T. EATON CO LIMITED

"Young Matron"—That young vandal, the Energetic Baby, would have little chance of wrecking a certain Russian blouse dress in white voile, its only ornamentation being heavy soutache braiding—not a frill or sew-saw on it for his irreverent fingers to clutch. It is really a wonderfully smart little model, the braiding appearing on the square collar, the cuffs and the large patch pockets. The price is $10.00. Another frock of the same fashionable type shows skirt of white voile, and belted coat of the same striped with coral pink and black. This is $7.95.

F. H. R.—You're in luck. White Japanese cotton crepe is to be had in the exact weave of your clipping of blue. So on with the making of your coat dress. It is 22 inches wide and 25 cents a yard.

"Country Girl"—Men's sterling silver cigarette cases are many and varied in form. One that is plain and square may be had at $4.00, or plain with rounded corners at $4.50; a chased design with rounded corners is $5.00, or another of the engine-turned type at $6.00. Heavier cases in similar shapes and styles are featured at $7.00 and $8.00. On any of these his initials would be engraved without further charge.

"Martha-by-the-Sea"—Nice, cheerful person, it's glad one is to tell you that all goes happily and well in your quest for a costume. The suit can be had with an absolute plainness of cut and finish—in black or navy blue serge smartly tailored, the coat in semi-fitting style with mannish collar and lapels, and the skirt flaring, with a small hip yoke. Its price has lately been reduced to $17.50. At the same amount, too—likewise greatly reduced—is an attractive model in navy blue gabardine, with coat in longer Russian style, buttoning up to the neck, where there is a convertible collar. As for the blouse with the high-neckband, it too awaits your choosing, in strictly plain tailored style in white taffeta at $5.00, in messaline with hemstitching on collar and cuffs at $2.95, or in Habutai or crepe de Chine with or without hemstitching at $2.95 and $5.00.

"Munna-Munna"—Your patience has been sorely tried, but one has been hoping that the queer tactics of the weather would divert your attention from the summery subject. At any rate, a suit fulfilling all requirements of color and price is at last at hand—in crash in artistic mid-blue shade. The coat is semi-fitting with a belt across the sides and back, and a wide, sailor collar, while the skirt exhibits a modish flare, boasts two smart knapsack pockets and confines its fullness at the back under a separate skirt. And withal the price is but $7.95, in black and white. Palm Beach cloth is another low-priced model characterized by a goodly favor of smartness. The coat in this falls into ripples below the belt, and buttons up to the neck, where it flares out into a broad collar. The full skirt has a small hip yoke and one pocket. The price is $12.50.

Holidaying in the Hammock at Home

And a Pleasant Prospect it is When the Hammock's a Roomy Couch With a Head-rest for Reading and Ample Space for Comfortably Stretching One's Limbs

A LONG, LAZY DAY with a good book—doesn't it spell bliss to you, who in the busy whirl of business and war-time affairs get so little time to either read or rest?

And how happily the Couch-hammock enters into this kind of holiday. With its mattress-like cushion, its enveloping wind-shield and its shady canopy it is a perfect bower of comfort up on the verandah or out in the garden.

It may be had for $10.25—the attractive looking model in the sketch—this price being for hammock alone, with steel frame, wire springs, wind-shield and mattress-cover of khaki duck, the chains to be attached to ceiling of porch or verandah. The iron stand for such a hammock is $4.25, and khaki duck canopy, $3.50.

A Couch-hammock with wind-shield and mattress cover of awning duck in brown and white, or green and white stripes is complete with canopy in same striped duck scalloped along the edges, also iron stand, and priced $26.00.

Viola Segley, age 15, 81 St. David street, Toronto. Pupil of Park School.

The following won first prize in class 1: "Stop, Look and Listen" was the sign that made me think of the many ways auto accidents could be prevented by little children. Stop every time you come to a crossing. Listen for any warning signal of approaching car, and look up and down before attempting to cross the street. When you are playing on the sidewalk, you know there is always the danger of a car coming along, so never leave the curb without looking up the street, and when you see an approaching car don't imagine that the driver is an expert, give him lots of room, as he may, for all you know, be only a beginner, or he may be excited, so don't take chances; better to wait a moment and give the automobile the right of way. Now, as to playing on the street, you should never allow yourself to be tempted to play on the roadway, as in the excitement and fun, you are sure to forget all about automobiles, so every careful child should keep off the roadway and should play in the nearest playground, which is safe and protected against accidents. In close-ing, I say as forcibly as possible, "Stop, Look and Listen." Marion Nolan, 11 Years.

The following is the winning composition in class 2: Some people say, with a sigh, "How I wish motors were never invented. What a terrible increase of accidents they have caused." Such a wish is useless, may foolish, for motors are a great help to mankind, as well as a luxury. So the children may help to prevent many accidents by following the carefully thought-out rules of the Safety League.

Stop, Look, Listen. You would be astonished to see the decrease of accidents if only these three words were remembered and acted upon. Follow them, girls and boys, don't forget them and you will save yourself and others much needless worry. If your parents know that you stop, look and listen before crossing the street, they will know you can be trusted to take care of yourself. But don't keep this all to yourself—tell others; tell the little ones especially, if you have a little brother or sister, tell them that there is danger on the road, and they will soon do as big brother or sister does and say, if you are careless, if you look up and down before crossing the road they will too. So always remember and take no chances. Clara Peppiatt.

NORTH TORONTO STATION

North Toronto Station makes another big step forward this morning, when the C. P. R. announce that four new trains will leave that point next morning in addition to the ten services now running therefrom—one to and from Guelph and Goderich; a third to and from Camp Borden; a fourth east to and from Ottawa and Trenton. In the afternoon there will be field sports and in the evening they will have a vaudeville entertainment. Mr. Farnum Barton and his own company will present the military gem, "Waterloo."

BATTALIONS BROKEN UP AND DRAFTED TO FRONT

Seventy-Fourth and Seventy-Fifth Fill Gaps on Firing Line.

According to word received in Toronto yesterday, the 74th Battalion, commanded by Lieut.-Col. McCausland, and the 75th, commanded by Lt.-Col. S. G. Beckett, which left the Exhibition Camp on March 26, and arrived in England on April 10, have been broken up and sent to the front as reinforcing drafts to the various units at the front. About half of the 74th have gone to France to reinforce a mounted unit which had suffered heavily in the recent fighting. Thirteen officers and 500 men have been drafted from the 75th to a Montreal battalion with the 3rd division. The breaking up of the 74th, 75th, 76th, 81st, 83rd and 82nd, in order to fill the gaps in the Canadian divisions at the front, is an indication of the greatness of the losses they have suffered since St. Eloi last April up to the present. It would also indicate that few, if any, of the battalions that go overseas from now on will go to the trenches as units. The 58th Battalion, Lt.-Col. Harry A. Genet, O.C., is the only battalion from this district that has gone to France as a unit since a year ago last May.

It now looks as tho the fifth division of Canadians that was authorized in England will not be organized for some time and Canada will, for the present, be represented by four divisions at the front. The call for reinforcements must have come very suddenly, as the battalions were only one month in England, and it is known that the 74th and 75th had been put into a brigade that was about to take the field under Major-General Watson of Quebec.
