Last Day's Drill in Camp—The Minister of Militia a Speciator of the Route March.

The camp of 1893 is a thing of the past, and this evening there will only be empty tents on the hill. Even these will be down before dark under the experienced work of No. 1 Company, R. C. R. I. The Thirtieth Battalion and No. 5 company of the Twenty-eighth leave by the 7 a.m. G. T. R. train. The Twenth-eighth Battalion, comprising companies 1, 2 and 6, Stratford, and 3 and 4, St. Marys, will leave by special train of a L., H. and B., at 8 o'clock. Cappany 2, of the Twenty-sixth, will leave for Stricthroy by regular train at 2:35 p.m.; No. 3 Company, Glencoe, go by regular train at 2:15 p.m.; No. 8, Ilderton, by L., H. and B. at 8:16; Nos. 5 and 6, Parkhill and Lucan, will leave by the special carrying the Twenty-eighth at 9 c'clock, and connect with the regular train at 2:15 p.m.; No. 8. Troop of cavairy go by the M. C. R. to Courtright, and No. 4 troop by the C. P. R. to Kingsville. The artillery will come home during the course of the day.

A street parade was the last drill done by the men. After the rain in the afternoon they sollied forth, headed by the cavalry. The route was: Adelaide to Coutral avenue, Central avenue to William, William to King, King to Ridout, Ridout to Dundas, Dundas to Richmond, Richmond to Queen's avenue, Queen's avenue, Queen's avenue, Queen's avenue to Picton, Picton to Dufferin avenue, Pufferin avenue, Pufferin avenue, William to Rail, and thence to camp. The volunteers marched splendidly and won golden opinions from the many spectators who lined the streets. Hon. J. C. Patterson and suite watched the departure from the grounds, and again reviewed them at the postoffice.

Water-carriers accompanied each battalion to lock after thirrity ones.

The last night in camp was devoted to the usual funny cooks' parade, and its laughable incidents. There were many pranks and lots of ion, and as long as the men kept within bounds they were not interfered with. The Gospel tent had been taken down during the day men kept within bounds they were not in-terfored with. The Gospel tent had been terfored with. The Gospel tent had been taken down during the day, so no evening service was held.

The men are not at all sorry that camp is over. A little of it goes a long way, shey say, and two years fre 'now, when hey come on the field again, are will not years many with them who were out this mmer. In one company of the Twenty, with there is only one private who was the the battalion in St. Thomas, so ckly do they change.

During the evening the boys of the Protant Orphans' Home marcined onto the the company of the tree of the down the lines, and their eyes the orly drank in the unwonted sights.

Stock Gambling in Montreal.

Stock Clambling in Montreal.

Montreal, June 29.—Broking and speculative circles here are finding much food for gossip in the action entered by Mr. D. Evers, broker, against D. J. Coughlin, wholesale iron merchant, and agent of the White Star Line, for margins due on a recent transaction in stocks. It is probable the Abbott law against stock gambling will be again tested in connection with the case. Mr. Coughlin puts in a plea to the effect "that the transactions are genes of hazard and not recognized by the laws of this country," etc. The law provides the penalty of imprisonment for a term let exceeding five years or a fine not exceeding $500.
