WRECKS ON THE NORTHERN LAKES. Another steamer has been wrecked in the Georgian bay under circumstance which make it appear that many lives have been lost. Between Wednesday night and Thursday morning last the steamer Asia left Owen Sound for French river, carrying about 100 spassengers and a full cargo of than a restricted local trade. The Toronto lumbermen's supplies for the shanties near to her destination, including a number of horses, All went well until near noon on Thursday, when a terrible storm was encountered. have to heed. It is necessary to say this, "an institution of hell." The advocates and to talk about prosecutions by private individuals as a remedy is utter nonsense. Not very long ago this particular remedy was tried in the case of another Georgian bay disaster, but with very unsatisfactory results. As far as the public know, these Georgian bay wrecks have been caused mostly by greed, recklessness or incompetence on the part of somebody or other, and the dominion government is the only power that can apply a remedy. There is a special reason why the apathy which has prevailed regarding such disasters will do no longer. Owing to the progress of settlement around the shores of Lake Huron and the Georgian bay, and the vast expansion of the Lake Superior trade which must follow the opening of the Thunder bay railway, the safety of the increasing number of passengers who get afloat on the northern lakes, has become a matter of large importance. Ten years ago the number of passengers by Canadian vessels on the northern waters was small, but from this time forth they will be counted by thousands. Supposing the rush of immigration into the Northwest to continue, and that the Canadian route by steamer to Thunder bay and thence by rail to Winnipeg is found to be better and cheaper than American railway routes, then Canadian steamers will be carrying thousands where formerly they carried tens only, on these northern lakes. There is no avoiding the force of this consideration; it must tell; and those who have the authority and are responsible must heed it. It is the case that passengers are being carried over the authority and are responsible must heed it. It is the case that passengers are being carried over the authority and are responsible must heed it. It is the case that passengers are being carried over the authority and are responsible must heed it. Dr. Pusey's own theological writings have the merit of great earnestness and piety, and though that we must wonder why we have not a wreck for almost every storm. These are questions that the public will be asking, but only the dominion government has the suthority to compel answers with which responsible must heed it. It is the case the dragnet of time has brought down from NATIONAL BANK NOTES. A good illustration of the timeliness our article yesterday in favor of government issuing all Canadian bank notes, oc curred in our own office. A five dollar bill of the bank of Nova Scotia came over the counter yesterday in ordinary business. It was sent to a broker's office for change and a discount of fifteen cents-three per the bills of all the other distant provinces. We have seen the bills of the bank of British Columbia, of the bank of Prince Edward Island, and other Canadian banks, refused in Toronto or subjected to a "shave." And we suppose Ontario bank bills are shaved vice versa. No wonder Canadians on their way to Manitoba have to submit to a five per cent "shave" on Canadian money in Chicago when they are 'shaved" three per cent in Canada. And no wonder sensible Canadians get rid of their own money for greenbacks before they set out on a journey to a distant province, let alone go abroad. A dollar of the United States, mainly because it is a national note, is now a dollar all the world over.

Progress has been made in withdrawing the bank notes and substituting national notes therefor. The banks are not now allowed to issue bills for less than five dollars. But Sir Leonard Tilley should go the whole length and compel the banks to withdraw their notes and use instead dominion bills. The good results of this substitution can easily be seen. In the first place certainty of value would be imparted to our notes, and their currency in any part of Canada and in many parts of the world would be secured, and the profits of the issue of paper money, that now go to the banks, ould go to the people.

THE PALL TRADE. The New York Sun of Sunday has an rticle on the fall trade and the prospects for the winter. The latter is epitomised into

A busy, gay, prosperous winter,

Of course this means for New York, but t is applicable to the rest of the continent. The wholesale trade of New York is now coming; immense numbers of buyers are now in that city and the wholesale houses are pushed to their utmost in filling orders. The retail trade will not begin to be at its height for another month.

A justification of the com is also found in this article. Houses in the interior cities, like Syracuse and Rochester, have a host of these solicitors for patronage abroad, and merchants who would never be likely to draw a large custom to visit their establishments. ber the ones that went down in that gale of are yet able to dispose of a great quantity of goods in that way, successfully competing with dealers at the great business centres like New York to which men from the interior are naturally drawn. The growth of the system of commercial travel-ling has, therefore, tended to distribute the business of supplying country merchants, and gives a large share of it to places which otherwise could have enjoyed little more and Montreal wholesale houses have felt the like effects of similar opposition in Canada. The London Free Press and Hamilton Times will please not imagine that my re-he wert down with the engines going. So In a church which insists on so large an survivors out of a hundred or more who tion, it would at least be wise if the clergy were on board. The Asia formerly be- would not trench on liberty of conscience lodged to the Beatty line, but had been beyond what their own rules compei. There chartered by the Great Northern Transit is absolutely no rule of the Catholic church, company to take the place of the Mani- for which we as outsiders have every retoulin, which last spring was burned to spect, which sanctions a priest protesting against any particular mode of sepulture. This is another terrible lesson, and it is Yet Rev. Father Walsh, of Detroit, lately one that the dominion government will preached a sermon denouncing cremation as because where the authority lies there also of cremation defend the practice on economic and sanitary reasons of the highest government has no power in the premises; importance, laws of health with which church rules are impotent to deal.

> As a matter of fact the movement in favor of cremation is making steady headway. The Hamilton Times had a thoughtful article favoring the system only the other day. The present method must give place to something better. As things now go our city graveyards do not average thirty years; and the graves in some less than ten. They soon become built all around, ten. They soon become built all around, at a glane; what he wanted, and had the and to get rid of a nuisance to the living it becomes necessary to dig up the dead and move the remains further off. In our own recollection at least twice have the dead of recollection at least twice have the dead of Toronto been thus dealt with and it is only a matter of a few years, perhaps months, before the Necropolis will follow suit, and, in its day, Mounc Pleasant cemetery. The obliteration is as complete when the body

"As to Sunday steamboat excursions it is record of our police focurts show that scenes of disorder and violence are of frequent occurrence in connection with them; the suburban towns on the river look upon them with dread, and very recently one of these towns took effectual means to prevent entirely the landing of such parties at the wharf. It is well known also that they are the occasion of much other evil in the turnestricted intercourse of the young of both exces. On some of our city railways I maderstand that the men can have a part of Sunday by letting the supernumeraries take their places. The president of one of the principal lines recently told me that as he has to run more cars on Sundays than on any other days he requires the services of all his senduators and drivers on that day, but arranges then to take one rest day lasch week. I cannot just now give you any further details in this matter; shall probably make some further investigation soon.

From this I infer: That the christian observance of the Sabbath which prevails to so large an extent in Toronto, and for which our friends Mr. Evans & Co. would substitute the licentious liberty of New York and other large American cities will commend itself to the conscience, intelligence, and heart of everyone whose judgment is not perverted and wrapped by a hatred of the christian religion and all its demands. One simultaneous rest day in seven secured to all as nearly as can be reached, is surely preferable to the secence depicted by Mr. Evans. "Thousands of loiterers, excursions by train, steamers, more street cars running than on other days of the week, taverns and asloons in full blast." I think our citizens may well heaitate to make such an exchange. The workingman also may well heaitant to make such an exchange. The workingman also may well be such as the summary of such may be such the summary of the present regime would be a sonthing compared to the scorpion lash of such or desired the summary of such as the summary of

From the New York Sun. "There are 100 hypodermic syringes sold now for each one that found a purchaser a few years ago," said a dealer in leaning over his show-case full of gleaming tools. "People have discovered that they are not only of great service in the alleviation of extreme pain, such as sciatica, for instance, but that they afford a convenient sort of respectable intoxication, or exhilara tion, to speak more politely. Good young men-the kind of young men who would men—the kind of young men who would look with horror upon a glass of whisky, and would not for worlds be seen entering a bar room—are very frequently slaves to this peculiarly insidious and deadly phase of the opium habit. THE SABBATH QUESTION.

(To The Editor of The World.)

Sir: In reply to the letter of Mr. Evans, which appeared in your issue of the 11th, I forwarded that letter to a friend in New York with a request fer any information that might throw additional light on this important subject. The following is extracted from his reply, being all that has any bearing on the question:

"As to Sunday steamboat excursions the record of our police focurts show that recense of disorder and violence are of frequent occurrence in connection with them; the suburban towns on the river look upon them with dread, and very recently one of these towns took effectual means to prevent their clogging, a tiny bottle to hold the morphine, and all in a form convenient for the pocket. Here is another of simpler construction and fewer appliances, but there are much more expensive ones than the former, gotten up in gold and finished like jewels. The manufacturers make them of gold, silver, baser metal, hard rubber, celluloid and glass. In all the principle is the same—a kiny syringe tube of glass, with a graduating scale of minims of gold and the result of the continued use is always the same—ruin."
