Further Evidence of Oak Hall's Commanding Position as the Premier Haberdashery Shop for Men in Saint John

Earl & Wilson, makers of the highest grade in shirts and collars America, have given us the exclusive selling right of their product in Saint John. In placing their agencies in New York and other large American cities they only give to the swellest and most exclusive Haberdashers, and we feel fortunate indeed to be able to offer their product to our trade.

Here is what they say in a recent "ad" about shirt construction:
E. & W. Constructive Standardization in shirt making, means cutting various textile fabrics in accordance with shrinkages varying from one-half to four inches in length and width, and standardizing not only neck measures, as in the usual run of Ready-to-Wear Shirts, but standardizing bust, yoke, belt, arm holes and sleeve lengths as well. Few manufacturers pay any attention to constructive standardization.

E. & W. Shirts are standardized by the E. & W. method of shirt building which eliminates uncertainty of fit whether made from percale, madras, soft mercerized cloth, flannel or silk.

We have just received and are now making a fine showing of these superior shirts and collars, and we would particularly invite the man who is looking for shirt comfort to come and examine these goods.

A dispatch from Ottawa announces the completion of the agreement between the C. P. R. and the federal government for a lease of the ground at a nominal rent with the proviso that the government is ever put in commission the government may take over the elevator at cost price. Work on the elevator will commence as soon as the site is adequately protected.

GOOD WATER FOUND AT COURTENAY BAY

Several Wells Bored and Other Property Owners Follow Suit

The well boring operations at Courtenay Bay have proved so successful that a large number of property owners are having artesian wells sunk to secure their own supply of water. So far wells have been bored at Fish Lake Place, at Norton Griffiths & Co's office and at their engineer's residence, and at the residence of the government inspector. Work is now in progress at Doherty & McDonald's office, and several of the permanent residences of the company are also having wells bored. A plentiful supply of excellent water has been secured in each case.

NEED OF PRECAUTIONS

River Man Writes of the Motor Boats and Issues a Warning

Editor Evening Times:
Sir—Your editorial note on the overloading of motor boats worthy of special attention, as most of the open boats, which are the most liable to be swamped in a sea, seem to have an ambition to carry as many people as can be crowded into them. It is a great wonder that a Titanic disaster of small scale has not occurred on Grand Bay when a good breeze was blowing. The majority of these open boats do not carry a dinghy, and moreover, very few have any life boats or preservers. Should one of these boats fill they would be practically no chance for any one on board.

Very few of the boats on the river carry lights at night and this is another great source of danger. Fortunately collisions have been rare, but there have been some. Many accidents are probably due to the fact that there is a fatal accident.

Many residents along the river think that efficient mufflers, as on a still night or day the exhaust can be heard for miles, disturbing the quiet for which they go to the country.

I enclose a copy of the law governing motor boats in the United States. There is an agitation to make this law much more stringent, and I understand that it is probable that something similar will be enacted in Canada.

Yours,
RIVERMAN.

PARADE OF WORKING HORSES FOR OLD HOME WEEK HERE

Some ladies and gentlemen interested in humane work have been trying to bring about during Old Home Week an exhibit of the working horses of the city in their working conditions. For the last six years there has been held an annual exhibition of this character in New York under control of the New York Humane League for Animals of which Mrs. James Thayer is president.

This year it was held on Declaration Day and was very successful. More than 1,000 entries were made, apparently a couple of thousand horses competed, and many blue, red, white and other colored ribbons were awarded as were silver medals and brass wheels, the latter being a distinguishing mark of high value. The money prizes were limited in number and in value. A great many of the leading citizens of New York contributed to the funds of the show, and more than 100 persons were engaged in the judging. Of course the thoroughness of the New York exhibit is largely the result of experience.

The St. John teamsters are to hold a big meeting tonight to discuss the matter.

JURY EMPANELLED

Linehan.
