In order to accommodate evening shoppers Emerson & Fisher will keep their store open until 9 p. m. each Friday during June, July and August. This store is, of course, closed at 1 p. m. sharp on Saturday during these months.

D. McArthur, King street, has received another small consignment of those pretty little enamel charms which, in the form of an album, contain views of St. John. The views shown are City Hall, post office, custom house, union depot, Martello tower and bridges and falls. The charms are very dainty and form one of the best souvenirs to be had in St. John.

Permentation is a spontaneous heating similar to that which takes place in a haystack. This process is the distinguishing feature of Tiger (as opposed to green) tea manufacture, and upon its successful accomplishment depends much of the character of the Tiger Tea.

Two hours is about the time occupied in fermentation.

Notice to Advertisers.

Advertisers who wish changes in their "ad" in Saturday's STAR must send their copy to the office early Friday afternoon as it is impossible to make changes Saturday morning.

MORE OPERA HOUSE IMPROVEMENTS.

The Opera House smoking room has been removed from the old quarters to the large room at one time occupied by Messrs. Taylor & Dockrill. The room has been comfortably fitted up and is a big improvement on the old quarters. The Opera House management have men at work cleaning up the room previously used as a smoking room, which they intend to fit up for the use of their lady patrons. When completed it will be a valuable acquisition to the house, and will have filled a long felt want. Mirrors and in fact everything dear to the feminine heart will be provided in abundance.

THE INVASION OF HAMPTON.

The quiet parish of Hampton will be invaded tomorrow by visiting St. John baseballists.

The artists of the sphere and stick comprise teams from the Messrs. Barnes & Co. and Schofield Bros. The players will show the Hamptonites "baseball that is baseball" at the invitation of the Messrs. Schofield Bros. George Barnes will accompany the contingent of diamond knights on the noon train. The Messrs. Schofield Bros. will furnish refreshments and appetizers for the baseballists.

"Grover" Watson, of the Barnes & Co. staff will officiate as umpire. That work will be well attended to, as "Grover" is an old New England league umpire.

If Monday's papers contain any sensational baseball stunts the gentle reader can lay it to the careful training of the types and the paperweights.

KERRIGAN'S SHROUD

Gets Him Into Trouble on the West Side.

Business in the police court was quite brisk this morning. Sarah Moran was given two months to wear off the influence of an overdose imbibed on Sheffield street. Stanley Brown who was found sprawling on Mill street will reside in jail for ten days.

James Kerrigan was arrested on suspicion of stealing a shroud and other hepen rope from a vessel lying at South Rodney wharf, Carleton, and was remanded until two o'clock this afternoon. Kerrigan said that he found the rope in his row boat and was about to throw it into the harbor as worthless when he changed his mind and sold it to a junkman on this side for a few cents. Other witnesses will be called against him this afternoon.

Three youngsters, Charlie Alcorn, Robert Evans and Eddie Herne, reported on the 10th inst., for placing stones on the car track near the corner of Wentworth and St. James streets, answered to the charge this morning, but after a sound lecturing from the magistrate were allowed to go. His honor told the boys who appeared to be impressed with their situation, that their offence was one likely to subject them to a long term in the reformatory and warned them that if they appeared again on a similar charge that is where they should surely land.

Frank Courtney, Herbert Price and Herbert Eagles were reported for following the calling of surveyors without license. They proved that they were not surveyors at all but merely tailors and were allowed to go.

A well known yachtsman and fisherman came to town the other day with a splendid string of fish. He was very proud of his catch and decided to distribute a number of the fish among his friends. He selected a choice lot and engaged a small boy to carry them. The lad trudged along behind the sportsman and every now and then was the centre of an admiring crowd. By two and three the fish were presented to friends and gradually the load lightened. When the vicinity of King Square was reached there remained but a few of the speckled beauties, and these the boy thought should belong to him. He had a vigorous appetite for trout, and it looks now very much as if that longing had been thoroughly satisfied.

The fisherman met several friends in front of the market, told them of his good luck and looked around for the boy and fish. Both were missing and at last reports the kid was making record time for the vicinity of York Point.

The above paragraph, which appeared in the St. John papers a few days ago, is calling forth much comment from the proprietors of the different steam laundries in this city. They feel that such legislation as proposed in the bill mentioned is very unfair, and while as yet no definite action has been taken by them in opposition to the bill, there is considerable talk and something may come of it in the near future.

A FISHERMAN'S LOSS.

THE TWO ORPHANS.

Kate Claxton Scored a Marked Success Last Evening.

Last evening at the Opera House was unusually tireome, not through any fault in the play but on account of the continued delay in starting. The steamer St. Croix on which the company came to St. John did not arrive until twenty minutes past eight and it was half-past nine before the curtain went up. For many this spoiled the evening, but the audience exhibited patience in a degree which was highly complimentary to Miss Claxton and the members of her company.

When finally the performance started it went with an intensity of power and earnestness which in all the stronger situations called forth hearty and prolonged applause. Miss Claxton was excellent and while the members of the supporting cast are all of more or less recognized ability her work far outshone them all. As Louise, the blind girl, she did splendid work, the scene outside the church of St. Sulpice being most effective. The other members of the company are good and presented the old and popular play in a manner which will make it more of a favorite in St. John than ever.

The presentation of Bootless Baby which has been announced for tomorrow night has been postponed until Miss Claxton's return engagement on Aug. 3, 4 and 5. The Two Orphans will be presented tonight and tomorrow night.

THE MARKET.

The Country Market Well Supplied—The Fish Market Satisfactory.

The market will be well supplied tomorrow with prices about the same as they have been for the past week. Choice beef is bringing 12 cents and 9 cents per pound, while country beef is quoted at a slightly lower price. Chickens, fowl and turkey are a rather scarce commodity but a good supply is expected for tomorrow. Chickens are quoted at from seventy-five cents to one dollar per pair, turkeys at from 14 to 20 cents per pound and fowl at one dollar. Veal is plenty and brings from 5 to 7 cents; lamb by the quarter is selling at from 75 cents to $1.50. Butter is easier than it has been for some time, good tub butter being fairly plentiful at from 18 to 20 cents per pound.

The fish market is flourishing, the demand is good and the supply sufficient. Salmon is quoted retail at from 14 to 22 cents per pound; shad, 10 to 15 cents each; mackerel, 12 to 15 cents; halibut, 10 to 12 cents; gaspareux, 12 cents per dozen and cod and haddock 4 to 5 cents per pound.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN?

This is Friday—Friday, when all things said by the superstitious to conspire together to make things unpleasant for one; Friday, when it is unlucky for a ship to leave port or for a piece of work to be begun. It is true that Friday comes once in every seven days, and that every Friday is to be viewed with fear and trembling, but today will surely prove a more faithful one than usual. Out in the park there are thirteen prisoners, working away as if they had been accustomed to it all their lives. They want the day to pass quickly and tomorrow to come, when it will not be Friday, and when, perchance, another recruit will be added to their ranks. For to them the omens appear dark and mysterious, and they are afraid something will happen soon, because there are thirteen of them—on Friday.

S. S. LAKE SUPERIOR.

It is expected that the S. S. Lake Superior will be stripped in such a manner that it will be able to float the portions further up the beach. They say that when they get through with the work not a trace of the steamer will be left on the shore. Every day team loads of strange looking material, pipes and metal scrap of all kinds may be seen passing through the city streets on the way to the Portland Rolling Mills. Early this morning the sound of hammers and falling plates could be distinctly heard up as far as King Square.

James Downie leaves this evening for a week's visit to his home in Ontario.

ST. MICHAEL'S LAUNDRY.

St. John Laundrymen Feeling Sore Over Unfair Competition.

OTTAWA, June 8.—Hon Mr. Fitzpatrick introduced a bill respecting the Good Shepherd reformatory in St. John. This will enable the courts in St. John to sentence Roman Catholic women to that institution.

The above paragraph, which appeared in the St. John papers a few days ago, is calling forth much comment from the proprietors of the different steam laundries in this city. They feel that such legislation as proposed in the bill mentioned is very unfair, and while as yet no definite action has been taken by them in opposition to the bill, there is considerable talk and something may come of it in the near future.

The laundrymen claim that they conduct establishments in this city under heavy expense. Their taxes, water rates and wages run up into the thousands every week, and they feel that any legislation as proposed would be injurious to their business. They think it is not fair competition for a charitable institution to receive government support in any way, and while they feel unwilling to do anything that may be considered injurious to a charitable institution such as the Home of the Good Shepherd, or St. Michael's Laundry, as it is called, they cannot refrain from making some complaint against the action that has been taken. One of the laundrymen said to the Star last evening: "The work at St. Michael's Laundry is undoubtedly injuring our business. A customer who once sends his laundry to that institution sends it always, for their work is so excellent that seldom, if ever, are complaints received. Because there are in St. Michael's Laundry as supervisors quite a number of sisters of charity, who conscientiously oversee every piece of work done, and who feel responsible for everything that is turned out, the work cannot stand such supervision. We are as careful as possible, but we cannot have an overseer for every employee, and while we give as much care as is possible and as our business will stand, it is impossible to avoid complaints.

"We are under heavy expense in conducting our business, bona fide wages, rent of buildings, running machinery and all other incidental details, while the St. Michael's Laundry, being a charitable institution, is free from rent and taxation, and at the same time secure unpaid labor. At the present time, quite a number of female prisoners from the police court are sent for more or less lengthy terms to St. Michael's Laundry, and I believe that that institution has all the work it can possibly handle. More than this, if the number of employees were to be increased by the sending there of other prisoners, I believe that the amount of work done by the laundry would be increased in proportion. We naturally do not feel like opposing the work of any charitable institution, but the steps now being taken to furnish additional free labor to St. Michael's Laundry are not fair business competition.

MRS. M. M. COSMAN DEAD.

The death occurred this morning at five o'clock of Mrs. M. M. Cosman, relict of the late Jacob Cosman of Kingston, Kings county, deceased, who was a most estimable lady, has resided for some time past with her son at No. 7 Chubb Street. Mrs. Cosman leaves four sons, G. S. Cosman of this city at whose residence she died, John D. and J. E. of Rossland, B. C., and Forest of Newton, Kings county; also two daughters, Mrs. A. E. Henderson of this city and Mrs. Fenwick Lamb of Perry's Point. The funeral service will be held Saturday evening and the remains will be taken to Kingston on Sunday for interment.

LOTS OF RICE.

The Depot Sparrows Are Living High These Days.

On an average the Canadian people eat five pounds of rice per head annually. A local statistician says that owing to the small Asiatic population in the province, the quantity sold in New Brunswick is not more than one pound per head. Rice is most used in the cities, and perhaps thirty or forty tons per year may be retailed out in St. John. Of this it is computed by dealers that, one year with another, from two tons and three quarters to three tons and a quarter is thrown at newly married couples. In the months of May and June a slightly increased activity is noticed in the rice market, and during these months something over a ton of rice is distributed on the streets, in bridal carriages, in the folds and pockets of travelling garments, in the lodging places of going-away buns, and especially on the station and car platforms. Perhaps a washtub might have been filled with rice scattered about the station floor on certain days this week. The place looked like an uncovered area after a snow squall. There are large colonies of sparrows camped under the rafters of the depot. They have learned to recognize a wedding party at sight, and when it comes they prepare for the marriage feast. The supply is so far above the demand in these days that the depot sparrows have sent out to the highways and byways compelling other birds to come in the elevator birds and those which have their habitation in the freight house and all about town find abundance of food. And after all it is reported that additional human help has been required to clean up the station building because of the weddings and the rice.

CANADA IN TRINIDAD.

Rev. W. S. Whittier, who is well known to Presbyterian congregations in this city, recently delivered an interesting lecture at Victoria Institute, Port of Spain, Trinidad. The subject was "Our Sister, Canada." The lecture which was fully reported in the Mirror, presented the Dominion in a most attractive light. Dr. Whittier, who is now a resident of Trinidad, is a member of the committee to distribute relief to those wounded on "Mourful Monday." That is the name given to the day on which rioters burned the government offices, and soldiers fired indiscriminately among the crowd and in the streets. There are many wounded still in the hospital, and several will be disabled for life. The Mirror says that not one of these was in any way concerned in the riot. All these were men who had lost their arm or leg while on duty during their military work. One girl who has lost her arm was struck with a bullet while bringing her employer's children home from school, another while returning from an errand on the drug store.

The story of this shooting was told to the Star by T. S. Simms, who was an eye-witness of the tragedy, and of the burning of the Red House.

CHILD'S SUDDEN DEATH.

A very sad death occurred in the North End, between nine and ten o'clock this morning. Little Irvine Atherton, the four-year-old son of E. R. and Bessie T. Atherton, of Sandon, B. C., was taken with convulsions and in spite of all that could be done, died in a few minutes. The death occurred at the residence of Joseph Irvine, 61 Harrison street. Mrs. Atherton is a sister of Mr. Irvine and is now in St. John on a visit. Mr. Atherton is in Sandon and has been notified of the death of his child.
