ATHLETIC
Fairville Sports
More than 800 people attended the sports last evening held on Manawagonish road under the auspices of the Fairville Athletic Club. From before 7 o'clock, daylight time, the people began to wend their way to the starting point of the races in automobiles and teams, while pedestrians by the score including a number of ladies proceeded to the scene of the contest. Handsome and suitable prizes were awarded, the judges being Harry Tippet, Clarence Quinton, Reginald Baser, the announcer, William G. Wright, clerk of the course, Walter L. Collins and starter John Britney and W. A. Reed.

The horse races were between "Plain Jerry," driven by Fred Chittick and "Little One," driven by the owner, George Fulton. The contest was to be the best three out of five heats and the course was half a mile. "Little One" won in three straight. The time of the first heat was 1.10 1/2.
The second item was a bicycle race won by Neil McKinnon in two straight heats. The distance was one half mile. Joseph Hennessy was a close second in the second heat, McKinnon winning by about half the length of a bicycle wheel and making a very spectacular finish.
The third event was the 100 yard dash with Teddie McMurray in first place, Joseph McGovern second and Gordon Perry third.

The winners in the next event, the 800 yards dash were, 1st, Joseph McGovern; 2nd, Richard McLeod; 3rd, Guy Fox. This was the final of the contests for that occasion but the club is arranging for some more sports and expects to have a fine list of entries for the 24th of May when it plans on a big time. The races are open to the public and anyone may enter the contests, there being no admission fee and no collection of any kind.
The success of last evening's event assures the members of the club that they have the public behind them and a splendid summer of sport is anticipated through the future efforts of the club.

BOWLERS' BANQUET WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Two Hundred at Tables in Y. M. C. I. Last Night

Unique Plan of Decoration Makes Pretty Effect—Sport Matters Are Discussed and Prizes Presented

In the large gymnasium of the Y. M. C. I. last evening some 200 or more young men sat at six tastefully arranged tables, enjoyed a delicious menu served by the Catholic Girls' Guild, under the leadership of Mrs. F. J. Power, heard interesting speeches and excellent music and talked over the bowling championship tournament which has just been concluded.

Humphrey J. Sheehan, chairman of the physical committee, very ably presided. At his right and left sat Rev. W. M. Duke, Rev. C. P. Carleton and Frank White, representative of the A. A. U. When the toast list was reached the king was first honored and the program was then carried out as follows:

Selection by orchestra.
"Our friends from Maine." Proposed by Frank McCafferty, response by Cais and Bangor representatives.
Vocal solo, John O'Neill.
"Friends from our Sister Province." Proposed by L. A. Conlon, response by Mr. Murray of Amherst.

Selection by orchestra.
Presentation of house league cups by Rev. C. P. Carleton. These cups were won by the Sparrows of the Y. M. C. I. and were presented to the members as follows—Thomas J. Cosgrove, Frank Smith, Colin Chisholm, Richard Colgan, David Colgan, James McCurdy and Joseph Harrington. Mr. Cosgrove also won the high average cup and Mr. Harrington the single pin cup and E. Logan of the Autos the three-string cup. These latter were donated by Judge H. O. McInerney, James Kane and another friend of the Y. M. C. I.

Presentation of tournament prizes by W. J. Magee. These went to James Smith of Amherst, high string, 133; James McIntyre, of St. Peter's, high three strings, 824, and Mr. Morse of Bangor, high average, 95.9-21.

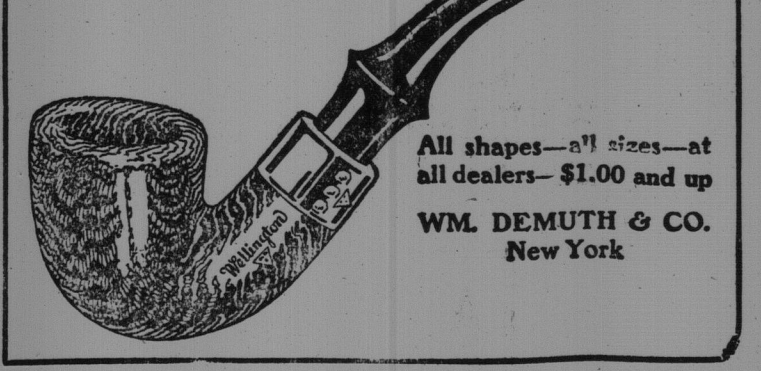

Vocal solo, M. Guarino.
Presentation of skating prizes by Frank White, representative A. A. U. These were won in the winter sports as follows—220 yards, 1st, W. Gibbon; 2nd, Joseph Dever; 440 yards, 1st, W. Gibbon; 2nd, Joseph Dever; 880 yards, 1st, G. McLellan; 2nd, Murray Bell. One mile, 1st, Murray Bell; 2nd, Gerald Tracey. Three miles, 1st, Gerald Tracey, 2nd, Murray Bell.
Toast—"Friends from Sister Cities."

Proposed by Dr. S. H. McDonald, response by Frederick and Moncton representatives.
Vocal solo, Gerald O'Neill.
Toast—"Our Local Friends." Proposed by P. B. McCafferty, responded to by Harry Black of Black's; Andrew Ramsey, Y. M. C. I.; Rev. Father Healy and John Haggerty, St. Peter's.
Presentation of Championship Pin to Black's team by Mr. Sheehan.
Toast—"The Ladies." Response by E. J. Henneberry.
God Save the King.
The musical programme was a very fine one. The Y. M. C. I. orchestra played various selections artistically and its leader, Bayard Currie, most ably filled the position of accompanist to the vocal soloists. Among these were Signor Guarino who sang two numbers, his glorious tenor voice ringing through the lofty room with very fine effect. He was given an ovation. John O'Neill sang two solos with excellent taste and Gerald O'Neill also contributed pleasingly to the programme.
In the speeches there were particular references to the high place of sportsmanship shown by all the boys during the tournament and all said that beyond doubt when the pin went back to Black's.

Alleys it went to the best team in the contest. Mr. Black and his men were warmly congratulated and there were good words as well for those who fought but did not win. The tournament was declared beyond doubt to have been the best ever contested since the cup was put into competition in 1908.
Other features of the speeches had reference to the need of an athletic field in St. John where our youth could enjoy outdoor sports with all the benefit that that meant. It was suggested that there be united action to the end that something along these lines be done.
Father Duke, just previous to the presentation of the pin to Black's, recalled the pin competition in future there had been organized a few days ago an executive committee to have control of arrangements between tournaments and generally promote the competition for the silver pin.
In presenting skating prizes to the young men who had won them in the recent ice sports, Frank White enlarged on the necessity for athletic grounds here; he also took occasion to congratulate the Y. M. C. I. on what it is doing and said that the institution was fortunate in having one of the best, if not the best, man on the American continent as athletic instructor—Joseph McNamara.
One of the notable hits of the evening

THE DEPOT BAND.

To the Editor of Evening Times-Star:

Sir—In a recent issue of the Financial Post an article by C. H. Cahoon, K. C., contains the timely advice that "to carry the burden of the present and prospective war debt, to provide a surplus out of which high wages may be maintained and invested capital suitably rewarded, every healthy man and woman in Canada must put forth increased and intelligently directed effort."
Correspondents to your paper have recently intimated that there are many members of the Depot Battalion Band who realize that they should be shown consideration and granted the opportunity to return to civil life after "yearning on" since 1915 as bandmen. Originally the 116th Band, these men of various occupations should be given an early opportunity to pursue their respective trades and professions.
Is it feasible, five months after the signing of the armistice, and their duties lessened considerably, that a band of twenty-eight members (the king's regulations allow twenty) is maintained to be in attendance upon the arrival of an average of two trains a week? Is it necessary to retain twenty-eight able-bodied men in the army to provide music for church parades consisting of from twenty-five to thirty-five each Sunday?
Perhaps the public is not aware that for the maintenance of this organization an expenditure of $2,400 a month is required. Applying business principles to this question, could not the same results be attained at much less expense? Would not a civilian band consider themselves financially well provided for should they receive $400 each for two engagements a week?
If "thrift" means what the word implies, let us start right here. Is it reasonable that men who are desirous to direct their efforts intelligently should be compelled to sacrifice such opportunities? Could not conditions be so adjusted that the band be reduced and when necessity demands the presence of a military band these men as part of Canada's army would be at the station to assist in a welcome to the returning

Gen. Pershing was astonished to receive last month from a New York vaudeville manager a five-figure offer to deliver short daily war talks in the vaudeville houses throughout America. The general did not reply to this telegram, but a fortnight went by. Then the vaudeville man wired again:—"Have you entertained my proposition?"

"No," Gen. Pershing wired back. "Your proposition has entertained me."
