

NEW SHADE HAT!

T. BEATTIE & CO., Have just received several cases of the new FAYAL SHADE HATS in Black and Colors, all sizes.

LADIES' SILK LACE MITTS In all the new tinted colors, also in black.

T. BEATTIE & CO., 140 Dundas Street. HUMOROUS.

He had an auburn haired girl and promised to take her out riding. She met him at the door when he drove up. "Hello! Ready?" She misunderstood him and now they don't speak.

"Dan," said a four-year-old, "give me one monkey to buy a monkey." "We have one monkey in the house now," said the elder brother. "Who is it, Dan?" "You," was the reply. "Then give me five cents to buy the monkey some nuts." The brother could not resist.

"There were two men got into a fight in front of the store to-day," said a North End man at the supper table, "and I tell you it looked pretty hard for one of them. The biggest one grabbed a cart-stake and drew it back. I thought sure he was going to knock the other's brains out, and I jumped in between." The family listened with rapt attention, and as the head paused in his narrative, the young heir, whose respect for his father's bravery was unshakable, proudly remarked, "He couldn't knock any brains out of you, could he, father?" The head of the family gazed long and earnestly at the heir, as if to detect evidence of a dawning humorist; but, as the youth continued with great innocence to munch his fourth rat, he gasped and resumed his supper.

A lady who had much experience in teaching both boys and girls, speaking of the extraordinary obtuseness of a certain pupil, said: "In a physiology class this young lady of fifteen inquired, with languid surprise, 'Is there not a straight passage through the head, from one ear to the other?'—A somewhat natural conclusion," the teacher commented, dryly, "if she had ever watched the processes of her own mind." "Which would you prefer teaching," asked a visitor, "boys or girls?" "Boys, infinitely," was the prompt reply. "No boys, for instance, would ever have asked such a question as that. He would long before have investigated the subject with a lead pencil. Not, probably, in his own ears," she added meditatively, "but in his younger brother's."

The late Charles Lever, Consul at Trieste, had accompanied his daughter to London. Lord Lytton, hearing of his arrival, invited him to dinner. "Ah, Lever!" said he, greeting him, "so glad you were able to come. You will meet your chief, Clarendon?" (then Minister of Foreign Affairs). Now Lever had omitted the formality of applying for leave. "I fear I must retire; my nose is bleeding," he replied, making for the door, which at that instant opened. Lord Clarendon being announced. After shaking hands with the host, his lordship espied Lever before he could make good his retreat. "Ah, Mr. Lever! I didn't know you were in England. I didn't even know you had asked for leave." "No, no, my lord," stammered the witty novelist, "I thought it would be more respectable to your lordship to come and ask for it in person."

Anecdote of Ben Butler. He was called on by a person who wanted to have a talk with him. "Mr. Butler," said he, "one of my neighbor's cows jumped my garden gate and destroyed my flower beds. The gate was the height required by law. Now I wish to know whether I can obtain damages." "Most assuredly," replied the widows' friend. "Well, Mr. Butler, how much?" "Oh, about ten dollars." "But, Mr. Butler," triumphantly, "the cow was yours." "Ah!" said Mr. Butler, thoughtfully; and he looked unutterable things out of his bad eye. Then he turned to his desk, scratched off a few lines on a piece of paper, and handed it to his visitor. It was in the form of an account, and read as follows: "B. F. Butler to Mr. —, Dr., damages caused by cow, $10; Cr., by legal advice, $15; balance due, $5."

Some Natural History... The Editor. "What ferocious looking animal is this." "That is the editor." "Indeed! are they dangerous?" "Sometimes. When cornered up they have been known to be quite combative, and again they have been known to go through a convenient back window. Generally they are mild and passive." "When are they most dangerous?" "When intruded upon by a book-agent who wants a forty line local for a seventy-five cent book, or by a poet with verses about geese springing."

"Are editors cross to each other?" "Only when separated by several blocks of buildings." "Do they often have fearful combats with each other?" "Occasionally, when they go out in opposite directions, and come upon each other by accident."

"Are they ever cowardly?" "Sometimes the small ones are, but the big ones are very rarely molested." "Do editors eat?" "They do. It was formerly supposed that they ate at long intervals and upon rare occasions, but it is now a well authenticated fact that they can eat a great deal when they get it."

"What kind of food do they like most?" "They are not very particular. While they won't refuse quail on toast, fried crab or roast turkey about Christmas time, they have been known to make a hearty repast of a dish of cold turnips and a consumptive herring."

"Can they eat concert tickets?" "We believe not. Some people have gained this erroneous impression from false teachings in early life, but no authenticated instance of such a thing is on record."

"Do editors go free into shows?" "They do when they give dollar and a half locals for a twenty-five cent ticket?" "Are all editors bald like this one?" "No; only the married ones are bald. But let us pass on; the editor does not like to be stared at."
