He asked the man what he wanted. The man said: "I demand a private interview with you." Sage replied that it would be impossibly do so later in the day. The man continued to demand a private in terview then and there, and said: "If you will not give me $1,200,000 I will blow you all to pieces." Sage ordered him to leave the office. On this the man dropped the leather bag and an explosion, which shook the entire block, instantly followed. Mr. Sage was thrown across the room and stunned. W. R. Laidlaw, Mr. Sage's chief clerk, who had turned away and was standing within a few feet of the two, was also thrown across the office and had one leg badly lacerated. The stranger, whose name was Lord, was killed.

New York, Dec. 4.—At 12.15 to-day a small, shabbily-dressed man, apparently about 35 years old, carrying a brown leather handbag, called at Russell Sage's office in the floor of 71 Broadway and asked to see Mr. Sage. Mr. Sage, who was in an inner sified it as that of his murderous visitor, thus settling that point in the case. From the conformation of the features the head was evidently that of a man of Hebraic descent and Mr. Sage says that he never saw him before to-day.

At Mr. Sage's residence to-night it was stated that with the exception of a slight cut on the forehead, Mr. Sage is all right and had retired at 10.30 o'clock.

Sr. Thomas, Dec. 4.—On opening of court this morning charge 61, that George Ponsford paid James Ponsford his traveling expenses from Denver, was dismissed.

Charges 65 to 75 and charge 78 were then taken up, all of which were that A. B. Ingram, George Ingram and George W. Davey had paid the traveling expenses of a number of voters from Detroit. Some hours were spent in taking evidence on these charges, resulting in their dismissal.

Mr. Cassels then said they proposed to withdraw the other charges. In regard to the charges with which Mr. Crothers' represented the petitioner had no
