

BEST PRICE FOR
PROVINCE BONDS
SINCE THE WAR

Premier Foster congratulated on Price Offered—N. B. Credit High on Account of Sinking Fund Provisions Made.

Premier Foster this morning received congratulations from several of the financial people of the city on the excellent price of 97.048 offered for Province of New Brunswick twenty-year five per cent bonds yesterday. The premier pointed out today that this issue is the best price since the war's effect on finance. He remarked that on December 15 an issue of $5,000,000 of 5 1/2 per cent bonds made by Ontario sold for 99.59, which meant that the cost of the province was 1.54. This price was considered so good that the issue was increased to $10,000,000. The good price received by the premier took as indicative of the fact that the credit of the province stands high, and that money conditions were settling down to pre-war levels. He attributed the high price to the fact that more adequate sinking funds were being provided and better provisions being made for the redemption of debts at maturity. As the public accounts, to be published soon, would show, amounts were being set aside to cover these very important features of financing.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

WALLACE REID AT IMPERIAL MONDAY

Late Screen Favorite in His Most Brilliant Achievement, Both Tarkington's "Clarence"—General Regret at His Death.

The very finest achievement of the late Wallace Reid, good-looking motion picture star whose untimely demise took place Thursday, is the role of Clarence which he plays in Both Tarkington's delicious comedy bearing the same name. The Imperial shows this excellent Paramount special Monday, Tuesday and possibly Wednesday of next week. Beautiful Agnes Ayers, May McAvoy, Kathryn Williams and other renowned favorites support the many young actor. It is a very fine photoplay indeed.

The Imperial management joins with many other admirers of Mr. Reid's screen abilities in sincerely regretting his death which is frankly stated as due to lung and kidney congestion contracted while battling with the drug habit in a sanatorium. The actor's wife made known the facts of the case as a warning to many who submit to opiate treatment during illness, to which she attributed her husband's physical downfall. Wallace Reid was not a drug addict by choice or inclination, his physicians and relatives assert and they speak very plainly of it to the public.

In "Clarence" on Monday-Tuesday the late favorite star shines at his highest brilliancy. The picture was photographed just before the illness which necessitated the treatment of which his wife warns others. At that time "Wally" was at the zenith of his career and those who see the film will be forced to add their sincere regrets that such a fine type of player is so suddenly swept from the screen. It is a bit unusual to refer to a coming film attraction in a semi-obituary way but the news of Mr. Reid's death is so fresh and current in all papers that the singular coincidence of the "Clarence" booking really demands a reference of this kind.

UNCLE SAM IS GOING AFTER DRUG RING

Investigate California Situation and Seek to Solve the Mystery of Movie Murder.

Washington, Jan. 20.—A sweeping investigation into the traffic in narcotic drugs, which is known to be carried on extensively in Los Angeles, has been started by the federal government. Incidentally, the results of this investigation may have an important bearing upon the murder of William Desmond Taylor, a motion picture director, and may involve the names of several persons who are prominent in film circles at Hollywood and in actors and actresses and as directors.

It was announced at prohibition headquarters today that the situation had become so irritating in Los Angeles that the law that Colonel L. G. Nutt, in charge of the narcotic division of the prohibition unit, left the city hurriedly for Los Angeles, and will be there on next Tuesday. He will be joined there by Major R. A. Haynes, U. S. prohibition commissioner, who is now making a tour of inspection through the west and northwest.

Ever since the mysterious murder of Taylor, nearly a year ago, the authorities of California have been endeavoring to obtain some clue. Charges have been made that the dope ring operating in the city is responsible for his murder. Nevertheless, the many investigations that have been conducted into the Taylor case have come to naught.

It is now the intention of the federal government to take a hand in the Los Angeles situation and determine for itself the extent of the wholesale violations of the law against the sale of narcotics and to ascertain if conditions among residents, not alone of Hollywood but of other sections of California, are as lawless as has been reported.

DETECTIVES SEE WHO SOME OF KLANSMEN ARE Scrutiny of Members as they Emerge from New York Meeting.

New York, Jan. 20.—(Canadian Press)—Fifteen detectives of the bomb squad last night participated unexpectedly in a rally of Ku Klux Klan members, the first big meeting of the Klan to be held in New York. It was held in the Bronx and was attended by 100,000 members of the Invisible Empire. The police made no attempt to interfere with the proceedings but when the meeting was over they arrested the Klansmen to a "line up" as they emerged, unmasked, from the meeting room.

The members of the Klan were forced to walk slowly between two lines of detectives who scrutinized their faces closely. As a result detectives say they have secured a large number of the identity of some prominent leaders of the movement in New York.

FEBRUARY ROD AND GUN...
A perusal of the February issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, Canadian sports magazine, reveals a liberal supply of entertaining and instructive reading. One thing that has always featured this national sports journal is the diversity of subjects it covers and like the preceding numbers, the February number has something of interest and of value for sportsmen from the Atlantic to the Pacific. There is a feature article: "Hunting Wild Horses in Southern Saskatchewan," by Harry M. Moore, that is well worth reading. There is, too, a high order, while such prominent naturalists and students of wild life as "Jonny-castle Dale and J. W. Winson contribute the articles. The fishing note department contains an article on the light lure, that will be read appreciatively by anglers, while the gun and ammunition department is well up to its usual high standard, and that means a great deal. The other departments of the magazine combine to make up additional features, the many fine illustrations that will meet with instant favor.
