New East River Bridge Badly Damaged.

LOSS ESTIMATED AT $500,000

Flames Shooting 355 Feet in the Air Beyond Reach of Fire Apparntus-No Lives Lost.

New York, Nov. 10.-The new East River bridge in process of construction between New York and Brooklyn was damaged to the amount of at least half a million dollars tonight by a fire that for five hours raged 355 feet in the air on the summit of the great steel tower on the New York side. Three men who were at work on the top of the tower when the fire broke out are reported to have fallen into the river.

OUT OF REACH. Owing to the enormous height of the tower it was utterly impossible to reach the fire with any apparatus in the fire department, and the flames, after devouring all the woodwork on the top of the tower, seized on the timber false work of the two foot bridges suspended from the main cables, burning away the supports until nearly a million feet of blazing lumber fell with a light splash into the stream. The fall of the foot bridge carried away scores of the lighter cables and guys, which trailed in the water, rendering it necessary for the police to stop all traffic up and down the river. The Fall River steamer Puritan and several other craft had narrow escapes while running the gauntlet of fiery brands that fell in showers from the burning bridge. The fire was the MOST SPECTACULAR CONFLAusually sold at 25c, sale GRATION that has ever been seen in New York, price 20c each-10 per cent the great body of flames being visible all over the city and lighting up the river and shores for miles up and Large assortment of Ladies' Fine Embroidered down the stream. The fire started in a tool shed, in which there were several forges used for heating rivets, and from this spread to the great timber framework, where many casks of oil, tar and other inflammable material were located. Within five minutes after the first discovery of the fire the whole top of the tower was in a blaze. The firemen succeeded after an hour's struggle in dragging 700 feet of hose to the top of the tower, but the pressure repeatedly burst the hose, and the firemen were forced to retreat to the steel frame of the structure and watch the woodwork burn until the foot bridges fell, carrying with them many tons of bolts and rivets and

FIREBOAT DAMAGED.

At that moment the Brooklyn fireboat, David A. Boody, was just below the bridge, and a heavy steel beam fell on her, breaking her rudder and sending her helplessly drifting down stream. The Fall River steamer Priscilla, which followed in the wake of the Boody, turned back rather than run the gauntlet of hail or fire and steel from the bridge. She put back to her dock and her passengers were forwarded by train.

Caniel Brophy and his brother John, 1: A. P. 11c1 unknown men were reported to have been at work on the tower when the Presbyterlan Minister Stricken Down Youth Shot at a Rabbit and Mortally fire started. While they were helping the firemen to haul up the hose the framework on which they stood lapsed, and the two Brophys and the unknown man were HURLED INTO THE RIVER. McBride saved himself by catching a piece of projecting steelwork. While the fire was at its height party of firemen were cut off at the base of the tower, where they were exposed to a torrent of brands and red hot pieces of steel. They were rescued after several had been severe-burned. Brands from the tower set fire to the big storehouse of the Pennsylvania Steel Company of the level of the main roadway of the bridge, 125 feet above the water. The storehouse was entirely consumed, and its contents of nuts, bolts, rivets and tools were hurled into the river together with two hoisting derricks on the plat-BATTLING WITH SMALLPOX form.

BURNED EVERYTHING COMBUS-TIBLE.

It was 11 o'clock before the flames had devoured everything combustible leaving only the steel tower and the four 18 half-inch steel cables stretching across the river. These cables were recently completed save for the steel sheating, and it is feared that they have been badly damaged by the intense heat. Should it be necessary to replace them the labor of two years would be brought to naught. Chief Engineer Martin, in charge of the bridge construction, said to-night that of the four steel saddles weighing 34 tons on top of the tower. three were red hot, but were un-damaged. Of the four cables resting on the saddles, two, he found, would have to be partially replaced by splicing. This would involve a delay of at least four months. The remaining cables suffered little injury. The two foot bridges cost $1,222,000. They are half destroyed, which means a loss of $100,000. The cables cost $1,225,000, and the loss on them will fall on the contractors. John A. Roebing & Sons Company. Mr. Martin said that there was no danger of the falling of the tower or the cables.

NO LIVES LOST. It is officially announced that no lives were lost during the fire, the three men reported killed having been accounted for.

Toronto, Nov. 10.-Justice Osler this morning gave judgment dismissing application to set aside the Lennox election petition on a technicality. The motion was heard on Saturday.

A Lady Says: COMPOUND

Has Been Worth Hundreds of Dollars to Me.

After Eighteen Years of Awful Agony.

All weary and disheartened sick people and those who have lost faith in the remedies they have used in the past, because none of them have given indications of cheering results, should now be filled with a strong determination to make use of the one medicine that cures disease—the new agent of new life that saves hopeless and despairing sufferers after all other agencies and means fall.

The thousands of victims of tormenting neuralgia after reading the testimony of Mrs. G. H. Parker, of Winona, Ont., must see, that to avoid a continuance of suffering and the possibility of sudden death, it is absolutely necessary to use Paine's Celery Compound, the only medicine that successfully banishes neuralgia and kindred nerve diseases. Mrs. Parker

"I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia for nearly eighteen years, and my sufferings at times were so bad that words fail to describle them. After having tried a host of remedies. I was persuaded to use Paine's Celery Compound. I am happy to say that I am now a different woman and completely cured. I can recommend Paine's Celery Compound; it has been worth hundreds of dollars to me."

Business at the Soc.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 11.-It is almost certain now that the freight tonnage passing through the Soo Canal for the season of 1902 will reach thirty-five million tons. Up to the first of the month the freight for the season had amounted to 30,931,213 tons, an excess over the corresponding month of last year of 6,387,603 tons. With the amount of ore, grain and lumber yet to come down from the head of the lakes, and the large amount of coal that is expected to pass up, the tonnage for the month should reach four which would leave less than 70.000 tons to pass the canal in becomper to reach the thirty-five million mark. October business holds the record for any corresponding month, with 4,618,291 tons of freight. Carrie Nation Rescued David. BRITISH PEER Shocking Scandal in Higher Circles of Nobility.

THE KING HAD TO TAKE ACTION

Two Persons Sentenced to Prison-At Least Thirty Identified With the Case.

Chicago, Nov. 10 .- A London, England, cable to the Inter-Ocean says: It is impossible entirely to ignore the startling evidence of degeneracy in high places, which is the talk of all London. It is a matter blacker and more extensive than the Cleveland street scandal of fifteen years ago, and involves names of wider than English reputation. So abhorrent is the story so widespread are its ramifications, that it has been decided to burk the full exposure and to avoid, to some extent, a great national disgrace and the pollution of the public mind.

Justice will, therefore, only be partially executed, and in its place will be substituted an unofficial decree of banishment, which will expatriate at least one prominent peer. Another still greater name, which must not be indicated, is, to use the expression employed by the police in the case, tinged by scandal. THIRTY PERSONS IMPLICATED.

No less than 30 persons have already been identified with this infamous coterie. They are nearly all men of advanced years, wealthy, and members of aristocratic families.

The only public action in the case which has been taken so far was the conviction of two men at the Norwich Assizes last week. Bernard Frazer, a son of Gen. Fraser, a member of the Bachelors' and other swell clubs, pleaded guilty on several counts and was sentenced to ten years of penal Application to Set Aside Lennox servitude. Arthur Thorold, a nephew of the late Bishop Thorold, a tutor at Eton, made the same plea and was sentenced to five years.

The magistrate, Justice Grantham, in passing sentence, said that this was one of the most painful cases that he or any other judge had ever been called upon to try. Here were two men, bearing names that had been honored in the field and forum, and in every branch of life, who had pleaded guilty to one of the most discreditable offenses known to the law. Fraser's case, the judge said, was the worst he ever heard of. While moving in high society, he had been leading a double life and debauching others.

APPALLING FACTS. The judge thanked the British naval captain who furnished the evidence which led to the exposure by intercepting letters addressed to the members of the crew of his vessel. Investigations by the police led to the discovery of such appalling infamy that became a serious question of public PAINE'S CELERY policy as to how far they should proceed in their inquiries, which had led ceed in their inquiries, which had led them to well-known country houses, private yachts, and other quarters of the most wealthy and aristocratic cir-

It was soon learned that the chief figure in this criminal band was a well-known nobleman. It should be said, to prevent confusion with a famous earl, whose name was connected A Happy and Complete Cure street scandal, that the present indiby private gossip with the Cleveland vidual is one of the peers created by Gladstone. He was formerly a member of Parliament, and at that time was regarded as the handsomest man in the House of Commons. He has held high office, and married the daughter of one of the wealthiest families in the world. He is also rich in his own

This matter assumed such ominous shape that, according to the current version in clubland, it was brought to the attention of the King. His majesty's decision was that the offending peer, who is now ill, must leave England as soon as he is able to travel never to return.

ANOTHER SENSATIONAL CASE. Perhaps it is a mere coincidence that sensational narrative should be published, just at this time, credited to a clergyman, "whose name is renowned throughout England, and who is a near relative of a member of the pres-ent Government." He was summoned ne evening to Richmond, which is London's most aristocratic suburb, to the bedside of a dying girl. He was conducted by the back way to a large mansion, which was apparently dark and was situated on extensive ground. GIRL'S DYING STORY.

The girl told a terrible story, the details of which have not been disclosed. The girl died before he left. He refused to accompany an attendant to the rear when he descended, but went through the front rooms, where he found an orgy going on. Many men were being entertained by very young girls. Fully twenty men servants in gorgeous livery were scattered about He paid no attention to these people at first, but presently he saw a drunken, decrepit man of at least 70 of age speak to a mere child. The girl shrank away. The master of the establishment, who has since been identified as a certain French vicomite, signaled to a footman, who seized the girl and carried her from the room. The child screamed and struggled violently. Thereupon the clergyman stepped up to the manager, and asked him what he meant by such brutality, and what was the meaning of the whole conduct of the house. The reverend narrator concludes his story thus: "I have never seen such amazement as was depicted on the faces of all those present, and I am firmly vinced that I owe my life to the presence of two individuals who, if are depraved, are at least men, but each. I regret to say, is a member of one of the Houses of Parliament. left the house, not only with the girl mentioned but with two of her companions who, rushing up to me, claimed my protection."

A Sure Cure for Constipation. Some remedies cure this distressing complaint in a day, some in a month, but Nerviline never falls to cure in a few minutes. Just ten drops of Nerviline in sweetened water—that's enough, and away goes the dysentery, cures to stay cured. Nerviline also cured cramps, colic, pain in the stomach and sick headache. It has five times the strength and curative properties of ordinary remedies, and should be in every household. Better
