply a question of facts, and should be decided altogether apart from partisan predilictions.

"To any man who is free to think candidly and clearly, and to any man who wishes to do himself the justice of knowing the truth, there can be no room for doubt as to the immense damage done to the agricultural interests of this country by the McKinley Bill. Next year will see the poultry and egg trade in Canada almost annihilated. We managed to forestall the closing of the American market by shipping our eggs and barley across the border carlier than usual last season, but we cannot do that next year."

With regard to the possibilities of the European or British trade, Prof. Shaw said that the prices there are purely problematical. If the old country market for eggs should prove better than that of the United States private traders would soon discover the fact without any special board of commissioners finding it for them. The wonder was that the egg merchants had not learned that they could make money in the transatlantic trade before this late day. The simple truth Prof. Shaw has ascertained to be that Canada will lose by the McKinley Bill about $500,000 in the egg business alone; that is, if our farms continue to produce as many eggs at the greatly reduced prices of the future as they have produced in the past. But the chances are that the falling off in production will occasion enormously greater loss.

The greater decline, however,

He sprang at the flames, and with teeth and claws attempted to tear the burning clothes from the girl's body. The dog's paws and mouth are badly burned, and nearly all the hair is singed off his head.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Jan. 13.—The Yakima Indians have been indulging in gioest dances several days, and it is feared some of the Blanket Indians may join the hostiles. The Yakimas number 3,800 and are divided into civilized Indians and renegades. The former are greatly in the majority and are mostly well-to-do farmers, some of them being wealthy. The renegades live along the line of railroad. They are well armed and under control of the medicine men. They have been obtaining much whisky of late, and are becoming quarrelsome. Plute runners have been among them and it is said they are combining with Chief Moses' Indians from the north.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Gen. Schoffeld has received the following telegram from Gen. Miles at Pine Ridge: "Gen. Brooke's command is now camped five miles distant on White Clay Creek and the entire body of Indians are between the two commands. The Indians have great'fear their arms will be taken away and then all treated like those who were on Wounded Knee. They have a large number of wounded women and children, which creates a most depressing feeling among the families and a desperate disposition among them. Military measures and movements have been successful. The control and government now becomes the problem, yet no serious embarrassment is apprehended at present."

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 14.—A dispatch from Rushville, Neb., says: Between 400 and 500 Indians broke away from the hostiles, and have started for the Bad Lands via Wounded Knee. They are crazy and frantic, committing depredations wherever they go. Gen. Carr, with the Sixth Cavalry and one company of infantry, and Col. Wheaton, with four companies of infantry, are after them.

He has devised a method by which a bit of glass was treated and made so hard that a strong blacksmith could not break it on an anvil.

The Population of London is about 40,000, and we should say at least one-half are troubled with some affection of the Throat and Lungs, as those complaints are, according to statistics, more numerous than others. We would advise all our readers not to neglect the opportunity to call on their druggist and get a bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the throat and Lungs. Trial size free. Large bottles 50 cents and $1. Sold by all druggists.
