THE SEASON'S FURS.

Furs this year exhibit a new big novelty note. They are no longer sufficient unto themselves. It is their trimming that counts and that designates them the latest fashion. For instance, the Russian pony, which has been stripped of its hide wouldn't even have the poor consolution of recognizing the costly garment made from it this year. And the little mink would shiver to death without the satisfaction of being able to tell his own pelt that has been taken from him.

Other years furs have been combined with contrasting furs, but not so this year. Now it is fur combined with contrasting furs, but not so this year. Now it is fur combined with contrasting furs, but not so this year. Now it is fur combined with cloth, with velvet, with chiffom, with lace, that is the rage, and of all trimmings, braid is the most fashiomable. Suede and chamois are also used in combination with

Str. Jennie Saves 49 Out Of 150 Men On House Boat In Gale

ANOTHER BOAT WAS LOST

Key West, Fla., Oct. 22.—Survivors from one of the houseboats of the Florida east coast railway extension along the Keys tell a harrowing tale of death and destruction caused by the storm of Thursday. Crushed by the Waves.

W. P. Dusenbery, civil engineer in charge of the work on Long Key, who wonderfully escaped death, arrived here on the Austrian steamer Jennie, among other survivors rescued.

He said houseboat No. 4, on which were 150 men was struck by the storm.

were 150 men, was struck by the storm early Thursday morning, and was driven out into the guif. The houseboat soon began to break up, and as the great waves hit her, men, singly and in twos and threes, were washed into the sea and drowned. Some went below for protection, but when the top.

Men Cling to Timbers.

The others grabbed timbers to save them from drowning. Mr. Dusenbery was in the hold, but succeeded in getting a log, and floated until Friday night. To one piece of timber sixteen men were clinging; nine were hanging to another. The sides of the houseboat were crowded with men. It turned ever three times, each time reducing the number.

Buckingnam, Oct. 22.—The jury returned an open verdict Saturday afternoon after the inquest on the death of Detective. Warner of Montreal, who was mortally wounded in the battle between the local lumbermen strikers and the special constables, aided by the brothers Maclaren.

The evidence taken yesterday went heavily against the Maclaren side of the case. One witness stated that Alexander Maclaren had fired the first Alexander Maclaren had fired the first shot, which opened the fight.

First, in the case of a navigable river, is there any public property on the banks such as the foreshore of the sea border? On the bank of the Lievre River the police stopped the strikers.

Second, can proprietors employ armed men as watchmen even though they are sworn in as private consta-bles?

Third, is it not the duty of persons Third, is it not the duty of persons who suspect trouble to notify the provincial or Dominion authorities, as it the case in England, where there is no such individual as the private armed detective authorities?

These are some of the points which will be threshed out and will probably form a precedent in Canadian law.

CLEMENCEAU'S CABINET.

Col Picquart, Defender of Dreyfus,
May Be Offered Portfolio.

Paris, Oct. 22.—M. Clemenceau, Minister of the Interior, was summoned yesterday to the Elysee Palace and entrusted with the task of forming a new Ministry.

He expressed his acceptance, and then consulted M. Sarrien, the former Premier, with regard to the political situation; M. Dubost, president of the Senate, and M. Bourgeois, Minister of Foreign Affairs whom he urged pressingly to retain his portfolio. M. Bourgeois was inflexible in his refusal, geois was infexible in his refusal, pleading ill-health.

M. Clemenceau also held conferences with his political friends, including Col. Picquart, the defender of Dreyfus, who was restored to the army and promoted in July. M. Clemenceau declares he has not yet offered any portfolio, and saw Col. Picquart only to obtain information on certain phases of the army estimates. It will take him four days to choose his Ministers.

When the maker of a medicine, sold through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and fearlessiy publishing broadcast as well as on its bottle wrappers, a full list of all its ingredients to plate Brightsh, this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not alraid to have the search light of investigation turned full upon his formula and that if will bear the fullest scrutiny and the most thorough investigation. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the curs of the weaknesse, periodical pains and functional derangements of the organs distinctly feminina, is the only zudicine put up for sale through druggists for woman's special use, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence by such open and horests publicity.

I glance as the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made wholly from native, American, medicinal roots, that it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, no narcottes and no alcohol-pure, triple-resined precing of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties found in the roots of the American forest plante employed. It is the only medicine for women's pecular diseases, sold by druggists, that does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, which is in the long run so harmful to woman's delicate, nervous system. Now giveerine is perfectly harmless, and serves a valuable purpose by possessing intrinste value all its own, and besides it enhances the curative effect of the other ingredients entering into the "Favorite Prescription."

Various Causes That Bring About au Attack of Vertigo.

Dizziness, or vertigo-scientific writwhen the bank gave way the haulage ropes broke and blazing coal cars went careering down the slope with a possibility of setting the mine on fire, but were wrecked by the side of the track. of the sense of equilibrium. The sensation persists even when the eyes are closed. There is more or less inability to walk straight or even to stand still. and often there is nausea, followed by vomiting.

Vertigo is due to a disturbance. either actual or reflex, of the nervous "center of equilibrium" in the back part of the brain or in the semicircular canals in the ear, in which the terminations of the nerves coming from the center of equilibrium are distributed. For the most part, vertigo is a voflex trouble due to some impression which gets shunted off its own route, as it were, through nerve fibers con necting with the equilbrium center and acts upon the semicircular canals of the ear. Thus it is that dizziness is a comparatively trivial affection, as a rule—disagre able enough, but brief and of no great significance except as a symptom of trouble elsewhere in Persistently recurring, transient dis siness is often due to eye strain—that is to say, to errors in the formation of the eye not corrected by proper glasses. Wearers of spectacles can frequently tell when a change in the eyes has octen when a carrier a corresponding change in the glasses, by the coming back of these attacks of giddiness, es pecially when the gaze is suddenly moved from a near object to a rem ne or the reverse.

Vertigo is a common symptom of dis-orders of digestion seated either in the stomach or the intestine. The treatment for this form is, of course, to treat the indigestion or constipation.

Another more serious variety of disziness depends upon disease of the beart or of the blood vessels, especially those of the brain.

Any disease of the ear is apt to be associated with more or less vertigo. The same is true of tumor or other disease of the brain, especially of the cerebellum, that part of the brain in which the center of equilibrium is aftu-
