

LONDON MAN WILL SUPERINTEND EXHIBIT

A. M. Hunt Will Have Charge of the Hardware Show at Hamilton.

Mr. A. M. Hunt, secretary of the Western Fair, has been invited to superintend the exhibition of the Canadian Hardware Exhibits Association to be held in Hamilton in February. He has accepted.

Two years ago the Retail Hardware Association held an exhibit in London, which Mr. Hunt supervised. Since that time the manufacturers have taken over the exhibition feature, and have formed an organization known as the Canadian Hardware Exhibits Association. When it was decided to hold a convention this year, Mr. Hunt was communicated with, and offered the position of superintendent. He was in Hamilton this week, making preliminary arrangements.

ORDER OUT ALL HANDS

Stage Workers Will Ask International Head to Do So.

It was announced today that the Stage Hands' Union, now on strike at the Grand Opera House, will ask the international organization to order out the road hands at the end of the week. Mr. S. Loughrey, past president of the organization, informed The Advertiser yesterday that such would be the case.

"The road men will be out by the end of the week," he said. "Some of them wanted to go out before this, but we thought we would settle the matter amicably."

The Grand Opera House has a gang of ten men working. They were secured from Guelph, St. Thomas and Stratford. They are all experienced men, but they do not belong to the union. Sensational developments are expected shortly. Some person or persons have been circulating cards warning theatregoers to stay away from the Grand Opera House. This is a restraint of trade and indictments may follow.

STREET RAILWAY NEEDS MORE POWER

Company Is Said To Be More Favorable to Niagara Power Now.

MAY COME TO PEAK LOAD

Opening of New Line in North End Will Mean That Much More Energy Will Be Needed by the Company.

While it is known that the London Street Railway Company is still carrying on negotiations with several companies, including a St. Louis concern, for the purchase of machinery with which to equip its proposed new steam generated power plant, it is also said to be a fact that the directors are inclined to give any proposition from the hydro-electric commission very earnest consideration.

The street railway company needs power now and needs it badly. A line of cars heavily laden in getting under way will cause frequent interruptions even when the present plant is delivering its best load. Examples of this trouble make it apparent that the company must take action soon, and it is pointed out, the need will be more urgent when the new extensions are completed and many additional cars are in operation.

The Chesapeake and William street line will be ready for use before the end of the year, and this section alone will require a considerable amount of power.

The possibility of securing a better proposition from the hydro-electric commission since Brantford has decided to come into the scheme has caused the company to ask for further information, and it is understood that Manager C. B. King, who is in Toronto today, is there to discuss power.

The street railway has secured prices on electrical appliances, showing that the equipment required for generation of their own power would cost about the same amount as the machinery necessary to adapt hydro current to the uses of the company here. The time for installation would also place both propositions on an equal footing, it is said.

Good Will of the City. "The good will of the city is worth something," the street railway, an official of the company told The Advertiser, "and for that reason the company would be inclined to look favorably upon any reasonable hydro proposition. Even if hydro costs a little more the directors would not offer serious objection, but the prudence of Niagara power is a business proposition and must stand pretty well on its merits. The directorate appreciates the fact that there would be better feeling with city authorities, in conducting other business if the contract with the commission were signed."

Change of Opinion. The company has undergone a change of opinion, and it is said, has now come to the conclusion that the peak load, which proved the most objectionable feature during the last negotiations, is necessary. One thousand and horse-power is the amount which is calculated to meet the requirements of the company.

CUSTOMS AND HABITS IN THE HOLY LAND

Rev. Dr. Schor's Interesting Address in the Armories.

Rev. Dr. Schor, manager of the Palestine Exhibition, which is holding forth in the Armories, gave two addresses Tuesday morning and evening in which he told of the customs and habits of the people of the ancient holy land.

The speaker especially spoke on the manner of exchanging greetings one to another, and which to the inhabitants of Palestine is a very important proceeding. To a person of honor this proceeding will take up fully two hours of time, but this lessens gradually in proportion to the importance of the person being greeted. If a person is not greeted in some form, a breach of social etiquette is registered that leaves a stain.

Among the unique booths is the one belonging to the Foreign Bible Society, where Bibles and textbooks in hundreds of different languages are on display and hold the visitors' interests for a considerable time.

The tearoom, where a light lunch may be had at any time, is also the mecca for a large number of the guests, who enjoy a repast and social chat amid surroundings, so typical of the Jewish world and race.

BENNETT—JUPP

Popular City Hall Official Weds a Charming Lady.

St. James' Anglican Church, South London, was the scene of a quiet but interesting ceremony yesterday (Nov. 5), at 4 p.m., when Miss Marie Evelyn Jupp, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jupp, 301 Pall Mall street, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry James Bennett, a member of the city hall staff, and youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett, of Belfast and Dromore, Ireland.

Miss Myrtle Chantler assisted the bride, and the groomsmen were Mr. Charles McGarry, The Very Rev. Evans Davis, dean of Huron, performed the ceremony. The bride was very handsomely robed in a gown of cream satin with tunic of baby Irish lace. She wore a Juliet cap, trimmed with orange blossoms, and carried a white prayer book.

The bridesmaid was very charming in pink satin with tunic of blue nylon, and trimmings of crystal, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

After the ceremony a reception was tendered to about 60 guests at the home of the bride's parents. The dining-room was very prettily embellished with palms and chrysanthemums. Telegrams of congratulations were received, and the happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, some of them coming from Ireland and Australia. The groom's gift was a set of furs. The bridesmaid received from the groom a pretty cameo ring, and the groomsmen received a handsome tie pin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett will be at home

Zam-Buk Cured His Sores

Cures Also Chapped Hands and Chibblains

Mr. Charles Hardy, of 558 Home street, Winnipeg, says: "My eldest son has proved the value of Zam-Buk and we would not be without a supply in the house. He had both ears so badly frozen that we became alarmed for fear they should have to be amputated. His ears were swollen to several times their usual size, and were very much discolored. Large blisters formed, and then these burst and painful sores on both ears resulted. The sores mattered, scales formed and the boy suffered terribly.

"The preparations which we at first used were found next to useless, in fact the wounds grew steadily worse, so we then tried Zam-Buk and found a great improvement in one or two applications. "We continued with this herbal balm until the scales and foul matter were cleared away thoroughly, and healing began. In a week from first using this excellent balm the lad's ears were almost well again. In three weeks you would never have known his ears had been frozen, so well had Zam-Buk brought about healing."

Here is but one illustration out of scores how superior Zam-Buk is to other salves. It also cures chapped hands, chilblains, piles, inflamed sores, eczema, ringworm, scalp sores, ulcers, abscesses, blood-poison, cuts, burns, scalds, and all skin injuries and diseases. On account of its purity and its herbal composition, it is the ideal balm for babies and young children.

to their friends at their residence, 775 Waterloo street, after Dec. 1.

Mrs. Bennett's travelling costume was strictly tailored and navy blue in color, and her hat of black satin beaver.

A very pleasing coincidence in connection with the above event was that the day was the 22nd anniversary of the wedding of the bride's parents by the same officiating clergyman.

A HALLOWEEN SOCIAL

Enjoyable Affair Held in Adelaide Street Baptist Church.

The B. Y. P. U. of Adelaide Street Baptist Church had a very successful Halloween social evening. There was a large attendance of young people, and the decoration of the church with lanterns and flowers reflected much credit on the decoration committee.

A Serious Joke on The Rabbit

The U.S. Gov't has been experimenting to discover the poisonous quality of Caffeine (found in tea and coffee).

57 healthy rabbits were given an average dose of 5 I-10 grains.

---They all died.

See Gov't Bulletin No. 148, Bureau of Chemistry.

A cup of coffee contains over 2 1-2 grains of Caffeine; enough in two cups to kill a rabbit.

A cup of tea contains over 1 1-2 grains—enough Caffeine in four cups to more than kill the rabbit.

Of course the joke was on the rabbits.

A goodly number of humorous Americans play the same joke on themselves and keep it up until some fixed form of disease sets in, as a result of the daily dose of Caffeine, in quantity enough to kill a rabbit, but only enough to

Cripple a Man

Not at one blow, but by little blows repeated daily.

Of course some systems are strong enough to stand all kinds of abuse, but when a man or woman observes a growing nervousness, or heart trouble, stomach, bowel or eye disturbances, it is time to quit the daily dose of coffee and see if Nature will begin to heal.

It is easy to shift from coffee to Postum. The food beverage has the deep, seal-brown color which turns to a golden-brown when cream is added. The flavor has the crisp tang so winning to the palate and the cup is made INSTANTLY by one struck spoonful of the powder.
