LATE LOCALS

Battle line steamship Pydna sailed from Wilmington this morning for Brunswick Georgia.

Boston steamer Calvin Austin Captain Pike is due to arrive here at 7.30 o'clock tonight.

Beginning tomorrow the country market will be open from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m. The hours during the winter were 7.30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

A large amount of river ice ran out the harbor last night and this morning. As it comes over the Falls it breaks up into small pieces.

Coroner Berryman will resume the inquest into the fire in Sheffield street, which caused the deaths of Mrs. Clara McDougall and Margaret Hayes, in the court house tonight.

Norwegian steamer Hird, Captain Jensen, arrived in port this morning from Parrsboro with a cargo of coal for the Canadian Pacific Railway and is now discharging at the west side.

A meeting of Brooks ward conservators will be held this evening in the old Shore Line station, Union Street. We will organize a conservator club among the voters of the ward.

Complaint is again made that a crowd of boys and young men nightly congregate at the corner of Castle and Water streets, to the great annoyance of the people who live in the neighborhood. They ask the police to break up the crowd.

The Dominion Atlantic Railway have transferred their offices to Read's Point from the corner of Princess and Prince William streets. The new offices give the company's agent more room for their increased business.

The Dominion dredge W. S. Fielding is doing good work in the channel at the mouth of the harbor. The dredge goes out to the dumping ground herself, after being filled. She takes a large amount of mud and gravel each trip.

Miss Jean M. Foulis has recently been admitted to the Montreal Art Association. A picture painted by her and now on exhibition in that city, has been much admired and judged worthy of its place in the art gallery. The subject is Morning in St. John Harbor.

The St. John schooner Stella Maid from Wickford Me. for her home port, arrived at Wood Holl last Thursday and lost part of shoeing had planks chafed, anchor, stock broken and is leaking considerably. She is now on her way here.

The London Daily Mirror of March 10 states that "the objection raised at Tiverton, Devon, by Tennyson Smith, a temperance lecturer, to the acceptance by the brewer caused so much indignation that he was pelted with rotten eggs."

The police have succeeded in securing possession of two coats stolen from the hallway of H. C. Rankin, 212 Germania street, on Saturday evening, and for the stealing of which John Allan, alias Elliott, was sentenced to Dorchester yesterday. This makes a total of four coats recovered by the police, all of which have been identified.

E. K. Spinney has retired from the presidency of the Yarmouth, N. S. Board of Trade. The annual meeting of the board was held on Saturday evening last, when the reports showed that the year has been a most successful one.

About $25 was realized in aid of the new Seamen's Institute last night by a concert given by the Steward's Concert Party from the steamer "St. John" of Ireland. S. L. Gorbell presided. H. Tunstall, J. Hayes, C. Pasmore, T. Shipley, J. Catrall, Bert Smith, C. Lewis, H. Budgett, Mr. Faragher, J. Robertson, H. Williams and J. Hayes took part.

Rev. P. J. Stackhouse returned Saturday from St. John where he conducted a most successful series of revival services in the Brunswick street Baptist church. He occupied his pulpit yesterday. In the morning he preached a powerful sermon with "Judge not, lest ye be not judged," as his text. (Campbellton Graphic.)

Adam Cunningham, charged with stabbing Mary McGinley, was released in the police court yesterday afternoon on his promise to be good. I am thoroughly ashamed of myself," he said. Michael McHugh was recalled to the stand. He testified that he had struck Cunningham because the latter would not go out of the witness room. E. S. Ritchie appeared for Cunningham.

Nine men and boys residing in or near Fairville were each fined $40 or three months in jail before Justice Mason yesterday on the charge of trespassing on C. P. R. property. The fine was allowed to stand on payment of the costs. All but one pleaded guilty to the charge of trespassing, which was pressed by Policeman Lawson and C. P. R. Detective Crawford.

Mr. Joseph Holland of Chatham chopped 87 logs in ten hours at Mr. Andrew Gregory's camp, Queens Co. last November in competition with Arthur Mays, a heretofore champion. The vanquished woodsman cut only 77 logs. There was a small bet between the contestants. Mr. Holland has the record for ten hours work in New Brunswick log cutting. (Campbellton Graphic.)

NEW HOME OF ROYAL BANK

It will be One of the Finest Bank Buildings in Canada and will be ready for Occupancy about May 1st

The new Royal Bank building at the corner of King and Canterbury streets is rapidly nearing completion and by the first of May, Manager Blair and his staff hope to vacate their present premises at the corner of Prince William and Princess streets for their new quarters, which are undoubtedly the finest of their kind in the Maritime Provinces. The large outer doors are of heavy metal of handsome design, and the inner doors are of light oak, with polished finish and long plate glass panels. The vestibule, which is connected with the main hall by a pair of oak doors, the counterpart of those just described, is provided with a white marble flooring and the walls finished with light oak, with polished finish and long plate glass panels. The ceiling, which is nicely paneled, will be grained in oak to correspond with the doors. Situated in the main hall, directly in front of the entrance, are the stair case and a large electric elevator. To the right of these and extending from the elevator shaft to the wall at the right of the inner doors, is a stout, iron screen, with large double gates of artistic design, connecting the hallway with the main banking apartment, which is handsomely finished.

The main floor outside the screen is of white marble and the counter fronts of the same material, the tops being of green veined black marble, on which rests the iron screen, nicely designed and painted black. The floor inside the counters is of polished quartered oak.

The walls, to a height of about ten feet, are done in polished marble, above which the finish is of smooth plaster, tinted in almost the palest shade of green. Close to the wall, directly opposite the counters are two handsomely finished and artistically designed oak tables, between which is placed a heavy settee of the same material.

Inside the counters and at the extreme rear of the building is a large vault fitted with a heavy steel door, provided with a stout combination lock of the latest and most approved design. The inner door is of polished steel bars with burnished brass trimmings, the tops of the bars being finished in brass balls and spear heads, placed alternately. Opening off the main apartment are two other vaults situated just to the rear of the elevator shaft, the first on the main floor, the second just above it is reached by a steel staircase. To the right of the lower vault is the switch-board, which is protected by a light oak door with glass panel. In the upper right hand corner at the front of the building is a white marble fireplace and mantle.

The bank will be lighted throughout with electricity, the fittings being of brass, richly designed and of antique finish. The basement is devoted to the lunch and locker rooms are provided with matched hardwood floors and finished in light green with trimmings of a much darker shade. The upper floors, which are also handsomely finished, are designed to correspond with the banking rooms and all have already been rented.

How Rooms May Be Curtained

A FEW TIMELY SUGGESTIONS

In the eternal fitness of things home furnishings should be considered with all propriety. Take for instance the matter of Curtains:

For the Living Room we have Arston, Irish Point, Point Venise Curtains, Marie Antoinette and Battenburg Curtains.

For the Bedroom the Curtains should be of lighter weight material, such as Frilled Bobbinet, Frilled Muslin, Cluny, Battenburg or Scotch Net Curtains.

Rich Silk Tapestry for drawing room. Furniture Tapestries and Figured Velours for dining room and library furniture.

Cretonnes of both English and French manufacture, for bedroom furniture and draperies. Plain Velours and Reps for Portiers.

For the Library—Ecu Nottingham Curtains, also Plain Velours and Colored Madras.

Silk Mantel and Piano Drapes all colors.
