A Smotter for Seattle.

Seattle is to have smelting and refining works. The company that will build and operate the works is already organized, has the capital ready and will have its plant constructed by the time ores can be shipped there from the rich outlying districts in the Cascades. The company has chosen the corporate name of "The Seattle Reduction and Refining Works." The incorporators are: Frank Brooks, president; Edward Blewett, Frank L. Leslie, Elihu Wood and John H. McGraw. The capital stock of the corporation has been placed at $500,000, in 5,000 shares of $100 par value each, and the duration of the company's corporate existence is fifty years.

Source of Danger.

Complaint is made of the danger to vehicles and foot passengers along Quadra and other streets over which an old dwelf is being transported. The house fills up almost the whole roadway and is left at night without any lamp or any other signal to indicate danger. Several vary narrow escapes are reported on this account. It may be that neglect of this kind may left the city in for damages.

The Chinese gambling cases were finally disposed of, yesterday morning, in the police court. His honor, who has been weighing the evidence for several days, decided that the best way to deal with the case was to fine the gamblers $100 and to dismiss the spectator, as there was not sufficient evidence to convict him. The decision will be appealed. Three drunks forfeited $5 apiece for the usual offence.

In the police court, yesterday morning. John Cameron was charged with keeping a ferocious dog unchained. The other day a lady, while passing Mr. Cameron's place had her dress badly torn by the dog. Mr Cameron gave the woman $25 as compensation, and the magistrate, deeming this sum sufficient, dismissed the case on payment of costs. A man was charged with an infraction of the street by-law, and a Chinaman charged with an infraction of the provincial revenue tax by-law. The former paid the costs of court, and the latter the costs of court and the tax.

Mr. A. W. Vewell, Indian commissioner and Mr. P. McTiermen, Indian agent, returned to Westminster on Thursday, from a tour of inspection among some of the upriver reserves. On Monday they visited Seabird Island, the scene of the late troublues, and found everything quiet and orderly. A number of the Indian resident are putting in crops, principally potatoes, but the area cultivated is small. On Tues day they attended the examination of the Indian mission school at Chilliwhack, which is managed by missionaries of the Methodist church. They were amazed at the wonderful progress made by the scholars. Children who could not speak English 18 months ago, when they entered the school.
