Art Finnamore and Tommy Rutter tied in a forty yards dash in 4 1/2 seconds and were then called to run off an extra lap. After several false starts Rutter got away, but Finnamore claimed that he beat the pistol and did not start.

Rutter beat Finnamore on the start but the latter overhauled his opponent when they got going and appeared to beat him to the tape by inches only.

ANOTHER NEW HAMPSHIRE MURDER.

Hooksett, N. H., May 24.—A bullet wound in the right temple and a hole or depression in the left of the skull made apparently by a blow from a blunt instrument were disclosed by the autopsy today on the body of a man found yesterday in Himmans Pond. The body was weighted with a heavy piece of granite, which had apparently been hewn specially so that the rope would round it would not become detached. At the other end of the rope was a hook and a dozen times around the man's waist.

The body was in an advanced stage of decomposition and had evidently been in the water for months. It was that of a man six feet tall who probably weighed 200 pounds and was perhaps 60 years old. Labels of Manchester clothing were found in his clothing which was black and of good texture, apparently quite new. In the pockets were a Boston and Maine rebate check dated October 1, 1908, the punches showing that it was used between Manchester and Hooksett, and $3 cents in change.

Himmans Pond where the body was found is a deserted swamp pool rarely visited.

SOME OF THE CROWDS ARE CHARGED BY THE POLICE

New York, May 24.—Police interference blocked two attempts by Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman yesterday to hold meetings in Lexington Hall, No. 109 East 116th street. While the first gathering in the morning was dispersed without much difficulty, the crowd gathered in the afternoon was so unruly that forty policemen charged them.

It was Miss Goldman's first appearance as a lecturer since she was lionized at a fashionable social affair in Orange last week and she did not hesitate to display her anger with the New York police, who treated her with less tenderness than that she had received in the New Jersey town. The trouble culminated in the arrest of a girl and a man. The young woman, who gave her name as Rebecca Edelson, twenty-one years old, a teacher, living at No. 210 East Thirtieth street, displayed a ticket and she insisted that she be allowed to pass. Whereupon, Policeman Bourgeois says, the man says he is Leopold Bergman, fifty-three years old, an agent, at No. 9 Water street, attacked him.

Both were locked up on a charge of disorderly conduct and Captain Walsh, of the East 126th street station, deciding that matters were becoming too warm, gave the order to clear the street.

It was learned at Police Headquarters last Saturday that Berkman had leased Lexington Hall for May 9, 16, 23 and 30 for Miss Goldman's lectures. Meetings were held the first two Sundays without the knowledge of the police, but yesterday Policeman Ratsky was despatched to see that Miss Goldman did not speak.

When Miss Goldman appeared Ratsky stepped upon the platform and spoke to her in a low voice. After looking at him angrily she took Berkman's arm and left the building, first calling out that she would speak at two in the afternoon.

For the afternoon meeting the police gathered in force, with orders to see that no one entered the hall. In a short time a crowd of about a thousand persons was vociferously telling the police what they thought about it. Neither Miss Goldman nor Berkman put in an appearance.

Miss Goldman has been scheduled to address the Sunrise Club on the "Hypocrisy of Puritanism" at a dinner in the Cafe Boulevard tonight and it was reported yesterday that some of the members of the organization had complained about the choice of the speaker.

Rice said that he had worked his way to Meriden, and that for two days he had had nothing to eat, so he came back. He disappeared after several attempts were made last Friday night to wreck trains on the Fitchburg division of the Boston and Maine Railroad by putting sleepers on the tracks. The police say Rice has been reading "Races" and another boy, Kenneth Foster, is also in custody, and the Somerville and Cambridge police expect to make a third arrest within a few days.
