NEWFOUNDLANDER IN BOSTON, U. S. A.

Mr. F. H. Crossman.

We note by Boston papers that the General Electric Mutual Benefit Association held its annual meeting a fortnight ago.

The General Electrical Mutual Benefit Association, the membership of which is made up of the employees of the big G. E. works at West Lynn and the River works, was organized in 1902 and in eleven years the Association has grown to nearly 6000 members (5963 to be exact) and has become one of the largest and financially strongest institutions of its kind in that country and perhaps in the world.

Now long after the organization of the association it was decided to segregate the various sections into two classes, each composed wholly of male or female employees. This was deemed advisable on account of the different ratio of the liability of accident and illness between the sexes.

There are now forty-five sections in active operation of which six are made up of young women employees.

The affairs of each section are administered by a board composed of Chairman, Secretary-Treasurer and six Directors, the burden of the work however falls on the Chairman and the Secretary-Treasurer.

Mr. F. H. Crossman, formerly of this city, is Secy-Treas. of Sec. No. 40.

UNION RALLY SONG

We have a grand, and noble man, he formed the F.P.U., A promising sign in our time, to win our Waterloo; We're justified to fight his cause, we'll form his flanks by the score. Bad councillors will have to go when he rules upon the floor.

Chorus: Our President planned that noble scheme. To help our Country's poor. He'll make things new, through the F.P.U., Upon the Assembly floor.

He's come to serve the present age, though many don't understand; The cause is plain, for selfish gain, oppressed poor Newfoundland; While others toiled, when waves ran wild, those heeled in galore— They'll be dismissed, we do insist, when he rules upon the floor.

For Widows and for Orphans, old Fishermen likewise. This scheme allows that every class shall have their share of joys; No paupers then, but gentlemen, who toil on sea and shore. The Paupers' Dole will have to go, when he rules upon the floor.

And sealers rights, and bill of fare, will not be overlooked. Poor Underdogs in bygone days, their food was scarcely cooked, A better day dawned for them, it should have dawned before, No grabbers bluffs, or soggy duffs, when he rules upon the floor.

These old dodges must be stopped, the Crown Lands Act and Spars, It's only a fad, I'll make them glad, no one inhabits Mars; The land is there, and timber too, it only means a soar, So brace your mind, no grab you'll find, when he rules upon the floor.

Here's more old rigs, the givings of pigs, it's a rotten polley, We'll not give votes for bulls or goats, we want democracy; Executive wrongs by letters of Strong's, our Governor should deplore, This Government lout will get its route when he rules upon the floor.

Now hearers all, if by those lines, you think I have told lies, Elections have gone off this Fall, I'm sure it was not lies. Old pessimists, I warn you all, to go and die your holes. Our candidates will lick all foes when next we try the polls.

—LOUIS BERRY, Greenspond.

DR. LEHR, DENTIST, 208 WATER ST. BEST QUALITY TEETH AT $12.00 PER SET. TEETH EXTRACTED—PAINLESSLY—25c.

In Anno Domini 1909, poor Fishermen got a scare. Poor Underdog's fish was no price, our rulers they don't care; Our President's time is fully ripe to cure this awful sore. You nasty bums, improve the slums, or march out through that door.

Now hearers all, if by those lines, you think I have told lies, Elections have gone off this Fall, I'm sure it was not lies. Old pessimists, I warn you all, to go and die your holes. Our candidates will lick all foes when next we try the polls.
