ARE YOU WEAK AND RUN DOWN?

In Tais Condition Only a Tonic Listicine Can Renew Your Health.

The condition of being "run down" is one that doctors do not recognize as a disease. The physician of to-day who gets his training in a hospital where only severe disorders are en-countered knows little : bout it. But those who are run down in health know that it is not a fancied affliction. The expression "run down" applied health means a condition in which all the bodily functions are enfeebled. Appetite fails, the digestion is impaired, the nerves are impoverished, the complexion becomes pile or waxy, there is no animation, but rather there worry and mental depression. Fatigue is a constant depression. No particular organ being affected, you must look to relief to the blood. As it circulates through every part of the body, any improvement in the condition of the blood is quickly felt throughout the entire system. As a restorer of the blood and builder of weak nerves Dr. Williams' Pink Pills stand at the head of all tonic medicines. Every dose of these pills helps to enrich the blood and strengthen the nerves, and thus various organs regain their tone the and the body recovers its full vigor. Ample proof of this is given in ent of Mr. William Devine, Gerrard street east, Toronto, who says: "Two years ago, while employed as a condu tor on the Toronto Street Railway, I became much run down. consulted a doctor, who gave me medieine, but it proved fruitless, as I was tonstantly growing weaker. My appe-lite completely failed, and I fell away weight until I weighed only 125 ainting spells, and finally felt compelled to resign my position. I tried what I thought was lighter work, but ith no better results. I was growg weaker and weaker. On chum urged me to try Dr. Williams' ink Pills, but by this time I was heartily tired of medicine. as nothing had taken did me any good. Finally he bought me a box of the pills, and I could no longer refuse to try them. After a time I felt they were helping me and then I gladly continued their ase, with the result that I was finally enabled to go back to my old position fully restored to health. I owe this plendid condition to Fr. Williams' Pink Pills, and can strongly recommend them to any one suffering as . did."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained through any medicine dealer, or may be had by mail, post paid, at cents a box or six 1 oxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Mcdicine Co., Brockville, Cnt.

LESSON IV. Jan. 25, 1920 Peter stands up for truth and honesty. Acts 5; 1-11. COMMENTARY. - I. Ananias' hyp-ocrisy known and punished (vs. 1-6). 1. But a certain man named Ananias -The name is the same as its Hebrew form Hannaniah, a common name in Ananias and his wife Sap-Israel. phira were members of the Christian community, but they were unworthy of their companionship, as was manitheir conduct. Sapphira-The name may mean beautiful or it may be derived from the name of the precious stone, sapphire. A posses-sion—The word may mean lands or buildings, it here means land (v. 3). It perty. land should be generally known, and for that reason Ananias believed that his act of deception would not be suspected or detected. His selfishness in the form of a desire to be thought religious and liberal prompted him to sell the land, and his selfishness in the form of greed prompted him practice deception and keep for him-self a part of the proceeds of the sale. His wife also being privy to it—The act was planned beforehand and therefore the guilt was in full measure Sapphira was in the scheme equally guilty with her hus husband. There is no suggestion in the narrative that she made any attempt to money for himself. The story might have read differently if she had thrown her influence on the side of truth and honesty. Laid it at the apostles' feet—The apostles had bestowed for the support of the Christian community. Ananias therefore brought a portion of the price of the land and laid it at their feet, or placed it at their disposal. This was done "apparently at some public re-ligious service, where they could be seen of men. Danger threatened the infant church from within, for already Satah was tempting its members ty_acts of deception. Peter said-Peter was present and he may have been in charge of this part of the work, why hath Sa-tan filled thine heart—Peter puts his reproof in the form of a question to make it more emphatic. Satan could or sir not have filled Ananias' heart, made him beld, or inspired a'de to play the hypocrite if his heart had not been open to his approaches. to lie to the Holy Ghost-He lied to the Holy Ghost because the offering was made, not to the apostles nor to the church, but to God. And because it was contrary to his profession as one who professed to be converted by the Holy Spirit and to be under his influ-ence.—Peloubet. The apostles were filled with the Holy Spirit and Ana-nias made bold to come into their presence with his heart filled with Sa-tan to set and till a lie A while-tan to act and tell a lie. 4. whiles-It not thine own—No one was under any compulsion to sell his possessions for the benefit of the Christian community, and after they were sold, the proceeds were in the power of the owner. These questions, asked in rapid succession, pressed home upon Ananias a good deal of his guilt. Conceived this thing in thine heart-Pcter's words indicate that Ananias had carefully planned this deception. thou hast not lied unto men, bat unto Gcd-It is not intended to say that Ananias had not lied unto men at all. but that the gravity of his offence was that he thought to deceive God. In verse 3 it is said that the deception had been practiced toward the Holy Ghost, and so we learn hence the divinity of the third Person of the Trin-ity.—Cam. Bib. 5. fell down, and gave up the Ghost—This summary punishment was the direct act of God. There is no suggestion that death resulted from natural causes. Peter and the other apostles had no responsibility in the matter. It was a case be tween Ananias and his God. great fear came on all—Ananias' death was not merely vindictive, but it was intended to make clear to the church God's attitude toward sin and to warn them against hypocrisy. It had its designed effect upon all that came to know about it. 6. young men-The youth of the congregation; very probably young men who were in attendance as servants, or those whos business it was to attend on the congregation, and perform various offices when Christians celebrated their worship .-- Moshem, wound him up-In burial clothes. carried him out-Probably into the valley of the Kidron, the great Jewish burial place. buried him—It was the custom in the East, and that custom still prevails, to bury the dead the same day and within a few hours after death.

II. Sapphira's Sin and Its Punishishment (vs. 7-10). 7. Three hours after—This length of time elapsed after the death of Ananias before Sapphira came into the presence of the apostles. Nothing is known of her Whereabouts during that time. It seems likely that she had become an-xious for the return of her husband from his hypocratical errand, and went to the place of Christian assembly to find him, little suspecting that he already dead and buried. 8. 1 8. Peter Answered unto her-Sapphira may or Answered unto her—Sapphira may or may not have asked a question re-garding her husband, about whom she was anxious, but her appearance showed that the inquiry was in her mind. This form of expression is sometimes used where no question has been asked. Tell me whether we sold been asked. Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much-Peter knew the sale price of the land, doubtless from information given him directly. by the Holy Spirit, and he asked Say the Holy Spirit, and he assoc sap-phira if the amount brought in by An-anias was the price. And she said Yea-Peter had given her full opportunity to make a correct statement, but she failed to regard truthfulness and lied by word as her husband had lied by deed. She did not admit that had laid at the apostles' feet. Some one had said, "A wilful falsehood is a cripple, and he can not stand alone. It is easy to tell one lie, hard to tell but one lie." 9. Agreed together but one lie." 9. Agreed together — Peter was confident of his ground and bold to declare that Ananias and Sap hira had agreed together upon the plan of appearing to give all, but really giving only a part of the price of the land. To tempt the Spirit of the Lord-to try; to endeavor to impose on, or to deceive; that is, to act as if the Spirit of the Lord could not de-tect the crime. They did this by try-ing to see whether the Spirit of God was sold ostensibly to help roplenish the common treasury, hence it was in an important sense a religious act. 2. Kept best part of the price—There was no necessity that the price of the land should be generally known, and was dead and buried and that her death was imminent. 10. Then she fell down straightway—The hand that smote Ananias for his hypocrisy was immediately stretched forth to visit the same punishment upon Sapphira.

NERVOUS AND RUN-DOWN

Brampton, Gnt.:--"A few years ago I was in a nervous and run-down condition and felt greatly in need of a tonic. A friend Who was being helped by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advised me to try it, too. It helped me from the very start and eventually restored me to perfect health. I feel in a position to praise the 'Golden Medical Discovery' very highly and take pleasure in recommending it to all those who are at all nervous, weak r run-down." who are at all nervous, weak r run-down." --MRS. ESTHER PEATSON.

Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for backache, headache, pains, irregularities, and for the many disorders common to women in all ages of life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is made of lady's slipper root, black cohosh root, unicorn root, blue cohosh root, Oregon grape root and Viburnum. Women who take this standard remedy know that in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they are getting a safe woman's tonic so good that drugg everywhere sell it in liquid or tablets. It is without alcohol.

vice (Acts 6; 1-4). Ananias and Sap phira were evidently of good social standing and fair profession. They had unquestionably been baptized and received into the Christian commun-The ity, and seem to have been persons of repute among them. The lesson teaches clearly that a community of goods was not obligatory in the early church. There is no evidence that church. the early Christians were ever coun-seled thereto by the apostles. The The general benevolence was evidently a voluntary matter, and some authori-ties suggest that the design was to provide for those who had suffered the loss of goods because of their ad-herence to the Christian faith. Ananias and Sapphira were not oblige either to sell or give. Their motive was to obtain credit for a self-sacri-Their motive ficing benevolence, which they neith-er possessed nor practiced. Vanity and covetousness were at the root of the transaction.

II. Deception punished. With the unexpected suddenness of a lightning flash came revelation and retribution As planned, detection seemed wholly improbable. There was an uncalculated factor in the equation, "Thou, God, seest me." Pcter's language (v. 3), shows that detection and punishment were miraculous and profound ly impressed the church and the nuh lic as far as it became known. "Both transgressors were pilloried in undy-ing shame." Evil-doers can count ing shame." Evil-doers can count on no moment of security. "Be sure your sin will find you out." God's judgments never mistake. To Him the universe is one vast whispering galery, in which every sin reports itself Only God and ourselves know the measure of our consecration. The penalty may be judged extreme, it is to be remembered that God is more concerned to procure the holiness of his church than about its numerical increase of material resources; and this is particularly portant in its early history. He is always insistent on equality and can never relinquish the'standard of heart III. Conclusions. Hypocrisy, through all its varying modes and changing forms, remains unchanged in principle and purpose, inate and intense selfishness. It aims to appear other than its true self and never regards God or his law, but public opinion only. It pays an unconscious and unintentional tribute to the excellence of virtue and confesses the worth of what it mimics. A hypocrite is the greatest dupe in existence, and de-ceives only himself and his fellows. God and the devil know him at his true value. It is easier, safer and pleasanter to be the thing one aims to appear than to preserve the appear ance of being what one is not. Hypo crisy leads to self-bewilderment. An solute sincerity is essential to well-defined moral bearings. We must be foursquare with truth. Pretense of wealth, learning or piety unpos

The most beautiful of, all Persian fables, perhaps, is called "The Split Pearls" and relates how the couriers of a certain caliph marveled at his choice of an Ethiopian slave for his constant attendant and at the mo-honors he - bestowed on this fellow, who had no special distinction of the strength or grace. Thereupon "The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the lay-ing life of a hen was too short" says Henry Trafford, International Poultry Expert and Breeder, for nearly eighteen years Editor of Poultry Success. The average pullet lays 150 eggs. If kept the second year, she may lay 100 more. Then she goes to market. Yet, it has been scientifically established that every pullet is born or hatched with over one thousand minute egg germs in her system—and will lay them en a highly profitable basis over a period of four to six years' time if given proper care. How to work and get 1,000 eggs from every hen; how to get pullets laying ear-ly; how to keep up heavy egg production all through cold winter months when eggs are highest; triple egg production; from every hen in six winter months. These scerets are contained in Mr. Traf-ford's "1,000 EGG HEN", system of pou-tity raising, one copy of which will be sent absolutely free to any reader of this should go to a dollar or more a dozen this winter. This means big profit to the poultry keeper who gets the eggs. Mr. Trafford tells how. Thereupon the saliph told them that though the slave's features were not fair, kindness beautified them.

Once when a camel of the caliph's train tripped in a narrow street, a cas-ket fell, broke, and rich pearls fell everywhere. The caliph nodded to his attendant slaves to pick them up, say-ing that they might have them for themselves, and they all rushed to pick up as many as they could. One alone remained behind the ca-liph, the Ethiopian, who did not move. Turning to him, the caliph asked him what he was doing, lingering there, and received the answer that his duty faithfully to guard his master, and he had sufficient reward in doin that. No one could be called a faithful servant who forgot his duty to his master for the sake of the gifts his master gave. "Therefore," said the caliph, "I keep

To Make a Chinese Happy Give Him a Coffin as a Gift.

A Chinese custom that seems par-ticularly strange to occidental readers is described by S:r Alexander Hosie is described by S.r Alexander Heete in his account of a journey through the interior of China, "On the Trail of the Opium Poppr." At the hamlet of Fensbilling, thir-teen miles from Chichiaug Heien, he says, we passed into Pa Heien district, in which port of Chungking is situ-aied. No one ever seeh a collin with-at of. No one ever sees a collin with-out being impressed by the sight, and here we saw them in the piece as well as made up. Every house had a cof-fin or two lying under its caves, some new, some old, and one's first surmise was that mortality in these parts must be great. The cause was, of course, the abun cance of cypres, a wood that is much prized for coffin making, and it must be remembered that in China a coffin be remembered that in China a coffin is a very acceptable present, especi-ally if made by your own family. Hun-dreds of pounds are often spent on a single coffin, and it is highly treas-ured by the person for whom it has been designed. To western ideas the present of a coffin by a son to a parent would be somewhat suggestive, and the daily sight of it at the house door would be decidedly annoying. In China it is otherwise. A coffin is one China it is otherwise. A coffin is one of the most valued gifts.

Eagerly the big ship and in detail everything connected with it. Donald B. MacMillan, Arctic ex-

"From the south," he told them. "That is impossible," they said. "No one could live down there. All our ice goes off in that direction. It must be now filed up with ice."

Dector Kane, in 1853, and Doctor Hayes, in 1861, found but a small pop-ulation, and stated that in a few years There are more there to-day than there were then, and they are increasing rapidly. In 1909 the total popul-ation of these northern shores numbered 215; in 1917, 261.

The Lerot and the Snake

Every one has heard of the remarkable combats of the Indian mongoose with venomous snakes, in which little rikkitikki-tavvi comes off victor. The fact that the mongoose invariably survives has led to the suggestion that it is immune to snake poison. Other animals said to be immune are the pig and the hedgehog. The experiments of a British nat-uralist show that an animal of the dormouse family must be added to the dormouse family must be added to the list of the immune. This aning is known as the levot and is good to fight fiercely with vipers. .arge doses of viper's polson were injected into one lerot, from which injection no ill effects followed. On one oc-casion a levot was badly bitten in the eye by a viper and no signs of polsoning followed.
