RECENT DEATHS

Christopher Noble.
Many friends in the city will learn with keen regret of the death of Christopher Noble, formerly of this city and the eldest son of the late John A. and Elizabeth Hazleton Noble, which took place at the Bessey Private Hospital, Boston, Feb. 13. Up to ten years ago the late Mr. Noble had been a resident of this city and had been in the employ of both the Canadian Express Company and the American Express Company and for several years was messenger for the latter company on the boats running between here and Boston. For the past ten years he has been residing in Boston and has lately been in the employ of the Raymond department store. He was ill for two months. The late Mr. Noble was a former member of the Log Cabin Club. He was in his fifty-eighth year. He is survived by his wife, residing in Boston; also two brothers, Joseph H. and Fred W., of this city, and two sisters, the Misses Edith and Emma Noble also living here.

Felix McGill.
Felix McGill, a former resident of this city, was almost instantly killed yesterday afternoon at a lumber camp at Westbrook, about thirty miles outside of Houlton (Me.). The news of the tragedy was received last night by his sister, Mrs. Joseph Taylor, who lives in Charles street. The details concerning the accident are rather meagre, but it is learned that Mr. Mc-

SIR DAVID BEATTY
Sir David Beatty is Irish, having been born in County Wexford, 45 years ago. He entered the Britannia as a cadet in 1894, and by 1892 had attained the rank of lieutenant. Sir David Beatty's name will always be associated with that of Lord Kitchener, on account of the part he played in the Nile Expedition in 1898. He was one of the officers in charge of the gunboat flotilla which co-operated with the land troops. He was second in command at the forcing of the Derwish batteries at Hahr, and rendered excellent service in getting the gunboats over the cataraacts.

At Hahr the flotilla came under heavy fire, Commander Colville was wounded, and Lieutenant Beatty took full charge. He fought the ships carefully dismounting the enemy's guns, and gained the D. S. O. He took part in Kitchener's advance in 1898, and fought in the historic battles of Athara and Khartoum. He was awarded the Order of Merit (Fourth Class), and was promoted commander, being then twenty-seven years of age. In 1900 when the Chinese Boxer troubles took place he commanded the Barfleur. He fought a plucky engagement at Tientsin, and was twice wounded. His conduct in this affair gained him promotion and the distinction of being the youngest captain in the British navy. He was afterwards to be the youngest admiral.

In 1909 he was promoted naval adviser to the army council. In 1910 he was promoted rear-admiral. The appointment was notable from the fact that as Admiral Beatty had not served the usual qualifying period for such promotion, the king signing a special order in council. Sir David Beatty thus became an admiral at the age of thirty-nine. The exceptional rapidity of his promotion is seen from the fact that he became admiral at an earlier age than nine-tenths of his contemporaries succeeded in attaining the rank of captain. He, in 1912, received the important appointment of naval secretary to the First Lord of the Admiralty. His services in the present war at Heligoland, Dogger Bank, and Jutland are well known. Sir David Beatty married in 1910 a daughter of an American millionaire, Marshall Field, of Chicago.

FOR ACADIA COLLEGE
Major George B. Witten, president of Acadia University, has purchased from J. P. Linscott Edwards, a library of 15,000 volumes, probably the best collection of Canadiana outside of government ownership. In an appeal to the alumni and friends of Acadia, Major Witten says:—
"For several years I have had my eye on the library, and of course would not naturally have chosen the present time to have purchased it, but the time of sale was something which I could not control. I am sure it is worth more than the money value asked and I know of nothing which would do so much for Acadia for the same amount of money as the securing of this library. On account of war conditions I did not feel like asking the governors to take the responsibility; I alone am shouldering that, but I am trusting to the loyalty of the alumni and friends to share it with me."
