

HARMONY
E JARRING NOISESIs Possible to Subdue Motor
Sounds, and Bring Relief to

Notes should always be in bass and vibrations designed by the use of wood or aluminum. Noises from neighboring apartments, which he considered, as especially nerve destroying, could, he said, easily be made unnoticeable by the use of a small, low-voltage electric motor of varied resonance placed in a box, the motor to be started up whenever the neighboring noises become annoying. Vibrations from the symphony, do not irritate by other outside noises. He suggested that it was the duty of the Government, out of regard to future generations, to introduce restrictive measures before the nerves of parents are finally ruined.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

The C. P. Steamship Limited liner Sicilian arrived at Partridge Island last evening from London and Antwerp. She had no passengers on this trip, but has more than 1,500 tons of general cargo. She will inaugurate the service between St. John and the West Indies.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

Notes at a speed of nearly eight miles an hour.

FOR WOMEN

Reflections of a Bachelor Girl

By HELEN ROWLAND

Marriage is the point at which a man stops saying, "How soon can I see you, again?" and begins saying, "I got here as soon as I could!"

A WOMAN'S praise may go to a man's head and irritate it a little, but her criticism goes straight to his heart and contracts it, so that he can never again hold quite the same amount of love for her.

After he has shimmied through college, and jammed through a few years of love and flirtation, it is awfully hard for a man to settle down into the steady old-book-of matrimony.

Keeping the hands in hot water may make them cool and tender; but keeping a husband in hot water merely makes him callous.

When a man finds himself heading straight for temptation, does he always cry: "Get thee behind me, Satan!" Of course! "Get thee behind me, Satan—and give me a shove!"

Poker and love are two games of bluff, in which a cool head and plenty of nerve are vastly more important than science and enthusiasm.

A girl's greatest trouble, nowadays, is not in getting her parents to consent to her engagement, but in getting them to control their eagerness and act a little more reluctant about it.

The only person who might have given some really practicable rules for success in matrimony seems to be the only person who never did—the Marquis of Queensberry.

Ah yes, Diana, platonic friendship is a perfectly lovely thing; but most men would rather have a half-hearted flirtation than a whole-hearted chum, any day.

If you want to learn about life, don't ask a divorcee of forty; the flapper has put her in the infant class and is giving her lessons in words of one syllable.

(Copyright, 1921, by The Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate.)

Household Hints Have You This Habit?

By Margaret Morrison.

Cranberry Salad.
2 cups firm jellied cranberries.
1-4 cup chopped nut meats.
3 cups finely cut celery or apples.
1 cup shredded lettuce.
3-4 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing of choice.

6 stuffed olives out into rings.
The cranberry jelly can be put into molds to harden or cut into 1-2 inch cubes. Put lettuce on individual plates or large salad plates, the molded or sliced cranberries in put in center the finely cut celery around the cranberries; cover with mayonnaise, then sprinkle with nut meats and garnish with cut olives. This makes an exceptionally nice looking salad. If cranberries are needed in small quantities, cut up and served immediately.

Spiced Prunes Make a Good Salad.
1 pound prunes.
1-2 cup syrup.
1-2 cup vinegar.
1-2 cup sugar.
1-2 cup water.

Wash the prunes in warm water and cover with the hot spiced syrup, and let them stand overnight. In morning put on fire and bring to boiling point very slowly. Cool and bring to boil a second time, put in glass jar for future use. The syrup is made by mixing all ingredients in saucepan and boiling 10 minutes.

Thousand Island Salad Dressing.
1-2 cup of olive oil.
Juice of 1-2 lemons.
1 teaspoon grated onion.
1 tablespoon chopped parsley.
8 sliced olives.
8 cooked carrots.
1-2 teaspoon salt.
1-2 teaspoon paprika.
1-2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.
1-2 teaspoon mustard.

Remove shells from chestnuts and cook in boiling salted water until soft; then cool and cut in thin slices. Put all the ingredients in a pint glass jar, cover, and shake until smooth and slightly thickened. Serve on south-east lettuce, cut in quarters, and has been carefully washed and drained.

Cheese Straws for Salads.
1 cup grated sharp cheese.
1 cup flour.
1 rounded teaspoon baking powder.
2 tablespoons shortening.
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.
1-2 teaspoon salt.
Dash paprika.
1 egg.
1-4 cup milk.

Sift flour, salt and baking powder into bowl; add cheese and mix lightly with fork. Then add the shortening and rub lightly until well mixed. Beat the egg with two tablespoons milk and Worcestershire sauce and add. If not enough to moisten, add a little more milk so the mixture will hold together. Put on floured board, roll out a 1-4 inch thick, cut in strips 1-4 inch wide and bake 8 to 10 minutes.

P. S.—A novel way is to make a ring around the side of a dollar, then put 1-2 dozen straws thru each ring.

Chicken Mousse.
One cup of hot chicken stock, yolks of three eggs, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one tablespoon sugar, one tablespoon cold water, one-half cup cooked chicken (the white meat only) makes a prettier dish, one-half cup blanched almonds, one cup of heavy whipping cream, a few grains of paprika. Beat the yolks slightly, add the seasoning, pour gradually over the yolks the hot stock. Cook over water until the mixture thickens, add the almonds, softened in a tablespoon of cold water. When the gelatin dissolves in the hot mixture, strain and add to the chicken and almonds, which should be finely chopped. Add the salt and paprika.

Solving Inventors

By New York Girl

(By Christine McKenzie.)

Mr. Edison has a rival in a young woman inventor, Miss Beulah Louise Henry of New York, formerly of Memphis, Tenn. Miss Henry's most recent invention is an umbrella with adjustable covers. One of its advantages is that the owner can have an umbrella to match a variety of gowns or suits. Another is that it will obstruct the intentions of those almost-minded people who make a practice of going about picking up strange umbrellas, because this one is so constructed that the cover can be removed and laid away with hat and gloves until its owner is ready to go out again. Miss Henry has also invented a vacuum ice cream freezer that is decorative enough to be brought to the table and free of the mussiness of old-fashioned freezers. A handbag with half a dozen adjustable covers is another of Miss Henry's inventions.

This young woman is not the kind of inventor that secludes herself from society that she may work in solitude. She thinks that is the worst way in the world to look for ideas. Besides, she likes life too well. Her inspirations for new inventions come, she explained, when she is having a gay time at dinner parties or dancing or at the theatre.

"The solution of the snapper that fastens the corners of the umbrella to the frame came one day when I was preparing to go to a matinee with my mother," she recalled. "That snapper had worried me for a long time. The biggest umbrella men in the country said it couldn't be done. Of course I did not believe them, because when I start out to do a thing I usually manage to get it done some time. I was putting my gloves on when the snapper in all its details visualized itself against a green drapery. That ended the theatre party. Mother wanted to know if I was ill, but I told her it was only the snapper and I asked her to excuse me because I just had to sketch it out on paper before I should forget. Now I have these snappers patented—also the little steel pinners that fasten the seams to the frame.

"I cannot make up my mind whether it is a drawback or an advantage to be so utterly ignorant of mechanics as I am. I know nothing about mechanical terms and I am afraid I do make it rather difficult for the draftsman to whom I explain my ideas, but in the factories where I am known they are exceedingly patient with me because they seem to have a lot of faith in my inventions. I have not the luxury of being paid in four different countries and I am president of two newly incorporated companies."

Miss Henry is the daughter of Col. Walter Richard Henry, a well-known figure in the U. S. Shipping Co. One day the manager wanted a man to put in charge of the big new Boston branch. Gus, who was a good-looking chap that made fine impressions, was suggested, and the manager was quite ready to try him out. I don't know Boston," began Gus. "I'm afraid I don't, and the manager, who had no time to fool, took someone else.

"But he certainly didn't do me wrong on the weak spot in Augustus Little's make-up was the town dinner for the Armistice for 'our own' general war coming down from the capital to speak, and the governor's wife, who knew that Gus was the only man among us that had been to college, was all for sending him. I don't think of honor at table. When Gus looked scared to death and said that his French accent wasn't a bit good and that he was sure the general wouldn't be interested in talking to him, the governor's wife told him he was probably right—that no one wanted to talk to a man with an 'inferiority complex'.

"I've always been interested in Gus Little, and one day when I happened to be introduced to one of these wrong-headed mind doctors I asked him what the governor's wife had meant by 'inferiority complex.' As I do it out 'inferiority complex' is the habit of going round telling yourself and everyone else what a poor worm you are. Gus was so busy thinking about his unworthiness that he couldn't put any elbow grease into improvements that might have won Susan and Success. And the dumbest part about it all is that after a while everyone begins to take you at your word."

Have you this habit?

Here's Your Black Leather Lady Gentle!

FOUND—Black leather lady's pocketbook on Dolphin street, between Division street and D'Arcy Hill avenue. Call 1617 Division street.—Want ad.

Place the bowl in ice water and stir till thick. Then fold in the beaten cream, put in a melon mold and chill for two hours in ice and salt.

Chocolate Pudding.
Ingredients: One quart milk, one-third cup cornstarch, two eggs, half a cup powdered sugar, a quarter teaspoon salt, two ounces Baker's Cocoa, premium No. 1 chocolate, and half a cup granulated sugar. Method: Mix cornstarch with one-half cup cold milk. Scald remaining milk, with chocolate and one-half cup sugar, and add cornstarch mixture gradually while stirring constantly, and cook fifteen minutes. Beat eggs until light, and add gradually, sugar and salt. Stir into hot mixture and cook ten minutes. Pour into individual molds, first dipped in cold water, and chill thoroughly. Remove from molds to serving-dish, arranging in the form of a circle. Pile in centre whipped cream, sweetened and flavored with vanilla.

IF LOSING LOOKS OR STRENGTH READ THIS CAREFULLY.

Once you were robust, bright and happy. Today you are dull, worried, failing in vitality and appearance. Just when you should be at your best you're played out and need a cleansing medicine. Get the right remedy and your blood will redouble and your spirits will soon return, and you'll be yourself again. You should use Dr. Hamilton's Pills—a truly wonderful medicine. It drives away head-aches, and weariness, lifts the load from your liver, tones up the stomach, puts you on your feet in no time. Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills and water, the result, in a week, you'll feel like new. All dealers, 25c, or The Cataraugus Co., Montreal.

Daily Fashion Hint

SPONSORED BY PARIS

The simple tendency of the mode in sports coats is charmingly illustrated in this design in brown angora cloth. The large collar is lapped and buttoned high at the neck, though it may be rolled with the fronts of the coat, if preferred. The two-piece cut sleeves are finished with deep cuffs of contrasting material. Medium size requires 2 1/2 yards 34-inch material, with 3/4 yards 36-inch lining.

The Homemaker

A man may be happy in many places, but he is content in only one—his home.

Comb your hair to suit your face, says the beauty specialist.

If you have a large, protruding nose, balance its size by a fairly large, loose knot at the back of the head.

If you have a small, insignificant nose, place the knot quite high on the back of the head.

If you have a large nose and a nicely rounded head you can draw the hair down to the knot on the nape of the neck.

If the line of the back of the head is flat, build it out by putting a knot of hair back there, no matter what shape the nose may be.

If you have hollow cheeks, bring the hair out over the ears and part of the cheeks. This softens and makes the face seem rounder.

If your face is round and chubby, draw the hair back to show the ear, but do not let it too flat against the head or it will make the face seem flatter.

If your face is long, bring the hair down over the forehead. If your face is short and round, show all of the forehead.

Old English Initialing.

The Old English is probably the most popular of all letters, showing judgment by the constant requests for it. An initial beautifully embroidered in Old English script, and this perfection will come only with some practice.

Initial letters should be first outlined in a close-running stitch, then the spaces filled in with a chain or other padding stitch. Where a running stitch is used, the stitch should be longer on the upper side, and the chain or padding stitch should be shorter on the lower side, thus creating a curved or rounded surface when finished.

The padding stitches must all be on the right side, having the stitches that come to the left side as small as possible so as to keep the wrong side flat.

The embroidery should be done in a frame, and the stitch is a simple over-and-over, taken evenly, all close together, always running at right angles to the padding and taken as close together as is possible without overlapping.

Letters are sometimes outlined with the over-and-over stitch and the enclosed spaces filled with the seed stitch, but there is nothing more beautiful than the plain "flat" embroidery work if properly done.

Creole Cookery.

Creole Shin of Beef—This is an old Southern recipe and is delicious either hot or cold. Wash four pounds of shin of beef, rub with salt and paprika (three-quarters of a teaspoonful of salt and half a teaspoonful of paprika) and place in an iron kettle or an earthenware crock. Add a stalk of chopped celery, one onion and a carrot, thinly sliced, cover the kettle or crock closely and make in a slow oven for four hours. (The fireless cooker is excellent for cooking this dish.)

Meanwhile cook together two cupfuls of canned tomatoes, one chopped green pepper, half a chopped onion, half a bay leaf, one scant tablespoonful of sugar, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt for twenty minutes. Remove the meat from the bone, add the meat liquor in the crock to the sauce, stir in four tablespoonfuls of dried bread crumbs and pour over the meat. It has been placed on a heated chop plate.

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Frezzone on an aching corn, instantly the corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of Frezzone for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Lift Off with Fingers

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

JURY BROUGHT IN VERDICT OF GUILTY AGAINST JOHN PARIS FOR MURDER OF SADIE McALEY

Jurymen Deliberated Four and Half Hours — Announced Finding to Prisoner at 11.30 O'clock Last Night—Paris Gaped and Shook His Head When He Heard Verdict—Murder of Little Crippled Girl Worst in History of Province.

Afternoon Session

The court room was crowded on the opening of the afternoon session, and an expectant hush was evident in the room. Mr. Byrne continued his address to the jury, and began attacking the alibi of the defense. The defense he said, claimed that it was impossible for Paris to have committed the crime, as he was not there.

The jury could not entertain a reasonable doubt as to the statement of Mrs. Calvin and her daughter of the man who had approached them. That man they identified as the accused.

Neither could there be any doubt that the same man was in the park August 2, and possessed of the same desires.

There could be no doubt that the accused had the conversation with Walter Humphrey. That on the night of the 3rd having been to the park, he was rowed back to the Carleton side by William Sweet.

Paris after his slip with Humphrey finding that a man who would steal with him would not be party to murder, he knew that search parties would be out for the body of the little girl, and knew that he would have to establish an alibi, left St. John on the morning of the 4th.

From the mouths of the witnesses for the defense, Mr. Byrne said he would set up evidence to convict the accused.

Stewart Fraser, told the court that the murder and outrage of a little girl made no difference to him. Was it out of the mouth of such a witness the defense hoped to establish their alibi. The Crown contended that it was on August 4th that Fraser and Paris had exchanged playing cards in the William Byrd house.

John and Rebecca Byrd had given evidence at the last trial, they had been in St. John a week at this second trial, but were never put on the stand for the defense. Why?

Norman Green said that he and Sadie Byrd when 25 feet from the Byrd house saw a man come out. John and Rebecca Byrd said that Paris, Green said it was a man who drew her hair back to show the ear, but did not let it too flat against the head or it will make the face seem flatter.

If your face is long, bring the hair down over the forehead. If your face is short and round, show all of the forehead.

Old English Initialing.

The Old English is probably the most popular of all letters, showing judgment by the constant requests for it. An initial beautifully embroidered in Old English script, and this perfection will come only with some practice.

Initial letters should be first outlined in a close-running stitch, then the spaces filled in with a chain or other padding stitch. Where a running stitch is used, the stitch should be longer on the upper side, and the chain or padding stitch should be shorter on the lower side, thus creating a curved or rounded surface when finished.

The padding stitches must all be on the right side, having the stitches that come to the left side as small as possible so as to keep the wrong side flat.

The embroidery should be done in a frame, and the stitch is a simple over-and-over, taken evenly, all close together, always running at right angles to the padding and taken as close together as is possible without overlapping.

Letters are sometimes outlined with the over-and-over stitch and the enclosed spaces filled with the seed stitch, but there is nothing more beautiful than the plain "flat" embroidery work if properly done.

Creole Cookery.

Creole Shin of Beef—This is an old Southern recipe and is delicious either hot or cold. Wash four pounds of shin of beef, rub with salt and paprika (three-quarters of a teaspoonful of salt and half a teaspoonful of paprika) and place in an iron kettle or an earthenware crock. Add a stalk of chopped celery, one onion and a carrot, thinly sliced, cover the kettle or crock closely and make in a slow oven for four hours. (The fireless cooker is excellent for cooking this dish.)

Meanwhile cook together two cupfuls of canned tomatoes, one chopped green pepper, half a chopped onion, half a bay leaf, one scant tablespoonful of sugar, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt for twenty minutes. Remove the meat from the bone, add the meat liquor in the crock to the sauce, stir in four tablespoonfuls of dried bread crumbs and pour over the meat. It has been placed on a heated chop plate.

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Frezzone on an aching corn, instantly the corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of Frezzone for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Lift Off with Fingers

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

Frezzone

BROAD COVE

(The Genuine) High Quality.

Also—

CUMBERLAND

A Cumberland County, N. S. Coal Mined to our Standard of Quality.

Good Value at the Price.

CONSUMERS COAL CO., LIMITED

68 Prince Wm. Street.

Telephone: Main 1913.

and from the position she said she had.

As to Nichols' evidence, at the trial in Truro he said the gas was bought on the 1st or 2nd, and later on the 2nd or 3rd. In St. John he swore it was the 2nd.

Murray said he believed the gas was stolen, Nichols that he believed Paris' statement.

Boss said he went to the island with Chief Fraser on the 2nd. Green said he saw them there the 4th. Paris said the officers were down twice. Boss said the date by a search warrant, the date of the warrant did not prove the date it was executed.

Hayman and Green both said they saw Paris at the station on the 3rd. Albert Martin, John Macdonald, Archie Paris saw him on the train. Paris said he saw Martin at Amherst. Martin said that he did not see Paris till arrival in St. John. Archie said he saw him there too.

Chesley Ford who lived in the same house with Paris said he did not see him the 1st, 2nd or 3rd, but saw him the 4th. The Hodgins and Johnson women said the same. Martin and Cook visited the house the day of the 4th, the Johnson woman could have learned who were on the train and told Paris.

The crown claimed that it left St. John for Truro July 23, returning to the city the 31st, arriving the 1st. Paris himself admitted he was in Truro station on July 31 so it was possible for him to arrive in the city August 1st.

It was for the jury to decide if the man who killed Sadie McAuley intended to do so or not. If they believed the accused to be the man, it was their power to say whether he was guilty of manslaughter or murder.

The judge instructed the jury that the law clearly established that Sadie McAuley had been murdered and outraged.

As to Paris' statement that Humphrey had offered him $125 to kill Cook, was it reasonable or credible? His Honor reviewed the evidence relating to the accused's movements August 1st to 6th.

Paris came in the house. He said he had worked with Paris in the house when he was a boy. Was it not strange that he did not know Paris in the house, and said there could not be a possibility of a doubt.

As to Mr. Ogilvie's evidence it did not show the money was paid Paris on August 2. Where were the documents that would show this? McNaught said a man presented a defense that night, one called Cook. Was