Windmill Power is Growing in Popularity

For Pumping, and it is not equalled by any power.

Thousands of farmers who have done their first power pumping by gasoline engine have become tired of it, and are buying windmills.

You can save the cost of a
BAKER in one year.

The cost of gasoline, oil, batteries and repairs in pumping for 150 head of stock and the average farm home with a gasoline engine will buy a BAKER Back-gear Ball-bearing Pumping Mill every year.

You can't afford to waste both money and your time. Look into this proposition. Send for Booklet No. 20 and list of satisfied users.

tines. Of course, flies are not by any means the only ways by which typhoid germs in people's intestines get into the family food. A careless milker, visiting the toilet before he milks, and forgetting to wash his hands afterwards, may very easily, and often does, carry a speck or two of his discharges on his hands to the milk. A speck so small as to be quite unnoticeable, may have a million typhoid germs in it. If he does not leave this speck in the milk, he may put it on the roller towel, or rub it off on the bread. But flies do carry a great deal of typhoid fever, especially in the country: and the reason is that the outdoor toilet in the country (or anywhere else where it exists for that matter) is usually not fly-proof.

In order of value, then, first and foremost, easiest and most efficient:

FLY-PROOF THE OUT-DOOR TOILET.

Next, and far less important, but still well worth while for comfort as well as safety:

KEEP KITCHEN AND DINING-ROOM FREE OF FLIES.

Next, and almost hopeless, but worth trying:

REDUCE FLIES ABOUT THE FARM by destroying their breeding places or cleaning them up once a week.

But whatever desperate efforts you are willing to make, in any or all directions to get rid of flies, don't neglect to FLY-PROOF THE TOILET FIRST.

Stable flies, in fact any fly that goes from toilet to food, may carry typhoid. Horse flies bite; house flies do not. It has been proved that stable flies, biting an individual sick with some kinds of infectious disease, and biting another person soon afterwards, may carry that disease from one to the other. This is perhaps one way that poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) is carried.

Maggots are flies in the larval or "worm" stage; whenever you kill a maggot, you are "swatting" a fly.

CHAPTER XXX.

GOOD-BY, SUNNYBROOK.

Will Melville drove up to the window and, tossing a letter into Rebecca's lap, went off to the barn on an errand. "Sister's no worse, then," sighed Aurelia gratefully, "or Jane would have telegraphed. See what she says."

Rebecca opened the envelope and read in one flash of an eye the whole brief page:—

Your aunt Miranda passed away an hour ago. Come at once, if your mother is out of danger. I shall not have the funeral till you are here. She died very suddenly and without pain. Oh, Rebecca! I long for you so!

Aunt Jane.

The force of habit was too strong, and even in the hour of death Jane had remembered that a telegram was twenty-five cents, and that Aurelia would have to pay half a dollar for its delivery.

Rebecca burst into a passion of tears as she cried, "Poor, poor aunt Miranda! She is gone without taking a bit of comfort in life, and I couldn't say good-by to her! Poor lonely aunt Jane! What can I do, mother? I feel torn in two, between you and the brick house."

"You must go this very instant," said Aurelia, starting from her pillows. "If I was to die while you were away, I would say the very same thing. Your aunts have done everything in the world for you,—more than I've ever been able to do,—and it is your turn to pay back some of their kindness and show your gratitude. The doctor says I've turned the corner and I feel I have. Jenny can make out somehow, if Hannah'll come over once a day."

"But, mother, I can't go! Who'll

THE PLAYTIME WASHER

Means a saving of money to the farmer and his wife. The time and energy spent over the wash tub could be employed more profitably in some other way. It might mean more and better butter, poultry, fruit and eggs. The "Playtime" is adapted to either hand or power operation. In either case it eliminates the HARD work of washing and saves wear and tear on the clothes.

Ask your dealer to show you the "Playtime" or send to us for full information.
