LOCAL NEWS

ENGAGEMENT Mrs. James Byron has announced the engagement of her daughter, Alice Blanche, to Howard C. Gallant, the marriage to take place early in July.

VISITING YACHT. The motor yacht Acayon which arrived in port yesterday from New York, via Bar Harbor, is tied up at Long wharf. She is a neat vessel of eighteen tons, and long slim type. She has two funnels. She is commanded by Captain Ford, and her owner is Mr. Cotter. She carries a pilot and two men. Her owner is on a pleasure trip to this coast.

WAS SETTLED. A property under mortgage, on the southern side of Peters street, with all buildings thereon, was scheduled to be sold at Public auction on Saturday morning, under power of sale to satisfy the mortgage, but the matter was settled to the satisfaction of all concerned before it came to sale.

PRESENTATION TO D. C. CLARK. At the close of the evening service in Charlotte street Baptist church, West End, last evening, the choir presented to D. C. Clark, chairman of the music committee, a handsome leather writing case. Mr. Clark is leaving on a trip west this week, and will be away several months. Though completely surprised at the gift, Mr. Clark made a feeling reply. The presentation was made on behalf of the choir by S. M. Stout, organist and leader.

JAMES AUSTIN PECK. The death of James Austin Peck occurred yesterday, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. George Nelson, Hickey road, after two weeks' illness. He was in his seventy-second year and is survived by one son, Herbert, of this city; one daughter, Mrs. Nelson; one sister, Mrs. Joseph MacAfee, of St. John; one brother, Robert, also of St. John. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon. Many will be sorry to learn of his death.

AUTO DAMAGED. Boyce Evans, driving an automobile near Renforth station last night, had a narrow escape from serious damage when the car left the road and struck a stump left by the removal of a telegraph pole. The front bumper was bent in such a way that it had to be removed, and the windshield was broken by the shock. Mr. Evans was traveling down the hill behind the station when his brakes failed to hold and the car got out of control, running across the main road. He was able to return to the city under his own power.

SEA PLANE HERE. Persons around the waterfront on Saturday afternoon were surprised and entranced by a seaplane into the harbor. It flew up the harbor, over Reed's Point and settled into the water well up to the harbor. It is a seaplane K boat, and is commanded by Captain E. K. Jaguth, and flew here from Atlantic City. Captain Jaguth, who is accomplished by a mechanic, was one of the best known American flyers in the world, and has been engaged in the passenger carrying trade on the coast of Florida, making Miami headquarters. He is now on a pleasure trip and will probably remain here for a few days. The seaplane is tied up at No. 5, Sand Point.

MOURN DEATH OF SIR GEORGE PARKIN

Friends in New Brunswick learned with regret this morning of the death of Sir George Parkin, which occurred yesterday in London. News of his passing away was conveyed to W. Shives Fisher, a brother-in-law, in a telegram received from Sir George's daughter, Mrs. Vincent Massey, Toronto.

Sir George Parkin is survived by one son and four daughters. The son is Raleigh Parkin, who is at present attending Oxford University. The daughters are Mrs. Massey, wife of Vincent Massey, president of the Massey Harris Co.; Mrs. Macdonnell, wife of James Macdonnell, manager of the National Trust Co., Montreal; Mrs. Grant, wife of Dr. W. L. Grant, principal of Upper Canada College, and Mrs. Wimpert, wife of Harry Wimpert, an official in the British admiralty in London.

Sir George had made several visits to Canada, including one last year. On June 5, 1918, while returning home after a lecture tour of the United States, he was in St. John and delivered a speech on the relation of the British and American democracies to the world and to each other. Mr. Fisher told a Times reporter this morning that news of Sir George's death came as a great shock to him. He was an interesting correspondent, and Mr. Fisher has a large sheaf of letters received from him from time to time. He said that when his son, Donald Fisher, was taken seriously ill while on service with the Canadian forces in France, Sir George went to his bedside and remained there until he was on the way to recovery. Mr. Fisher spoke highly of his kind nature and thoughtfulness for others.

IN POLICE COURT

Simon Gutterer was charged this morning in the police court with being drunk in Waterloo street, and also with doing damage to the extent of $48 to property of John O'Brien in Prince Edward street. He pleaded guilty to the first charge, but said he did not remember about the other one. Mr. O'Brien said that the accused had put his fist through a window in his pool room. The window was insured, but the insurance company had told him this morning that he would have to get it out of the man who broke it. He said he had no desire to prosecute the man, but he could not afford to lose the money. Sitting Magistrate Henderson said the breaking of windows came under a city-by-law and also under the criminal code, providing the breaking was malicious. Gutterer was fined $8 for being drunk and $20 or two months for breaking the window. The matter of payment for the window will be settled later.

Three men charged with drunkenness were fined $8 or two months in jail in the police court this morning. One young woman, arrested late last evening in Sydney street, on a charge of drunkenness, was remanded for inquiry.

FEAR MR. MARR HAS SUCCEUMBED IN THE WOODS

That is the View Today—Search Goes on and Volunteers Will be Welcomed—City to Assist.

The family and close friends of Henry G. Marr reject the theory that he met his death in the harbor. While they fear that he is no longer living, they believe his body will be found in the region of Rockwood Park and Sandy Point road. That was a favorite walk with him, and the family and friends accept as true the statements of three persons, one of whom saw him near Reed's Point on Thursday morning, another in City road, and another near the Sandy Point road, since each of the three knew Mr. Marr and would be able to recognize him. It is therefore felt that the whole area along Sandy Point road and the adjacent portion of the park should be gone over thoroughly, and it is hoped there will be no lack of volunteers. Those who have been conducting the search thus far feel the need of assistance, as they are fatigued with constant effort.

J. H. Marr says that his father's physical health was good enough to enable him to take a long walk, as not many days before he had walked five miles to a lake to fish, with apparently less fatigue than his companions. The theory is that under sudden mental stress he set vaguely out on an accustomed walk and was overcome by a stroke or weakness. John Thornton, commissioner of public safety, was authorized at a committee meeting of the city council this morning to employ means to assist friends of Mr. Marr in an effort to locate him. The extent to which this assistance will be given will be decided at the council meeting tomorrow, but meantime Commissioner Thornton will organize men to carry out a systematic grapping of Lily Lake and to search the territory in the vicinity of the locations in which Mr. Marr was seen on last Thursday.

The mayor expressed surprise that the matter had not been previously reported at City Hall. However, he said, every effort should be made by the city to endeavor to locate the missing man, and he suggested the plan on which the commissioner was authorized to proceed.

CIRCUS DAY IN FAIRVILLE

Two Side Show Patrons Demand Their 2 Cents Back—Kiddies Help the Orphans.

On Saturday afternoon a small circus visited Fairville and occupied a garden lot in Prospect street. The fence was gaily bedecked with flags and excitement demanded their money back, and the proprietors of the show were sold, and the barker at the various booths were conducted to a mysterious cage and shown a pair of brown kid gloves. They especially their money back, and the proprietors of the show sorrowfully had to give them back the two cents. All went well until well after four o'clock, when some older boys caused some annoyance. However, the circus was a great success, and the sum of $120 was realized. This amount will be turned over to the Protestant orphanage on the West Side for a candy treat. It is announced that the circus will be here again next year.

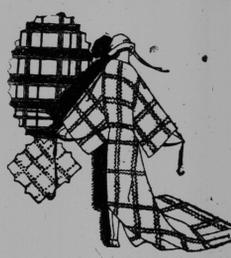

FRESHET DAMAGE AT RENFORTH

A stock of cordwood piled on the wharf at Renforth waiting transfer to the Imkekin of C. H. Peters' Sons, at Torryburn, was greatly depleted on Saturday, when the rising water lifted one section of it clear from the wharf and carried it away up river, to be spread along the shore between West and Rothessay. The men in charge of the kiln, on hearing of this, feared that the rest of the lot would probably follow, especially as the water was apparently getting higher, and they slung a boom around the two remaining sections of the pile. Yesterday morning, however, the boom was seen to be filled with floating logs, and only one pile was still rising above the top of the water. The tennis courts at Drury Cove are submerged now at high tide, after the members of the club had spent two weeks putting a smooth top surface on them. It is said that one part of the courts is two feet under water when the tide is highest.

The floats in front of the club house at Renforth, which were put out about two weeks ago in preparation for the rowing season, are also submerged and the runways to them have been lifted and put back in the club house in the fear that they might drift away.

MRS. JOHN H. FLOYD. The death of Mrs. Sarah D. Floyd, widow of John H. Floyd, occurred yesterday at her residence on the Black River road. Mrs. Floyd was of Loyalist descent, and had been a resident of the Black River road for sixty years. She is survived by three sons—John A. of Chelsea, Mass.; Ormond L. of Medford, Mass.; and Alonzo D. of Birmingham, Alabama; and two daughters—Mrs. A. D. McMillan of Chelsea, and Miss Martha Floyd at home. One brother, Arthur Hovibook of Middlebridge avenue, and two sisters, Mrs. J. Breen and Mrs. G. Kingston, all of this city, also survive, besides several great-grandchildren and one great, great-grandchild. Mrs. Floyd had reached the advanced age of ninety-three years. The funeral will take place from Chamberlain's undertaking parlors, with service at two o'clock, daylight time, tomorrow afternoon. Many old friends will regret to hear of Mrs. Floyd's death. She was a woman of fine character, highly esteemed by all her neighbors.
