THE OLD CLOWN'S PRICE.

Dan Rice Places an Obstacle in the Way of His Engagement.

Dan Rice Places an Obstacle in the Way of His Engagement.

A mention of old Dan Rice in yesterday's Sun as the defendant in a police court suit probably astonished thousands of readers who had long numbered the veteran clown among the dead. He has not been formally before the public, save as a benefit now and then, in twenty years; and he has been in as deep obscurity since 1885 as if he had never once been of the biggest circus value known in this country. He ages gracefully, and he is just as proud of himself as he used to be in the palmy days of the white tents. Once in a while some keen manager of today conceives an idea that the old man's name and fame could be put to profitable use in a stage venture of this era, and so Dan is thus brought up to contemporaneous theatricals, which he does not view with awe, to say the least. Klaw & Erlanger, who, with Charles B. Jefferson, are going to send out a realistic play called "The Country Circus" next season, counted upon an appropriate and valuable attraction in Rice, who, they contemplated, would be introduced in their genuine circus ring, and would give to modern play goers a fifteenminutes' sample of the drollery that once convulsed the American public from Maine to California. They sent for Rice, and Erlanger conducted the negotiations. He dwelt rather, lightly upon the old clown's share in the entertainment, remarking that it was for only a quarter of an hour or twenty minutes in the ring, that M'der All.

WIVES AND DAUGHTERS

Journal Written for Women by Women.

ONDUCTED BY MRS. JOHN CAMERON, ASSISTED BY MISS ETHELWYN WETHERALD.

Friendly Words from Miss Frances E.
Willard.
"Wives and Daughters," edited by Mrs.
John Cameron and Miss Ethelwyn Wetherald, is a publication that shows how our aid, is a publication that shows hore our Canadian cousins are marching on in their day and generation to the great empire and beautiful land of men and women. We live at present in the men's world; we hope never to live in the women's world, though we think it would perhaps be fully as good as the men's; but one bisected globe is sufficient. What we want to see is the men and women's men's; but one bisected globe is superent.
What we want to see is the men and women's world, and its luminous orb rises even now above the horizon. This new monthly will help to hasten that luminary toward its proper place in the zenith, for the new magazine conserves the home idea, and tells how to make home what it should be in small and great affairs alike. It has a winsome kindliness of visage, and we believe will become the attached friend of all Canadian women who may listen to its utterances, and to Yankee women also if they will but have the wit and wisdom to subscribe. Yours for a treaty of reciprocity,
FRANCES E WILLARD.
