QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

MATHIAS A1.

Where is the Hackney stallion Mathias A1 owned? S. A. F.

Ans.—Mathias A1 (10751), brown, foaled 1906, was bred by H. Lemarchant, Kent, England, and transferred May 25th, 1908, to Alex. Powle, Colnbrook, Buckinghamshire. No other transfer is recorded.

DIFFICULTY IN CHURNING.

What are the causes of bitter cream?
Cows are fed well on clover hay and chop, good water to drink, and salted regularly every day. Most of the cows are milking about ten months. Churn for hours and hours, but no butter; only butter and curd altogether, and cream is bitter and won't sour or thicken?

N. H.

Ans.—It is a well-known fact that cows far advanced in lactation produce milk that is difficult to churn, and not infrequently it tends to become bitter as the succeeding date of parturition approaches.
Introducing a fresh milch cow into the herd goes a long way towards overcoming the difficulty. Succulent feed also helps. Sometimes the difficulty is due to the growth in the milk of some bacterium or yeast. We rather think, however, that the trouble in your case is due to the cows being far advanced in lactation, and partially, perhaps, to the feed. A little oil cake will improve your ration. Meantime you will probably find it quite a help to scald your cream while it is sweet (heating it to 185 degrees Fah.), and then cool.

RINGBONE.

Mare going lame in left front foot.
Noticed it some time ago, but did not seem to be able to locate trouble, but found it to be about a couple of inches above the hoof. Is this ringbone? Is there what is called the high and low ringbone? Can it be cured? Will the horse go sound? ONTARIO.

Ans.—From the description given, there is little doubt but the ailment is ringbone. When the coffin joint is diseased, it is called low ringbone, and when the pastern is the seat, high ringbone. The treatment recommended is firing and blistering performed by a competent veterinarian. It is often noticed that the patient will continue to go lame for considerable time, sometimes for eight or ten months, or even longer, after the operation, as the process mentioned is often slow. When a recovery has not taken place in ten to twelve months, it is well to fire again, and if this fails to effect a cure, we may decide that the case is incurable, and the only means of removing the lameness is by the operation of neurotomy, which consists in removing the nerve supply to the foot.
This operation can be performed only by a veterinarian, and it may be followed by a period of serviceability or by complete uselessness.

ALFALFA—CURB—PUMPING.

1. I have a piece of new land where I am going to put in cob corn. Is it possible I could seed it down to alfalfa before we go through the corn the last time?

2. Curb on four-year-old colt. Is firing the best way to kill it? Isn't much lame.

3. Could windmill over well at house be arranged to pump well at barn also, and how much would it cost to make the change? R. J. M.

Ans.—1. It is questionable whether you would get a first-class stand, and alfalfa seed is too dear, and the crop too important, to take many unnecessary chances.

2. Give rest. Get him shod with high-heel calkins to ease the tension on the ligament. Blister once a month until the lump disappears, with 2 drams each of biniodide of mercury and cantharides, mixed with 2 ounces vaseline.
Clip hair off part and rub well in. Tie so he cannot bite parts. In 24 hours, rub well again with the blister, and in 24 hours longer wash off and apply sweet oil. Let his head loose now and oil every day.

3. Why not use the one well for both barn and house? The windmill would pump the water then without difficulty, and there would be a saving in cost.
The other arrangement could likely be effected.

To Buyers Looking for a

GOOD STALLION

I HAVE imported Percheron Stallions for years, always bought them from the best breeders in France, and beg to call the attention of prospect buyers to the fact that I have at the present time a better lot of Percheron Stallions in my barn than any barn in Canada. I have the big kind, the right kind, the kind that good judges are looking for. I won, as usual, more prizes at the leading fairs than all the Percheron importers put together.
My horses are beautiful dappled-greys and blacks.
Two to eight years old, weighing 1,700 to 2,200 lbs., with feet and legs that cannot be beat. Beautiful heads and necks. The kind that good buyers are looking for. I do not intend, and will not allow,
I will. Come to the home of the Champion Prizewinners and judge for yourself.
