their stewards, servants, and others in their name, of planting colonies and engaging in trade in the before-named places or bounds, or any part of them particularly marked out, and of expelling or debarring all others from the same; also of allocating proportions of the lands thereof to whatsoever person or persons shall seem to him fit, and upon the same terms, conditions, restrictions and regulations within all the forenamed bounds, as he could do in Nova Scotia, by whatsoever charters or patents granted to him by his said Majesty's father, or his Majesty himself, also with such and as great privileges, liberties and immunities in all the foresaid places or bounds, islands and others above written, as well as in the sea and fresh water as on land, as the said Sir William Alexander had in Nova Scotia by his prior charters or patents of Nova Scotia; which privileges, contained in the said prior charters and every one of them, his said Majesty ordained to be equally sufficient and valid, and willd to be altogether of the same strength, force and effect, as if they had severally been particularly and one by one granted and set forth word for word in the said charter, as to the not particular insertion of which in the said charter his said Majesty for ever dispensed: By which charter also it is ordained and declared, that it should in nowise be prejudicial or derogatory to whatsoever rights, charters or patents granted to the foresaid Sir William Alexander, or his aforesaid, of or concerning Nova Scotia, at whatsoever time preceding the date of the said charter, or to any head, clause, article or condition therein set forth; as also, that it should be without prejudice to any prior charter granted by his said Majesty, or to be granted at any time to come, to whatsoever Baronets within Scotland of the country of Nova Scotia: And his said Majesty specially prohibited and debarr'd all and sundry his subjects, of every degree or condition, in any of his kingdoms or dominions, from making any plantation, or engaging in any trade in the said places or bounds, bays, rivers, lakes, islands and straits above written, or in any part thereof, without the special advice, permission and consent of the foresaid Sir William Alexander, or his foresaids; and with special power to the said Sir William Alexander, and his foresaids, of seizing, taking and apprehending all and sundry persons who shall be found to be in business and engaged in trade in any part of the said places or bounds contrary to the said prohibition, and of confiscating their ships and goods, and disposing thereof at pleasure to their own proper uses, without rendering any count or reckoning in any manner for the same, or any part thereof;

Power to allocate proportions of the lands, with privileges, immunities, &c. as great as those contained in any Charters of Nova Scotia.
