"Sleep tight!
It's a hot night
But Polar Cub will keep you cool!"

Cool the moment you turn it on! Deliciously, wonderfully cool! So cool you will fall asleep on the hottest night as easily as in winter weather!

Polar Cub, busily perched beside your bed, on your desk at the office, in the kitchen—anywhere, wherever you are—will blow a refreshing arctic breeze your way.

And it costs only $7.50—a regular little electric whirlwind for just $7.50, equipped with eight foot cord and plug. The bill for running it is next to nothing. Two speeds too—a big breeze and a bigger breeze—

So why toss and turn and lie awake these hot nights? Why sweeter in the kitchen? Why endure the dead heat of heavy office air?

Let Polar Cub keep you cool. Set it anywhere. Hang it on the wall. Adjust the breeze to any angle.

Buy one today. Turn on the breeze and enjoy its grateful coolness all summer long.

HERE FROM RUSSIA

Four of Original Members of 23rd Battery Raised in Fredericton

Four of the original members of the 23rd Field Battery which was raised in Fredericton in the fall of 1914 and left Canada in February, 1915, arrived in the city last evening from the steamer Carmania. They are Bdr. Karl A. Walker, Gunner C. B. Burden and Bdr. Charles Colwell, D. C. M., of Fredericton, and Gunner Fred Meehan, M. M. All these soldiers on their arrival in England were transferred to the First Divisional Artillery in France and saw service on the western front before returning to England as casualties. When the expeditionary force was being mobilized they volunteered for this service and have been in northern Russia ever since. All four wear the ribbon of the 1914-15 star and Bombardier Walker has been decorated with the Russian Cross of St. George.

Gunner Burden and Bombardier Colwell were former U. N. B. students and Bombardier Walker is well known in the city and Fredericton who will extend them a hearty welcome.

It is worthy of note that it is only one month and two days since this party left Archangel and of this time ten days were spent on leave in England, so that the direct trip from Russia to St. John consumed only twenty-two days.

Price is a Consideration But Not the Deciding Factor in Buying Furniture

Regardless of price, no article is a good value if it does not offer years of perfect service. Nor does price alone determine the length of service any articles may give.

Quality of materials—cabinet-work and finish are the only factors that make for perfect satisfaction.

A complete Home Outfit furnished with good furniture and rugs will have the same beauty of appearance after ten years of use as it had the first day it was delivered.

A Home Outfit of that quality does not necessarily mean a great expenditure of money.

Our stocks are so complete that you can select beautiful home furnishings at any price you wish to pay—from the least expensive to the most pretentious pieces—and regardless of price every article is guaranteed.

When you can buy good furniture priced as low as possible, consistent with quality, it is decidedly to your best interests.

Truly, we are the Home of Home Outfits, for we probably sell more of them than any other store in St. John.
