FASHION NEWS.

New Parisian Lines Collars and Round Ones of Irish Lace.
The new Parisian white linen collars are the height of chicness. They are worn with a tight little knot of bright colored ribbon as a fastening, never with a bow.

Very smart, too, are the round lace collars of Irish crochet that are four inches deep and fit around the neck perfectly. When this lace is too expensive the collars are made of a fine mesh of silver tissue and pale blue wings.

BLUE FELT HAT.

pensive the collars are daintily made of linen and hand embroidered. They are worn without cuffs to match.

Very fetching are the Anne or ostrich feather-boas, named after the heroine of Bernard Shaw's play, "Man and Superman," who outwits her victim with one of these fascinating affairs. Bracelets are very much worn, not in pairs, but a number of bangles on one arm and a single handsome bracelet on the other. This is a new and very exclusive style.

In every style of plumage hat there are wonderful combinations—soft brown, dull and rich at the same time, and deep exquisite reds and peacock blues and greens. It looks very much as if a bird of paradise had suddenly distributed his feathers in a series of glowing little heaps, each of a single shade.

The walking hat pictured is of soft felt. The trim is bound with velvet of the same shade. Janitally arranged at one side is a stiff wing quill of shaded blues and greens.

COATS FOR WINTER.
Evening Wraps and Those That Do Duty in Daytime—Exquisite Effects.
One of the best models for a coat that is to do duty in the evening is one which falls like a mantle, full from the shoulders, and has a tight fitting waistcoat of velvet. This coat is not only pretty, but has the added advantage of being warm.

Light cloth coats suitable for wear during the day are smartened up for evening with embroidered collars and cuffs of velvet buttons. If these coats are lined with a light colored silk, so much better is the effect when the wearer throws them back at the theater or opera.

Empire effects are the smart wrinkle among all long garments, and many of the other coats are built on these short waisted lines. The empire designs are particularly pretty for evening wear, as the skirt of a charming gown is allowed to show beneath them and is not crushed, as with a tight coat. Such a garment should be double breasted, fastening with large buttons. Piping of velvet may be introduced if desired, which in this case should be a shade darker than the cloth.

The stunning fur jacket illustrated is of Persian lamb. It is made with a blouse, cut away in front to show a pale blue cloth waistcoat covered with silver embroidery. Quaint silver buttons adorn the coat, which is arranged so that the upper part has a zouave effect trimmed with broad strapings of velvet. This coat is worn with the finest of black faced cloth skirts, cut with three darts, with a front panel. Delightful is the little hat in black felt trimmed with tiny blue velvet bows, clusters of silver tissue and pale blue wings.

A STRONG HEART AND STEADY NERVES

Very important it is in this age of competition to have a clear head, a strong heart and steady nerves.
Too much rush and haste, work and worry, fall to the lot of the average business man—his heart and nerve system will not stand it—he gives them too much work to do.
Women also are doing the same thing attending to their household duties and looking after their social obligations. The constant strain under which they have to continue day in and day out, the irregularity of habits and loss of rest will soon shatter the strongest system.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

are the remedy you require to restore your strength and health. Their extraordinary curative power manifests itself immediately they are taken. Through the medium of the nervous system they impart strengthening and restorative influence to every organ and tissue of the body. Many have been cured, among them being Mr. Ray V. Comer, Wellington, P.E.I., Mrs. E. Kimer, Humberstone, Ont., Mrs. J. McDonald, Portage la Prairie, Man., Mr. Walter Cleveland, Baywater, N.S., Mrs. Owen Martin, Alma, N.B. and thousands of others.

The price of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills is 50 cts. per box or 3 boxes for $1.50. Can be procured of all druggists and sent by mail on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Long Joseph, Seven Feet Ten.
Frederick the Great's father, Frederick William, the creator of the Prussian army, whose special mania was the collection of giants from all parts of the earth, would have given something like a king's ransom for "Long Joseph," who has just joined the First Foot guards at Potsdam at the age of twenty, with a weight of about eighteen stone and a stature of 7 feet 10 inches, an ugly man, decidedly, to meet in a bayonet melee. Frederick William had a whole regiment of such colossal, known as the Riesengarde, among the tallest of them being one Kirkman, a Scotch-Irishman, or Ulster Irishman, whose portrait may still be seen in the palace at Charlottenburg. One of Frederick's first sovereign acts was to disband this preposterous brigade of giants, which had cost the Prussian state about as much as all the rest of its army—London Chronicle.

Fine Cut Facts.
In the Amazon there are known to exist at least 2,000 species of fish. London has only one mile of tramway to every 30,000 of her population; Manchester has one to every 5,600.

THE MOOR'S PLEDGE.

A Point of Honor Religiously Observed by Arabs and Saracens.

A Spanish cavalier in a sudden quarrel slew a Moorish gentleman and fled. His pursuers soon lost sight of him, for he had unperceived thrown himself over a garden wall. The owner, a Moor, happening to be in his garden, was addressed by the Spaniard, who knelt, who acquainted him with his case and implored concealment. "Eat this," said the Moor. "You know that you may confide in my protection." He then locked him up in his garden apartment, telling him that as soon as it was night he would provide for his escape to a place of safety.

The Moor then went to his house, where he had just seated himself, when a great crowd, with loud lamentations, came to his gate, bringing the corpse of his slain guest. When the first shock of the Spaniard, the Moor, who was surprised by a little over he learned from the description given that the fatal deed was done by the very person then in his power. He mentioned this to no one, but as soon as it was dark retired to his garden, as if to grieve alone, giving orders that none should follow him. Then, accosting the Spaniard, he said: "Christian, the person you have killed is my son. His body is now in my house. You ought to suffer, but you have eaten with me, and I have given you as from the Spaniard, not be broken." He then led the astonished Spaniard to his stables and mounted him on one of his fleetest horses and said:

"Fly far while the night can cover you. You will be safe in the morning. You are indeed guilty of my son's blood, but God is just and good, and I thank him I am innocent of yours and that my faith given is preserved." His point of honor, it is said, most religiously observed by the Arabs and Saracens, from whom it was adopted by the Moors of Africa and by them was brought into Spain.

NAUTICAL TERMS.

Origin of Some of the Expressions That Smell of the Sea.

The word "admiral" comes from "emir of bagh," which is Arabic for lord of the sea.
"Captain" comes straight from the Latin "captus," a head; but "mate" is almost identical with the Icelandic "mat," which means a companion or equal.

Cockswain was originally the man who pulled the after oar of the galley boat, then known as "cock boat." "Cock boat" is a corruption of the word "coracle," and, as most people know, the coracle is a small round boat used for fishing on some of the Welsh rivers, such as the Tyne and Ussk. So cockswain comes from the Welsh cock, which means a small round boat. "Commander" is simply the Italian "comandatore," or commander, and "naval cadet" was originally the French "cadet," which, going a step further back, has the same origin as the word captain. The reason of this apparent anomaly is that originally naval cadets were from the French, and the families who served as privates were various to obtaining their commissions.

There never was such a person as "Davy Jones," though we frequently hear of his locker. One ought to talk of "Duffy Jones's" locker. "Duffy" is the West Indian word for spirit or ghost, while "Jones" refers to the prophet of that name.

"Dog watch" is another curious case of a term gradually corrupted out of its original form. Originally it was "dodge watch," so described because it lasts only two instead of the usual four hours, and thus makes it possible that the same men shall not be on duty every day during the same hours.

Sailors call salt meat "junk." It is not a complimentary term, for junk is nautical for a rope's end. Some 3,000 years ago ropes were made out of bulrushes, for which the Latin word is "juncus."

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

This remedy will drive out all the impurities from the blood and leave the complexion healthy and clear.

Miss Annie Tobin, Madoc, Ont., writes: "I take great pleasure in recommending your Burdock Blood Bitters to any one who may be troubled with pimples on the face. I paid out money to doctors, but could not get cured, and was almost discouraged, and despaired of ever getting rid of them. I thought I would give B.B.B. a trial, so got two bottles, and before I had taken them I was completely cured and have had no sign of pimples since."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, for over 30 years, and has cured thousands in that time. Do not accept a substitute which unscrupulous dealers say is "just as good." "It can't be."
