The Spice of Life.

AGRICULTURAL (COLLEGE) HUMOR.

The O. A. C. Review for September has an extra good assortment of humor and local quips. We quote below a few specimens sure to be appreciated by the general reader:

Miss Watson, Director of Home Economics in Macdonald Institute (addressing a "Home-maker" found in the laundry at an unseemly hour)—"What are you doing here?"

The Culprit—"Curling my hair."
Miss Watson—"Don't you know you must not use the Government gas for your own ends?"

First Soph.—"What is the difference between capital and labor?"

Second Soph.—"Well, if I loaned you 25 cents it would be capital, and when I tried to get it back it would be labor."

To the boy who talks too much
This proverb may appeal:
The steam that blows the whistle
Will never turn the wheel.

"Are you ill? Let me see your tongue, please."
"It's no use. No tongue can tell how bad I feel."

On the road to success it isn't every man who knows when to change cars.

Prof.—"I hope that you will have a very pleasant vacation, and come back knowing more than you do now."

Fresh (attempting to be polite)—"The same to you, sir."

Mary—"He sings with much feeling."
Will—"Right! He feels for every note."

Bible Student (preaching his first sermon)—"Yes, friends, I am trying to follow the divine injunction to cast out the sick, heal the dead, and raise the devil."

There was a determined look in the Freshette's eye as she marched into the optician's shop.

"I want a pair of glasses immediately," she said. "Good, strong ones."

"Good, strong ones?"

"Yes, I was out in the country yesterday and I made a very painful blunder."

"Indeed! Mistook a stranger for a friend?"

"No; a bumblebee for a blackberry."

HE HEARD IT IN GLASGOW.

Prof. Graham—"Say, F-zz, why is a hen immortal?"

F-zz-Z-v-tz—"Tell me, Dick."

Prof. G.—"Because her son never sets!"

Two of the track-runners passed a learned and preoccupied professor showing a young lady visitor through the college grounds.

With a dainty shiver, the girl remarked: "It's dreadfully cold, isn't it, to be without stockings."

The professor's mind turned for a moment from contemplation of a balanced ration.

"Then why did you leave them off?" he asked.

Live Stock Industry of Canada.

Last February there were brought together at Ottawa, from the various Provinces, upwards of one hundred men officially delegated to represent forty-four Live-stock and Record Associations, besides a large number of interested persons, to consider and discuss the various features of the live-stock industry. This gathering, which constituted the third general convention of the National Live-stock Association, spent two days each of three busy sessions upon its programme, which included reviews of the conditions of the live-stock industry prevailing in the respective Provinces, interprovincial trade in pure-bred live stock, the beef-cattle industry in the East and West, the dairy industry, the development of the sheep and swine industries, the market for Canadian horses, transportation of live stock, stallion legislation, the chilled-meat trade, bovine tuberculosis, and other business.

A full report of the addresses and discussions that took place has been printed for the information of persons interested in the live stock, or, in fact, the general agricultural welfare of the Dominion. Among many other striking things, it was brought out that our export cattle trade is rapidly approaching the vanishing point, that South American tinned beef is being used all the way across the Dominion, that we are exporting very little mutton and importing a great deal, while millions of pounds of pork are each year imported into Canada.

This report, which constitutes a book of 130 pages, embodies a fairly complete review of the live-stock situation in Canada, and offers many wise suggestions for its much-needed improvement. The distribution of this work is in the hands of the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, to whom applications for copies should be sent.
