

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years.

To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is a food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. At any drug store.

Vol. VII. AUGUST 4, 1915 No. 8

LET'S GIVE A FIELD GUN

Harland people are determined that they and their neighbors will supply a machine gun to add to the efficiency of a Canadian regiment. Last evening in M. L. Hayward's office a few leading citizens met for informal discussion of the subject and decided to call a meeting of those interested. Therefore on the evening of Friday, Aug. 5, all interested in the success of the British Empire are asked to meet in Burtt's hall to outline a plan for raising funds for a machine gun. It is hoped that the parishes of Wakefield, Brighton, Simonds and Peel will respond with big representations. No one will be asked to contribute anything at this meeting. The present idea is that a monster picnic will do the trick.

Don't fail to be there.

THE WHO, HOW AND WHY OF CARVELL

When I say "inquiring mind" I understate the case. Frank Carvell is a Radical. He was a Radical in his cradle. He is the original little Why Why. When his rattle broke he said Why; when his first tooth caused him pain he asked Why in strident tones. He has been asking Why more or less ever since, not with the aimless curiosity of Dickens' young man who wanted to know from the Circumlocution Office, but with the definite purpose of not only finding out Why but how to make it better. Frank Carvell does not shoot at wrong in a general way; he marks his man and picks him off neatly. It was immediately after September, 1911, that his period of usefulness as a gunman began. Every time Frank Carvell went gunning he got his man. Four years have now passed and there are four new notches to his weapon. Four count 'em, four—no other hunter in parliament has a record like it. What's more Frank Carvell is a still hunter—he doesn't use dogs.

As this is not a political article it would not do to go into the caucus bell in each clash—not yet to mention names. Suffice it is to say that two of the notches were added during the 1915 sessions of the Public Accounts Committee. Some people speak of the Public Accounts Committee as if it consisted of several persons, and, indeed, it is one of the largest committees of the House, but so far as the session of 1915 is concerned Frank Carvell was the Liberal half of it and then some. Others may have chipped in from time to time but Frank Carvell did the chivving and kept the muzzle trained. It was good gun-play all through, no gallery practise or shooting at bottles, but straight business every minute. Carvell stuck to his work and never even looked at the reporters to see how they were taking it.

This brings us to the end of Frank Carvell's derring-do up to date, but we may expect to hear from him again. His talent for plain and fancy shooting will never rust as long as we have party government. Meanwhile, he has gentler avocations. He is not always engaged in bombarding the wicked out of their green bay trees. Besides being a lawyer he has an electric light and power works to run. It furnishes the justice for the whole community and has kept them pretty busy for some years paying for buildings, equipment and maintenance. In a way it is a labor of love, for light and power are his hobbies—more light on the dark places of politics, more power for the people. Frank Carvell is very fond of light—he lets it into people even at the risk of drilling holes in their reputations.

The member for Carleton is also a director of the New Brunswick Telephone Company which goes to show that he has organized his powers of hearing as well as those of seeing for the public good. But his softest side is farming. Like that stern old Roman warrior, Cincinnatus, he delights to turn from the field of blood to the mild and fruitful glebe, from the triumphs of the forum to the cultivation of his fruit trees. He makes farming pay. When the hay or the potatoes fail he still has two fine crops—contentment and long thoughts.

CENTREVILLE NOTES

Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of railway and party came to Centreville over the Vally Road Monday afternoon. The party only remained a short time and very few left the cars.

A baseball team has been organized with Earl Stiles, captain. W. T. Baldwin, treasurer, and F. D. Tweedie, manager. A good diamond has been made on the exhibition grounds. The boys are practising every evening. Friday evening the Florenceville team played here. Score 9 to 8 in favor of Centreville. The manager wants to get on games with Harland and Perth.

The Misses Humble of Moncton are visiting relatives here.

Jack Branscombe, formerly a resident, is now visiting here.

Tom Wilkinson, Fredericton, was here last week and brought him two of his sisters children—a girl and a boy. These children are orphans, their parents both died recently in the west.

S. W. Burtt has the frame of his bungalow up. W. Wiggins is completing his new residence.

Mr. McPherson has finished Geo. Wilkinson's garage with a tenement overhead.

H. J. Clark is fitting up his hall as a tenement which is to be occupied by the barber, Harry Hagerman.

Percy Fitzgerald is repairing his store occupied by B. B. Estabrooks, and putting down a new platform.

DeLong & Clark have had a concrete front platform put in and it certainly is a fine job. The work was done by Mr. Bragdon of Woodstock.

The Agricultural Society are making preparations for their two days show, September 29 and 30. Another shed 150 feet long is to be built, also a new ticket office. They will then have a very extensive and complete plant.

Autos are very plentiful this year. The latest purchaser is Granville Page—a "Studebaker."

The Centreville Base Ball team defeated Florenceville Friday night at Florenceville; score 17-9.

F. Hume, formerly of Nelson, B. C., has bought from G. G. London the land from the road to the station to Jim Dougherty's line and will build a fine residence.

The Misses Henderson of St. John are visiting Miss Damey Burtt.

Rev. Horace Sloat and family are visiting his family on the Gregg road.

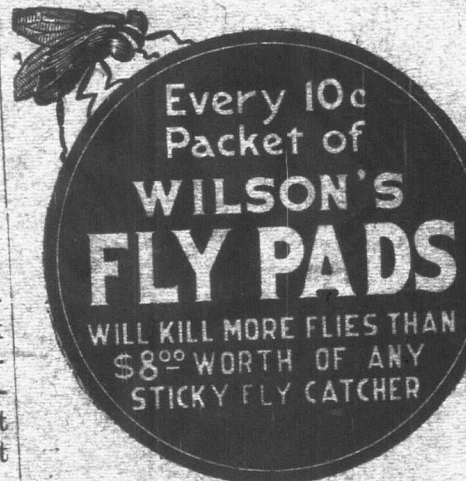

Ward Webb was painfully injured Saturday, the Bordeaux mixture from a sprayer accidentally squirting in his face and blinding him. He is now somewhat better and his eyesight will not be permanently injured.

George Wilkinson has moved into his new garage on the flat. Miss Inman of Moncton is visiting Miss Mollie Cody.

Ernest Ross spent Sunday with his friend, Chas. Gilland, who is also home from Boston on a two weeks vacation.

Re-opening of the P. B. Church

The re-opening for services of the Primitive Baptist church will occur on August 15 at 10:30 a.m. The opening sermon by the pastor, Rev. P. J. Quigg; substitute, Rev. C. H. Orser. The full program will be made up when the ministers arrive. They are all included in this invitation and are expected, who possibly can, to attend. The Primitive Baptist ministry will have the whole day for the three services. C. H. Orser will have charge and will provide speakers for the different services. He will ask the congregation for an offering at the close of all meetings to help pay the expense of refitting this church. Brother Wm. Cogswell is requested to take charge of the singing and Miss Lena Nixon of Lower Brighton is invited and expected to preside at the organ. A full choir will be present to aid the congregation in this very important part of the program. Ample preparations will be made for the temporal wants of all who choose to attend, and a general invitation is extended to all Christian bodies, ministers included. Come, Come, Come! to the Gospel feast.—Per order of committee—C. H. Orser.

ATTENTION! Potato Growers

Every indication points to a wet growing season this year, and we believe that our potato growers should insure themselves of prime quality potatoes this fall by spraying their potatoes NOW with a properly made BORDEAUX MIXTURE.

KIL-TONE

is the very best Vitriol Spray made for preventing Rust and Blight on Potatoes. Kil-Tone is a Ready Mixed Vitriol and Lime Spray Made Just Right and will do everything that a home made mixture will, without the worry and uncertainty of mixing and trouble in using. Kil-Tone has given satisfactory results to hundreds of growers in Aroostook county for three seasons.

KIL-TONE

Saves Time. Saves Labor. Easy to Mix.
No Burning. No Valve Trouble.
Every Pound Alike

KIL-TONE

Prevents Rust. Increases Yield. Does Not Readily Wash Off
Just Mix With Water and Spray

TO CONTROL THE BUGS: Use Arsenate of Lead, a poison paint for vines. It never burns, and sticks to the foliage and gives longer protection to the vines than Paris Green, which is readily washed off with rains. It may be added to Kil-Tone and sprayed at the same time.

We are prepared to supply these materials immediately to all potato growers in Victoria and Carleton counties at lowest prices.

TERMS: Cash or Fall payment to suit.
