Perhaps the easiest way to discern Interest in a big sporting event of any kind is to watch the betting. An overwhelming favorite kills all enthusiasm and disturbs the promoter's dreams; an even-money proposition means heaps of talk, plenty of wagers and consequently a keen interest all round The Jeffries-Johnson battle, with its black against white side interest, still over seven months away. But the men who fancy the negro, fancy him so strongly that they are willing to give a shade the best of the odds and make their wagers now in order to beat the price. Jeffries' adherents feel the same way about the big battle and are ready to jump on the opening quotations in order to sell their commis sions to the highest possible bidder. Billy Roche, who has spent the greater part of his life managing and training boxers and refereeing big bouts, has just returned to New York after a swing through the Middle West, Roche on Jeff at anything that looked like blow-off. even money, "Shows that he thinks Jeff will be a heavy favorite at post time." commented a listener, "Yes, and it shows he thinks the big fellow is a sure winner," answered Roche, dryly

Confidence in the future of racing in New York apparently is shown by the list of nominations received last week by the Coney Island Jockey Club for the Futurity of 1811. In all there are 366 entries, which will probably be increased to 400 when all returns have been received. In the list are twenty-six nominations by H. P. Whitney, fifty-eight by James B.
