IRISH MEETING

Some Hot Exchanges at the New York Convention.

Members of Committee Accused of Lack of Interest in the Cause -John Redmond's Speech.

New York, Aug. 31.-At the United Irish League convention today Secretary O'Callahan said that while the league had added materially to its strength, influence and numbers during the past year, he believed that still great progress could be made in the future. To accomplish this he believed that in the selection of the national commission only such persons should be chosen as declare their willingness to work energetically in the cause. One-sixth of the membership of the national committee elected at the Boston convention two years ago, he said, have never once responded to them, He recommended that the national committee be clothed the committee who show themselves to be indifferent to the success of the
