of the Canadian Parliament. homas Cooper Boville, C. B., Deputy Limister of Finance. Many Congratulations.

OTTAWA, Jan. 2 .- The Right Hon.

Robert Laird Borden was occupied today in answering messages of congratulation which came pouring in from rom Conservatives and Liberals alike. Among the first to congratulate him were His Royal Highness the Governorwere His Royal rights to the Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid General and the Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Mr. Borden's elevation to a Councillor came as a surprise to Privy Councillor came as a surprise the many who anticipated a knighthood. which bears with it the title of Sir, but, it is no secret that the Prime Minister could have had the knighthood if he had wished it. It is taken among the friends of Mr. Borden as another evidence of his unassuming and unpretentious disposition.

Logger at Ocean Falls Killed by Compatriot with Rifle-Shooter Declares It Accidental

VANCOUVER, Jan. 2 .- Firing two shots from a rifle into the head of his sleeping conipatriot, a Japanese logger of Ocean Falls is said to have murdered another just before the Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Beatrice left that point on Saturday, according to news brought down on the vessel. The shooter is said to have claimed that he had seen a duck, and that the firearm had gone off while he was lifting it into position. One of the bullets passed through the nose and head of the Japanese The reason for the alleged crime is not known. Another report has it that on Saturday night the alleged murderer had arisen from his bed in the bunkhouse and had shot into the face of the sleeping man in another bunk.

Large Number of them Vote to Purchase from Government System-Thirty Millions to be Spent

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 2 .- As a result of the hydro-electric power bylaws car-ried yesterday, Hon. Adam Beck announces that thirty million dollars will be spent in the next two years, and a system established that will be complete from Sarnia, Ontario, in the west, to Cornwall and Ottawa in the east.

Toronto citizens yesterday carried a bylaw providing for extension of the system in that city. Every municipity that voted on a bylaw to purchase electric power from the provincial government's hydro-electric commis sion carried the measure submitted. Of particular importance was the vote in Kingston, Peterboro and Lakefield.

Among other municipalities which carried the hydro-electric bylaw were Wroxeter, Thornbury, Hastings, Richmond Hill, Wingham, Hagersville, Lucan, Exeter, Paris, Blythe, Hensall, Tilsonbury, Brussels, Ailsa Craig Clinton Goderich and Listowel.

wealth. In 1864 he returned to the city and re-enlisted in the force. Resigned in 1865 In the following year he resigned and again went to the Cariboo where he spent several years. The life of a pioneer and the struggles encountered made the story of the aged jailer and not a member of the present depart-ment but delighted in hearing "Dad" recount the experiences of the early days in the Gold Rush. In 1867 Mr. Sheppard returned to this city and after a trip to Australia where his family connections were then domiciled, he came here, rejoining the force in 1879 as constable and during the subsequent years he worked his way to the position of chief, during which time he endeared himself to ever member of the department. In November 1888 he secured his rank and for the next eleven years he headed the department in a time when the office meant something. Victoria was then in the creative stage and it required a strong man to rule the police destinies of the city. Without doubt, the careful administration of the late Mr. Sheppard, during his tenure of office, had much to do with the subsequent good record of the city until today Victoria has achieved a police record unique in the history of the Dominion. The late Mr. Sheppard at an early age left for Australia, where he was apprenticed to the bricklaying trade, and took an active part in the early gold excitement in the Antipodes in the early '50's. He leaves surviving him, two sisters in Australia and a sister in South Africa.

For the past few years the late Jailer Sheppard had been residing with his daughter, Mrs. King, King's road, whence the funeral will take place. The arrangements have not yet been made, but the local department will participate. The funeral will be held under the auspices of the Masonic order, of which deceased was a member. Full particulars will be given later.

misleading the electors of the city. As, however, the municipal engineer had discovered , that a new outlet at Bold Point was possible which could accom-modate both Oak Bay sewage and also that of the city it was resolved that beyond repudiating the advertise-ment as far as it related to Oak Bay the council would take no further steps in the matter and Councillor Oliver was deputed with the clerk to draft a letter to that effect to the city.

Need of Sewers

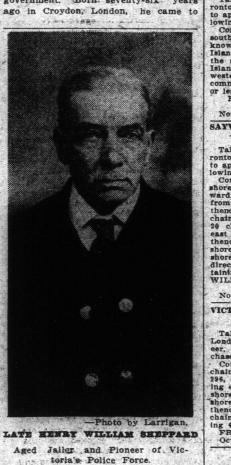

Mr. Hargreaves mentioned the crying want of sewers in South Saanich. Arising out of the meeting of ratepayers last week to consider the city's proposals for an extension of the city limits, Councillor Hargreaves proposed that the council should appoint a deputation to meet and confer with the city as to a basis of union: the proposal however found no seconder. The reeve then in view of the fact that this was the last meeting of this council and of the probability that they would not all meet again desired to explain his position in regard to the coming elections. He had last year been approached by many to stand and had consequently done so; this year no one had made a similar request and as he did not wish to push himself forward, he did not intend to offer himself as a candidate at these elections. At the same time he wished in taking leave of the council to say how much he appreciated the spirit in which they had all worked together; differences they had had, but these were inevitable if not bene ficial; without differences, things would have become monotonous.

Mr. H. MacGregor regretted that they could not look forward to all meeting again but it was for the good of the council, however well they had done in the past, to introduce new blood. He could not adequately express the very kindly feeling he and the whole council felt towards the reeve for the very friendly way in which business had always been carried on. Councillor Oliver associated himself with every word uttered by the last speaker as did Councillor Noble, and after a few words of acknowledgment by Reeve Henderson the meeting adjourned
