PUBLIC FUNERAL TO-DAY FOR JUNCTION VICTIMS

Humber Bay Gives Up Last Two Bodies on Sunday—All Found Near Same Spot.

On Sunday the searchers were successful in recovering the bodies of the last two victims of the Humber Bay tragedy. The funeral of the nine victims will take place at Toronto Junction to-day. Six will be given a public funeral from Victoria Presbyterian Church; two others will be taken out of town for burial in the morning, while the ninth, young La Roche, a Roman Catholic, will be buried from his own church in the morning.

When the search recommenced in the morning there were two bodies still in the bay, those of Reginald Miller and Dawson Niehrang. Frank Kyle, Frank and Leonard Daly, and Gordon La Roche were found on Saturday, but no trace of the others had been found when the search was reluctantly abandoned late that night. At 8 o'clock Sunday morning several launches and row boats were sent out on the bay. Tirelessly they dragged and redressed the bottom, threatening the water in the hope of recovering the bodies of the two unfortunate young men. Charles Nurse was there in his big gasoline launch. He had spent the whole of Saturday looking for the bodies and had located three of the bodies and he was back again for another determined effort. W. J. Dalton of the Junction, Pioneer Iron Works was another of the search party. C. S. Macdonald of Hentzma and Co. started at 2 o'clock of the Friday afternoon and every midnight since had found him working for the last two bodies. The search was not abandoned until the bodies were recovered. The bodies of the two young men were recovered on Sunday morning. County Constable George Simpson and two parties were sent to the scene of the tragedy, being assisted by his brother, most of the time.

Search Rewarded.
It was not till 10:30 that the body of Reginald Miller was found. The early operations had been conducted too far from the shore, and when at last the body was recovered, it was found that the body of Dawson Niehrang had been recovered. The search was not abandoned until the bodies were recovered. The bodies of the two young men were recovered on Sunday morning. County Constable George Simpson and two parties were sent to the scene of the tragedy, being assisted by his brother, most of the time.

Multitude Watch Search.
Thousands of people thronged the bay shore all day watching the dragging operations and viewing with curiosity the spot where the boat and body came in on Friday morning. Towards noon, about the time that the body of Dawson Niehrang was recovered, the search was not abandoned until the bodies were recovered. The bodies of the two young men were recovered on Sunday morning. County Constable George Simpson and two parties were sent to the scene of the tragedy, being assisted by his brother, most of the time.

Courtesy Fate.
A small launch, not more than 15 feet, put off from a boat house. It contained not less than sixteen persons and was obviously overloaded. Yet the party of men and women proceeded down the river and across the bay in the direction of the island, apparently oblivious of the fact that just a couple of days before a happy party of ladies had lost their lives on the course thru making the same mistake. Boatmen at the Humber said business had fallen off since the tragedy.

All the bodies were found within a radius of twenty-five yards of the spot where Joseph Irwin's body was found on Friday, and none was farther than a quarter of a mile from the shore, the last being about 100 yards northeast of the boat works, and from the general location is contained in the angle of two lines drawn from Quebec Victoria to the Boat Works, and from the Grenadier Company to Ramsburgh's cottage, on Gibraltar Point. Mr. Huntington was suffering from pulmonary consumption, and as it was believed that he was near death a telegram was despatched to Henry to return. The latter hurried to the bedside, but at midnight was sinking under the weight of his grief, and he endeavored to make his escape. He was captured, however, by a guard who ran into the house to investigate the cause of the shooting.

CHARLES H. MOYER, President W. F. M. GEORGE A. PETTIBONE, Member Executive Board. WILLIAM D. HAYWOOD, Secretary and Treasurer.

HAYWOOD NOT GUILTY, SAYS JURY VERDICT RENDERED EARLY SUNDAY MORNING JUDGE'S CHARGE IN HIS FAVOR

Eight for Acquittal on First Poll

After Deliberations Lasting for 21 Hours.

JUDGE'S ADDRESS TO JURY CAST DOUBT AS TO ORCHARD

BOISE, Idaho, July 28.—Wm. D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, is not guilty of the murder of Governor Frank Steunenberg.

The verdict of the jury was rendered at 7:58 a.m. to-day after an all night session.

The court proceedings were very brief. After the jury had taken their seats on the bench Judge Wood said:

"Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon a verdict?"

"We have," said Thomas B. Gess, juror number one, who had been elected foreman.

He handed an envelope to the judge, who handed it to the clerk, who read:

"State of Idaho against Wm. D. Haywood."

"We the jury in the above entitled case find the defendant, Wm. D. Haywood, not guilty."

The prisoner's attorneys jumped to their feet and shouted "Not guilty!"

Three persons were injured, one of them, Gottfried Messerli, a fireman, probably fatally.

STRATHCONA ADVISES
C.P.R. TO LEND A HAND

In Favor of "All Red" Route—
C.P.R. May Tender for Service.

MONTREAL, July 28.—(Special.)—The members of parliament who have interviewed Sir Wilfrid Laurier since the premier's arrival in Canada, and R. Bickerdike, M.P., is of the number, do not hesitate to say that Lord Strathcona's coming visit to this country has a great deal to do with the question of the "all-red" line.

It is said, in fact, on the best of authority that Lord Strathcona will use every effort to induce Sir Thomas Shaughnessy to not only abandon the strenuous opposition the C.P.R. has put up against the scheme, but will advise the Canadian Pacific to throw in their influence with the deal and tender for the Atlantic service. It is stated that Strathcona is ready to abandon the Irish connection and either take the British port of Liverpool or Southampton, but that most are agreed that Halifax shall be the Atlantic port all the year around.

The idea is for the Canadian Pacific to build three new boats for the Halifax route and place the Empresses of Britain and Ireland on the Pacific. The statement is, however, made that there is a plan to have the new Atlantic greyhounds come up the St. Lawrence in summer, but it is not presumed that Halifax shall be the Atlantic port all the year around.

STEAMER BURNED NINE LIVES ARE LOST

Women and Children in Panic Fall into Water and Are Drowned—60 Others Saved.

AUBURN, N.Y., July 28.—The steamboat Frontenac was burned and beached opposite Farley's Point, on Lake Cayuga, yesterday, and nine lives were lost. The unfortunate were all women and children passengers, and all were drowned. Several other passengers were severely burned before the boat could be beached. She lies to-night burned and blackened in seven feet of water. The bodies of the victims have been recovered, and the injured are being cared for at the homes of persons near the scene of the wreck.

The dead: Mrs. Homer Ganung, Freeville, N.Y.; Carl Ganung, 7 years old, son of Mrs. Ganung; Miss Stella McCree, Cohoes, N.Y.; Miss Lida Bennett, Frankfort, N.Y.; Miss Stella Clinton, Ithaca, N.Y.; Miss Marcia Sullivan, South State-street, Syracuse, N.Y.; six-year-old daughter of Howard Abel, South Bloomington, N.Y.; and two unidentified women passengers.

In mid-lake fire broke out in the engine-room, fanned by a stiff north-east wind, it spread quickly to the after-section of the boat. The crew behaved bravely and fought the flames at first. Then seeing that nothing could save the boat, they turned all their efforts to saving themselves. Life-preservers were put on everyone who could be found in the short time given, but despite their efforts nine women and children perished. Capt. Brown directed this work, and was the last to leave the burning boat.

In strong contrast with the coolness and courage of the crew was the panic, and in some instances, cowardice, of many of the men passengers. In their efforts to save themselves, they seriously impeded the work of the crew and endangered the lives of everyone on the steamer. This is according to the statements of the crew.

It is not known how the nine women and children were thrown into the water. It is thought, however, that in terror they either jumped into the water as the boat neared the shore, or were forced overboard in the rush to get into the boats that put off. The bodies were recovered near shore.

SUICIDES WITH GAS.

Stratford Man, Despondent, Arises in Night and Ends Life.

STRATFORD, July 28.—(Special.)—While brooding over his wife's death, William Donaldson, aged 44, committed suicide during last night by inhaling gas. This morning he was sitting beside the gas range with a gas tube in his hand, and dead. For some months he had been carefully watched, as it was feared that in his state of mental derangement he would attempt his life. Deceased was a twenty-eight years old employee of the Grand Trunk shops, and is survived by two children. This latter case makes four suicides in Stratford inside of three weeks.

Daniel Caverly, employee of the Mooney Biscuit Factory, had all the fingers off his right hand.

Daniel Baumbach, an employee of the Whyte Packing Company, was standing alongside an elevator shaft when the elevator suddenly descended, striking him on the head, crushing his skull and breaking his chin-bone. He will recover.

Otto Heit, G.T.R. employee, was struck by a flying piece of iron in the tender-shop and rendered unconscious.

Remarkable Season.

"This year's straw hat business has been the most remarkable, I think, in my long experience as a hatter," exclaimed Mr. W. Dineen on Saturday. "The early part of the regular season was conspicuous for cold weather, and it took a long time for the straw hat trade, but when seasonable weather came there were more straw hats sold than in any other similar space of time in my collection." Mr. Dineen rejoices that his firm got its good share of the trade, and modestly admits that the success of his firm is due to its reputation for giving good values in all lines. The store is at Yonge and Temperance streets.
