PLAGIARISED AND OTHERWISE.

TO-NIGHT'S GAME.

A great deal depends on the outcome of to-night's game between the Red Lions and B.I.S. Inasmuch as the Lions must win in order to clinch the pennant. On the other hand, the Irishmen still cast lingering glances on a little old piece of silverware, and should they win their remaining two games they will tie up the League and make a playoff necessary. In any case, when these two crews meet the game will be a close one. The Red Lions have always got their money's worth out of an exciting clash always ensues. The game will be controlled by Mr. Chesman and Major Montgomerie, and the following will be the players:

	B.I.S.
Callahan	.....O'Leary
Hiltz	.....Brazie
Hayne	.....French
Callahan	.....O'Reilly
Conn	.....O'Donnell
Hiltz	.....Delaney
Hiltz	.....Wallace
Hiltz	.....Power
Hiltz	.....Connolly

WHAT O!

It's all very well for the carmen to tell the joy of a long strong pull, but for high class thrill, let me show you the old pill. It's a home run clout with the bases full.

THE GLOVE.

Did you ever notice the manner in which a pitcher makes his glove express his opinion of the umpire's ruling? You didn't? Well, then, just watch either of the pitchers to-night and see how they emphasize their views through the medium of the mitt. If Ches call a strike—which, of course, is hugely satisfactory to the pitcher—the flinger receives the catcher's throwback lightly on the glove or in both hands—hardly a perceptible smack can be heard as the ball settles in his grip. But if Ches calls a ball on one that the pitcher opted was good, the pitcher thrusts out his gloved hand and impacts it against the ball with a thump that can be heard all over the field. Hardly ever does a pitcher put out both hands for the ball when the decision hasn't pleased him—he almost invariably projects the glove and cracks the palm against the ball with fire and fury. It's a comical thing, and it comes off all the time—just watch Callahan and O'Leary to-night and see.

INFORMATION DEPARTMENT.

A Cub wants to know what is the correct decision on a batted ball that rebounds and strikes the batsman? Mr. Cub should have a heart. It's labour enough grinding out this dope daily without having to delve into complicated baseball rules to solve knotty problems. However in answer to his query we should judge that whether the batsman is out or not depends on where he is standing when the ball strikes him; if he is standing in his box, it is a foul ball; if he is in motion on fair ground, he is out. Some persons (including Mr. Chesman) claim that part of the batsman's box is fair territory, but major league umpires say it is not.

THE WAIL OF THE MANAGER.

You've gotta quit kickin' the ball around.
You've gotta quit botch'n the pill.
You've gotta go some for the folks of this town.

Or I'll get me some players who will.

You've gotta quit takin' so many strikes.

You've gotta stand up at that plate.
You've gotta quite fannin' like booby match mikes.

You've gotta quit strikin' too late.

You've gotta quit chuckin' that ball so high.

You've got quit peggin' them low.

You've gotta get speed up if you wanta get by.

Or right off the team you'll go.

You've gotta get out on those bases some more.

You've gotta keep hittin' that pill.

You've gotta get busy an' pile up the score.

Or I'll hire me some athletes who will.

They've gotta quit kickin' our team around.

They've gotta get other bait.

We've gotta whip up or the bugs of this town.

Will say we're quite out of date.

On the Right Track.

(Ladie's Home Journal.)
Dr. J. M. Buckley, the Methodist divine, was asked one day to conduct an "experience meeting" at a colored church in the South.

A colored woman arose and bore witness to the preciousness of her religion as light-bringer and comfort-giver.

"That's good, sister," commented Dr. Buckley. "But how about the practical side. Does your religion make you strive to prepare your husband a good dinner? Does it make you look after him in every way?"

Just then Dr. Buckley felt a yank at his coat-tails by the colored preacher, who whispered ardently:—"Press dem questions, doctor; press dem questions. Dat's my wife!"
