The Magazine of American History

Is an illustrated historical monthly, founded in 1877, wherein the stirring incidents of the past are treated in a captivating as well as authentic manner. To the public libraries it has become an absolute necessity; colleges and schools in every part of the land are learning its value in the instruction and culture of their pupils.

It is one of the best of household journals, and it has the largest circulation of any magazine of its character in the world. It has grown remarkably prosperous during the past year, and is now prepared to extend its usefulness to every quarter of the country, and to foreign lands.

THE OPENING OF ITS SEVENTEENTH VOLUME

Is of the greatest public interest, as it contains in addition to other important material the first chapter of a series of papers to come during the current year on "The History of the Editors and Newspapers of America."

This Magazine holds the highest rank in the current literature of the time. The monthly numbers, gathered into handsomely bound volumes, form a unique and valuable library in themselves of the history of the country.

WHAT IS SAID OF IT.

"THE MAGAZINE OF AMERICAN HISTORY is always a valuable journal; even the reader who cares little for the bare facts of history may read it with enjoyment. The January issue is of intense interest throughout."—Providence Journal.

"This periodical has a hold upon the past which lies between formal history and the events of the day. It is constantly gathering up the neglected facts of history, and giving them the shape in which they will ultimately find expression in the story of the growth of the nation. This magazine was never better edited than it is to-day; it so mediates between the past and the present that it is almost as fresh as if it treated of the issues of our own time."—Boston Herald.

"Few magazines would be missed so much as this elegantly contrived, excellently written one, dealing with topics that connect the new with the old."—Hartford Post.

"This splendid magazine is unsectarian and unsectional, including in its scope themes locally interesting to all parts of the country—north, south, east and west—and is truly a magazine of American history in its widest sense. The past and the present alike pass in review in its broad, fair pages."—The Morning Telegram, Mobile, Alabama.

Subscription price $5.00 a year in advance.
