Signs of Prosperity.

The Bank of British North America has increased its business 53 per cent in the last five years.A pulp mill to turn out 100 tons a day is to be built in Ottawa.The manufacture of fine tapestry and velvet carpet is to be started in Sherbrooke, Quebec, by an English company. Four hundred hands will be employed.Immense pulp mills are to be built immediately at Port Frances, Rainy River.The Canada Cold Storage Company has been incorporated in Montreal with a capital of $1,000,000.A very large lumber mill will be erected either at Port Arthur or Port William, which will cut 10,000,000 feet a year. A Michigan firm are the proprietors, and they come to Canada to do their work as a consequence of the policy of our Government.

A Telling Contrast.

The reason for the persistent Opposition denunciation of Hon. Mr. Tarte in Ontario is well known. The Opposition manipulators have never forgotten the Minister of Public Works because he exposed the colossal rascalities that were permitted under the late regime, and they desire to get even with him on that account. They also hope, by attacking him, to add to the strength of their private canvas against the Government because it has a French-speaking man at its head.That the attacks on Mr. Tarte are without warrant is shown by the fact that though he has been head of the Department of Public Works for over four years, not one of his opponents is able to point to a dollar that has been wrongfully spent.The record of Hon. Mr. Tarte stands in marked contrast with that of his predecessors in office, under whose regime millions of dollars of public money were, by one expedient or another, filched from the public purse and appropriated to the use of the contributors to the campaign funds of the Conservative party. Witness such colossal steals as the Curran bridge, the Quebec and Esquimaux docks and Section "B."Mr. Tarte has challenged one of his traders to meet him at Toronto and present his accusations before the public, so that they can be the judges. So far, however, Mr. Macdonald has not had the courage to agree to a meeting.

They Cannot Be Trusted.

So great is the demand for coal in Cape Breton that the mine owners have been compelled to decline an offer from the British Government to supply the navy at Halifax, N. S. Never before, indeed, have the mines been so busy, or so many miners found employment.
How different all this is from the prophesies of the opponents of Hon. W. S.
Fielding, Finance Minister of Canada, who maintained that the bargain he made would ruin the industry, shut up the mines, and prevent Great Britain from coal. He, too, will have a crowded and enthusiastic audience, if anything no doubt more crowded and enthusiastic than that which greeted Sir Charles Tupper. Then, if it is honest, our Montreal contemporary will have to reverse its opinion, and point out that the demonstration in Toronto, following the phenomenal demonstration in honor of the premier and his colleagues in Montreal, means that he,
and not Sir Charles, will carry not only Ontario but the country.

Not as Known by Sir John.

In Bruce county, a leading Liberal is being berated because at one time he supported the Conservative party, although he now holds that the present Government should not be turned out to give place to Sir Charles Tupper and his associates. Down in New Brunswick, Hon. John Costigan and Attorney General Riggley, who both at one time supported the late administration, are now strongly opposed to Tupper-ism, and they have thousands of followers. Indeed, the Conservative party, as Sir John Macdonald led it, no longer exists. It is a thing of the past, and the leader who is to revive it, so as to secure its success, does not appear to be yet in sight.

Laurier and Canadian unity.

The statue of Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, Canada's honored statesman, which will at an early day be erected on Parliament Square, Ottawa, represents the Liberal statesman in the attitude of addressing the House, his right hand slightly raised, his features betokening the grave earnestness which was his chief characteristic in debate.
Two allegorical figures grace the pedestal, representing industry and integrity—a youth, compass in hand, pointing diligently over a chart, and a herald figure holding a shield which bears the legend "Duty was his law, and Conscience his ruler." From base to crown the statue will be at least 25 feet high.

Manufacturers and Mechanics.

Dr. Roddick and Mr. Quinn, retiring Opposition M. P.s, owed their election in two divisions in Montreal in 1896 to the fact that the majority of the manufacturers and mechanics in their districts believed the cry of "blue ruin" preached by them and other Tupper organizers, and were afraid that the country would go to the dogs under Liberal rule, as they prophesied.Canada being more prosperous, in manufacturing, in farming and in every occupation of life under the present Government than in any previous period of the existence of the Dominion, these false prophets are now doomed to defeat, and their agents have been making overtures to Liberal M.P.s, offering to secure their election by acclamation if they, too, are permitted to be returned unopposed.Such an exhibition of weakness is significant of the condition of affairs in other centers of population besides Montreal.The manufacturers and their employees, having been treated with fairness by the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, as well as all other classes in the country, cannot again be cajoled to give their support to the Opposition.
The workers of the country, indeed, have discovered that far from being enemies, the present Government are their friends. Not in words, but in acts, has this been shown.

The Two Faces.

In the Northwest, the Opposition orators and newspapers are arguing that Hon. Mr. Sifton and other Government candidates should be defeated because the tax on agricultural implements, clothing and other supplies has not been sufficiently reduced by the present Administration. In Quebec and Ontario, Sir Charles Tupper, Hugh John Macdonald and Mr. Foster take very opposite ground, and call upon the electors to place them again in power that the taxes on commodities entertained in favor of Great Britain and reimpose the old N. P. duties. Indeed, some of the Opposition candidates are urging the defeat of the Liberals, so that the taxes on commodities entering Canada may be made higher.

Something to Rejoice Over.

Some very pertinent comments are made on the year's Dominion balance sheet by the Shareholder, an independent Canadian journal. It says:"Such a result as this speaks well for the condition of the Dominion's finances, as with the heavy expenditure incurred during the past year, including that connected with the South African contingents sent by this country, it would have been natural to look for a large addition to the public debt, but instead of a large addition we find that it is $554,706 less than it was at the same time last year."This is how the Shareholder exposes the hollowness of the Opposition outcry with regard to the increased income:"The large increase in customs is not due to any increase in duties on imports, but to an increased volume in many cases, notably those of British manufactures, at reduced rates, the result of which was that the consumer received better value for his money than before the adoption of the preferential tariff on such manufactures."

Toronto Not the Whole Province

That staid old joker, the Montreal Gazette, argues that because there was a crowded audience in Massey Hall to hear Sir Charles Tupper speak the Province will go Tupper in the coming general elections. Toronto is not Ontario, though some of its residents may at times act as if they thought so. But one of these days Sir Wilfrid Laurier will come to Toronto. He, too, will have a crowded and enthusiastic audience, if anything
astic than that which greeted Sir Charles Tupper. Then, if it is honest,
leagues in Montreal, means that he,
only Ontario but the country.The Gazette must know that neither Ontario nor any other Province in the Dominion is pining for the re-establishment in power of the men whom in a moment of candor Sir Mackenzie Bowell denounced as a nest of "traitors," for a reversal of the tariff preference in favor of Great Britain, and for a going back to the depressing conditions that prevailed when the Tupper-Macdonald-Foster combination was driven from office.

Write This on Your Banner.

Speaking in the House of Commons just before prorogation, Mr. Fielding said:"We shall appeal to the country with a record of which any government and any country may be proud. We will point to a record of four years of good government—four years of clean government—unstained by the blotches which mark the career of honorable gentlemen opposite; four years of splendid development of Canada, both in her material interests and her national advancement; four years of remarkable success in the financial and commercial development of the country; four years of a truly imperial policy, which has given Canada a position in the eyes of the empire and the world such as she has never occupied before; four years of that kind of settled government which commands the confidence of capital and industry; four years of busy activity among the working classes of Canada, who have found themselves busier, happier and more prosperous than ever before; fouryears of peace, instead of that condition of affairs which at one time threatened this country with serious differences of a religious character; four years of peace, four years of progress; four years of such prosperity as this country never before knew."The number of centenarians now extant in Canada and the United States shows the North American continent to be pretty healthy in its tendencies, when it gets anything like a fair chance in the way of co-operation.In four years of Liberal rule the foreign trade of Canada increased $12,- 600,000. In the previous eighteen years of Conservative rule it increased only $55,620,000. As the Toronto Star remarks, call it luck if you like, but do not turn off the tap of luck until this country gets some more of it."Sir Wilfrid Laurier is too British for me." So says Sir Charles Tupper.Though late in the season, Canada is getting many good immigrants yet.
Among those lately arrived is a party of 124 Scottish miners engaged to go to Nanaimo, where there is plenty of work, and ten Irishmen and their families—36 in all—for Brantford, where they have been engaged to cure hams and bacon in the Irish method.
They will be followed by others equally expert.A noted English writer in the Contemporary Review for September says:
"The most interesting figure at the jubilee after the Queen was not Mr.
Chamberlain, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier.
That the English people grasped it is a happy sign of their awakening imperialism."This but confirms the view entertained by all Canadians who saw the wonderful spectacle. Canada has reason to be proud of her premier.

Canada is well satisfied with Laurier.

According to a Berlin professor, Dr.
Rietz, the language of the future will be English. The professor sees in the spread of the language in Australia and America a sign of the coming victory of English. Naturally, he is not quite sure of its right to hold this proud position. With true patriotism he points out that the German grammar has a much more logical structure than the English. But logic does not conquer all things, nor determine them in this world. English will become the universal world speech.—St. James' Gazette.

The workmen are not to be bam-boozled by the Mail. They can remember, the older of them, the promise of the Conservative leaders that they had a policy that would give everybody work at his own wages. It was during their reign that the worst depression Canada has ever suffered set in, and Kingston's mechanics followed the mechanics of other places to the United States for work. Some of them returned to Canada later on, in the last four years, but the bulk of them, many thousands, have remained away to its great loss and injury.

A PLEASANT AFFAIR

Reopening of Ottawa Normal School—Remarks by Hon. George W. Ross and Principal Merchant.Just 25 years ago Saturday the Ottawa Normal School was officially declared open by the Lieutenant-governor of Ontario, at that time Hon. D. A.
Macdonald. Dr. MacCabe was the first principal of the school, and has ever since occupied that important position, with credit to himself and marked benefit not only to this institution, but to the advance of education throughout Canada, during which time, too, more than 5,000 students have passed through the course here. Most of these have themselves become teachers throughout this continent, and it is estimated that the influence of Dr. MacCabe has thus directly and indirectly been felt by at least 200,000 of the pupils graduated in the schools of Canada.At the reopening on Saturday, among those present were: Hon. George W.
Ross, premier of Ontario; Hon. F.
R. Latchford; Hon. R. W. Scott, secretary of state, who was instrumental in establishing the school; Rev. H. A.
Constantineau, rector, Ottawa University, and a number of other distinguished men.

The students at present attending took the opportunity of presenting Dr.

MacCabe with a useful travelling companion and an address, expressing their recognition of the privilege of being the class during such an important term of the school, and wishing a continuation of his success to their principal. The Grey Nuns presented a silver inkstand in recognition of service rendered their educational work by Dr.
MacCabe.

CHINESE PAUL REVERE

Rode From Tien Tsin to Taku With First News of Uprising.The ride of Jim Watts is fit to go down in history beside that of Paul Revere, for he saved the lives of foreigners in Tien Tsin. Instead of successful colonists to whom to deliver his message of warning, it was Watts' duty to ride 60 miles through a hostile country teeming with savages ready to subvert him to slow torture. When the Boxers, after two days of bombardment, had almost succeeded in overcoming the foreigners in Tien Tsin, nine men of the legations started for Taku in a boat. Later in the day came back the word that the boat had been run aground and the nine men killed.
Later it proved that this report was not true, though the boat had been run ashore and the nine men scattered and obliged to flee for their lives to escape the fury of the Boxers. The result in either case was the same—no word of warning had reached Taku, where the foreign gunboats lay, and from which place alone succor could come to beleaguered Tien Tsin.When the report came that the other messengers had been killed Jim Watts volunteered to ride to Taku.
Watts was born in China 22 years ago, the son of a Taku pilot, and he is brave as a lion. The foreigners insisted that the youth be accompanied by three Cossacks, and, though Watts preferred to make the ride alone, he allowed himself to be prevailed upon.
It was just at midnight when he left Tien Tsin. The city was blazing behind him, and some shells passed perilously near. He left the place noiselessly, but as soon as he was out in the open country he put spurs to his dead. As his son, Viscount Curzon, who is a candidate for parliament in the South Buckingham district, succeeds to the peerage the Conservatives will now nominate Mr. William Henry Grenfell, the celebrated sportsman, for South Buckinghamshire.
