

TODAY'S GAME MAY BE DUEL BETWEEN VETERANS

Plank and Mathewson Are Regarded as Likely Pitching Choices—Drizzling Rain and Heavy Fog Make Poor Outlook for Game—Merkle's Ankle Said To Be Injured and He May Not Play.

[Canadian Press.] Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—A light drizzling rain fell during the night, and this morning a heavy mist overhung the city, making everything wet and dripping. However, if no more rain falls the second game of the world's baseball series will be played here today, as the field at Shibe Park is in fairly good condition.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—The battle for supremacy in the baseball world between the champions of the National and American Leagues, which auspiciously opened at Philadelphia yesterday on the Polo Grounds in New York, was shifted today to Shibe Park, in this city. The New York Giants, National League winners, are at home, while the Philadelphia Athletics, American League pennant winners, are determined to repeat their success on the home grounds and make it two straight.

Despite a drizzling rain which set in before midnight, and continued until early today, more than a thousand fans camped outside Shibe Park, many of them since 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in order to get choice bleacher seats for the second contest. If the predictions of the weatherman hold true, these devoted followers of the national pastime may have their long vigil in vain.

"Take a chance," was, however, the motto of the throng, which, when the gates were opened, swarmed the streets surrounding the park and numbered many thousands. Weariness as a result of their long wait was forgotten when those in line began to talk about the Athletics' victory of yesterday. With the Giants on deck at their home grounds, the waiting fans felt certain that they were to witness another victory for their heroes. A squad of policemen saw that only one person held a single place in the line and perfect order was maintained. Most of the people said that they intended to see the game themselves, but there were some speculators who disposed of their places to late arrivals.

Peddlers Did Great Business. Peanut, sandwich and sausage vendors did a thriving business along the line. Many of the men and boys, however, brought their own lunches, and some of the early arrivals came with food enough for four meals. Soap boxes, boards, camp-stools and improvised seats of all kinds were pushed against the park wall, so that many of the waiters were quite comfortable. One of them had provided himself with a sofa and blankets and secured several hours' sleep during the night. Two enterprising youngsters rigged up a long board resting upon two soap boxes and sold seats thereon at 25 cents each.

The neighborhood of Shibe Park was rife with activity this morning. Householders whose residences border the park on two sides were arranging seats on their roofs, from which spectators may see the game, and for which good prices were secured. Hundreds of persons went to the grounds for no other purpose than to see the eager fans.

Ticket speculators were much in evidence on the street today, and at the hotels, and a number of the coupons were disposed of at many times their face value. One $2 seat for the three days sold for $40. The vendors generally refused to sell the seats separately.

Police arrangements include a special detail of men to guard the Giants' leader and all his players while in the city. The plans of the police for the games are the most elaborate that were ever made by the local authorities in connection with baseball. Five hundred bluecoats and more than fifty plain-clothes men have been assigned to the park, while many detectives will be distributed through the crowd in the stands to protect the spectators from pickpockets. It is said that absolute orders have been issued to suppress open betting on the contest within the confines of the park.

Looks Like the Two Veterans. Weather conditions may have much to do in determining which batteries will be chosen by the opposing managers. However, Mathewson, McGraw's standby in many previous campaigns, will undoubtedly be in the box for the Giants, while Plank, veteran of many seasons, will probably be Connie Mack's choice. An overcast sky may cause the two managers to change their plans. In that case speed rather than the deceptive delivery, in which the veterans excel, will be necessary, and Shawkey or Bush, youngsters on Mack's team, may be called upon to pitch for the Athletics.

Merkle's Ankle Hurt. All the regulars on the Athletics team arrived here in good condition and will be found at their positions today. Fred Merkle, first baseman on the New York team, is suffering from a slightly sprained ankle received yesterday, and McGraw has a problem to fill that position in case Merkle does not play. His absence would injure the Giants' infield. McGraw has not yet indicated how he hopes to solve the problem.

Despite this apparent handicap, the Giants' manager last night appeared confident that he would be able to reverse the result of yesterday. He declared that luck played a great part in the Athletics' victory. On the other hand, the American League players say that New York had all the breaks of the game, or the score would have been greater against them.

The Giants took things easy at their hotel prior to the game, keeping in doors much of the time because of the damp weather. Many followers of the New Yorkers called on McGraw and his players, but he expected to put on a uniform and take an easy workout.

The Athletics, of course, were heroes for the day wherever they appeared. All of them had orders to report at Shibe Park at 10 o'clock, and there was a big crowd about the players' gate all morning. "Home Run" Baker was given an enthusiastic reception. Everybody wanted to shake his hand and slap him on the back. Collins, his playmate, was also noisily welcomed. Today's game had much to do with victory, was also noisily welcomed. Bender, the big Indian pitcher, having won his game, was practically excused for the day, but he expected to put on a uniform and take an easy workout.

NEW YORK FANS ARE STILL CONFIDENT GIANTS WILL WIN

Admit, However, That Mackmen Were Entitled to Yesterday's Game—Larry Doyle Says Breaks in Luck Went Against McGraw's Team.

[Canadian Press.] New York, Oct. 8.—With players and followers removed to Philadelphia, the second game of the world series, there was only explanation and speculation left to New York today. Continued threatening weather, with forecast of probable rain in Philadelphia, kept many local fans from making a trip to that city, but the railroads arranged for a large exodus. To those who stayed at home a dark day was made the blacker by the sinister shadow which hung over the Athletics. John Franklin Baker, the Philadelphia home-run maker, cast over the hopes of seeing New York win the championship. There was no pronounced discouragement, however, among the "fans" who flocked around ticket and newspaper score boards hoping to see at long range what was going on in Philadelphia.

New York Fans Praise Mackmen. In explanation of the 3 to 4 defeat which the Athletics administered in the first game yesterday, there was little said that did not resolve itself into tribute to Connie Mack's men. The most ardent local "fans" were forced to make heroes of Baker, and of Collins and Schang, and the smashing attack which the whole line-up of invaders made, was accepted as entitling them to a clean victory.

The rival captains of the game set forth their views and how they felt about the game just before leaving for Philadelphia. Danny Murphy's Opinion. "Dan" Murphy, captain of the Athletics, said that the reason was because the Athletics batted hard at the right time, and showed great team work, especially in the infield. All this season the Athletics have shown that once they start to bat hard they keep right at it. They kept it up yesterday. Chief Bender showed splendid condition and control, and whenever it was the right moment to tighten up he was there. If it hadn't been for Barry's error our margin of runs would have been larger. Marquard wasn't there, and that helped us, of course. Collins played a star game, scoring three runs out of three times at bat, and starting both the batting rallies which won for us. Tesreau did wonderful work for the Giants. It looked like a hundred to one that we would score when McGraw put Tesreau in with none out and two on bases, but Tesreau was on the job, and we got nothing out of him."

Larry Doyle, captain of the Giants, paid tribute to the Athletics, but said it was a hard game to lose. "Baker's home run started it," he said, "and it was hard luck that 'Rube' should have given him good ball just at that time. He might have given him an outside ball, with no home run in it. I don't think they will win any more games with Bender. We hit him freely, but the breaks were against us, especially in the double play. Every man was doing his best for New York, but in tight places luck was against them."

LOUIS BIERBAUER TELLS EARLY HISTORY OF "WALLY" SCHANG

Mack's Young Catching Sensation Played on Same Club With Bierbauer and Linneborn Two Years Ago.

BY LOUIS BIERBAUER.
London's First Baseman.

Wally Schang, the best young catcher that ever broke into the big show, is a personal friend of mine. I have played ball with him and against him. He is only 20 years of age, and when he first broke into the limelight he was playing third base for the Depew, N. Y. club, while his brother "Bob" was catching for the same team. That was three years ago.

McGILL EASILY BEAT MONTREAL RUGBY TEAM

Game Was an Exhibition One, and McGill Won By 15 to 0.

[Canadian Press.] Montreal, Oct. 8.—The strength of the McGill football team was displayed yesterday, when, in a practice game, it whitewashed the M. A. A. A. squad by 15 to 0.

The work of Brophy, the new university halfback, was the feature of the game. The Montreal team showed little improvement on Saturday's form, the back division insisting on bunching together too much.

Kaiser Wilhelm Owns Restaurant

Berlin, Oct. 8.—Emperor William is revealed as a restaurant proprietor for the first time by the Vossische Zeitung, which credits him with the ownership of a small cafe and restaurant near the historic mill of Sans Souci at Potsdam.

A former restaurant at the same place had been removed to improve the gardens of the palace, but the Emperor, on the protest of Potsdam people, had a new restaurant built near it, renting it to the former stewards of his domestic staff.

The Emperor is charging only $1,500 yearly rental, with the stipulation that if the cafe proves paying the rent will be raised. The Emperor emphasized one condition, i. e., that the place should serve "the best coffee in Potsdam."

On his early morning walks, the Emperor often enters his own cafe and gets a glass of sherry and some biscuit, over which he discusses the progress of the business.

Former Londoner Dies in Buffalo

[Special to The Advertiser.] Buffalo, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Elizabeth Elliott Hagarty, aged 53, formerly of London, and for 32 years a resident of St. Thomas, expired suddenly Sunday night with heart failure at her home, 555 Walden avenue.

She had enjoyed perfect health until stricken. She was born in Sparta, Ont., and was a daughter of Squire John Elliott, of Toronto.

After living for several years in Toronto, she moved to Hamilton, later going to London, finally the family settled in St. Thomas, where deceased is survived by two sisters—Mrs. W. J. Vipshin and Mrs. James Somerville.

Funeral services will be held at her home in Buffalo tonight, and tomorrow morning the body will be shipped to St. Thomas, where interment will take place in St. Thomas Cemetery.

catching. Wally was the best third-sacker the Pullmans ever had. He could whip a ball across the diamond and handoff the first baseman without any exertion at all. I used to wonder what would happen to that first sacker if he ever tore one across real fast. He was a fast fielder, and I have seen him go clean to the bleachers and grab a foul fly.

His brother Bob left the Pullmans late in the season to join the Erie, Pa., club, in the Central League. Wally then went in to catch. He made good at once, and attracted the attention of Manager Geo. Stallings, of the Buffalo International League club. He had only been with that club a short time before he was the first-string catcher, and was one of the heaviest hitters on the team. That fall seven drafts were put in for him, Connie Mack jangling him. Today he looks like the sensation of the world series.

Wally is a big, husky, clean-living young fellow, and does not drink, or smoke, or chew tobacco. He bats right or left handed, and is able to hit them just as hard either way.

WILL ASSIST WOMAN IN MURDER TRIAL CASE

Important Witness To Be Brought From England in Beemer Case.

Woodstock, Oct. 8.—Something like $200 has been raised by popular subscription to form a defence fund for Mrs. Beemer, who is awaiting her trial on the charge of murdering her husband. This money and more that will come in, will be chiefly devoted to the bringing out from England of a witness, who is believed to be able to offer important testimony on the woman's behalf. A good deal of sympathy for Mrs. Beemer has developed.

CHATHAM WOMAN HAS STRANGE HALLUCINATION

[Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Elizabeth Wilmore, aged 72, widow of the late J. C. Wilmore, Chatham, has been declared of unsound mind, and the local master will appoint a committee to take care of her. She has been living with her eldest son, and he says he is willing that she should continue with him.

According to the son, the mother has long shown signs of an unbalanced mind, and he recalls his father's views on the same subject.

One doctor, who has seen her in a financial condition, and she claimed to own all the silver and copper in the world, saying that it was left her by her father.

When asked as to her health, she said she had been attended by a physician four years before. As a matter of fact, he had been dead for twenty years.

JURY WOULD SEPARATE CONVICTED PRISONERS

Grand Jurors Present Recommendation for Keeping Persons Apart Waiting Trial.

In presenting the findings of the grand jury on its inspection of county jail, asylum, hospitals and sanatorium, to Justice Latchford at this morning's session, the court is asked to recommend that prisoners awaiting trial be kept away from convicted prisoners. A higher class of literature be provided for prisoners; that able-bodied prisoners be employed in construction of roads, etc.; that one aged prisoner be committed on a charge of vagrancy, be transferred to the House of Refuge or some other home.

The hospitals, asylum and sanatorium were found to be in splendid condition, but the county jail, which is the worst of the county, was found to be in a deplorable condition. The equipment of the X-ray department of Victoria Hospital was especially commended.

Justice Latchford coincided with the jury's recommendation for separation of convicted and non-convicted prisoners. He declared, "It is important, upon the importance of good literature in the most important, he said, and should be attended to."

The recommendations will be forwarded to the inspector of prisons. More and better fire escapes were recommended for the asylum.

When "Peg-Leg" Hanged.—Through a mistake in information supplied to The Advertiser it was stated in Tuesday night's issue that "Peg-Leg" Marion Brown was executed Feb. 17, 1899. The records at the court house show that the execution took place on May 17th, of that year.

Rumor of Attempted Escape.—It was rumored about the city this morning that Thomas Riley had attempted to make his escape from the county jail, where he is awaiting trial on a charge of murdering George Blackburn. Governor Carter gave the story credit, saying, "There is absolutely no truth in it." He said, "I don't see how such stories get started."

An Indian Style Picnic.—The employees in the art room of Lawson & Jones' held an enjoyable outing recently, when they proceeded to a wooded south of the city and enjoyed themselves in Indian fashion. Roasts of meat and baked potatoes were the dainties displayed on the bill of fare. It made no difference to the merry-makers if some of the "stuff" was a trifle burnt. During the celebration many Indian braves belonging to the Boy Scouts decided to revenge the intrusion into the sanctity of their own exclusive woods by arbitrate and declare for the wreath of olive leaves to get their share in the good things. Among the party were Messrs. Boney, Cambridge, Thompson and Heslop.

COAL DEALERS LAUGH AT "79c PER TON SAVING"

Ridiculous Statement of Free Press as to Reduction in Cost of Hard Coal Through Electrification Characterized as Crazy.

Graced by seven-column lines "front page top," and supported by three columns of headlines and big type, the statement made in Tuesday evening's issue of the evening electrophone that a saving of 79 cents per ton in hard coal would be effected through electrification and a "cross lake haul" by water, rather than by rail, was characterized as "crazy" by coal dealers.

"They are crazy when they say that they can save 79 cents a ton on hard coal," was the statement made at the office of John Mann & Sons, Buffalo, N. Y., by one of the dealers.

"It can't be done. It's the craziest thing I ever heard," said Bert Heaman, of William Heaman & Sons, Buffalo, N. Y., who would have to build an elevator at Port Stanley. No hard coal comes across the lake. It was tried some years ago, but was found that it wouldn't pay. At present the rate from Buffalo or Niagara Falls is 90 cents per ton. The rate is fixed by the railway commission, and is the same on all roads.

"Hard coal is 25 cents more per ton by water than by rail now, i. e., Buffalo, N. Y. The present gross price of chestnut coal is $6 f. o. b. Buffalo, by rail. By water it is $5 25. That leaves you 65 cents for the lake haul to Port Stanley, the trans-shipment there and the haul by rail to London. At present we are paying 58 cents a ton for the rail haul from Port Stanley here. That leaves 7 cents per ton for a lake haul from Buffalo to Port Stanley. The railways control the mines of Pennsylvania, and it is as cheap a haul from the mines to Buffalo as it ever will be from the mines to Erie, Pa."

The Free Press persists in saying that the Grand Trunk secures a rate of 11 cents per ton from Port Stanley to London, i. e., 25 cents per ton to Port Stanley, 11 cents per ton to London, how, then, can a rate of 11 cents a ton from Erie, Pa., across Lake Erie, and from Port Stanley to London, be secured? Assuming that the Grand Trunk rate of 23 1/2 cents were obtainable, and it wouldn't be when foreign cars had to be secured, plus the estimated rate of 25 cents per ton from Erie, Pa., to Port Stanley, the rate would be 18 1/2 cents. Yet the Free Press boldly says that 79 cents per ton can be saved, or a through haul of 11 cents will prevail. By its own statements there will be a difference of 27 1/2 cents. Again, the question might be asked: WHO IS GOING TO MAKE UP THE DIFFERENCE?

London coal dealers are laughing at the Free Press' statement. "They are crazy when they say that they can save 79 cents a ton on hard coal," was the statement made at the office of John Mann & Sons, Buffalo, N. Y., by one of the dealers.

Build an Elevator. "It can't be done. It's the craziest thing I ever heard," said Bert Heaman, of William Heaman & Sons, Buffalo, N. Y., who would have to build an elevator at Port Stanley. No hard coal comes across the lake. It was tried some years ago, but was found that it wouldn't pay. At present the rate from Buffalo or Niagara Falls is 90 cents per ton. 100,000 DUBLIN PEOPLE ARE ON VERGE OF STARVATION

[Canadian Press.] Dublin, Oct. 8.—A cable to the Tribune from London this morning says:

Dublin is being alarmed by the continued state of starvation which is now in its fifth week. The plight of the poorer section of the population is dreadful, one hundred thousand men, women and children, or one-third of the city's whole population, being on the verge of starvation. Rain fell heavily in the city yesterday, intensifying the misery of the strikers, and their wives and children, huddling together for warmth. A crowd of girls, some of whom were employed in the headquarters of the Irish Transport Union, to receive a dose of soup and bread, and then sat down on the nearest steps to nourish their wasted bodies.

Relief Ships Save Many. The food which has come in the relief ships is the only thing which has kept many families from actual death by starvation. Children are to be seen staggering home through the driving rain with sacks of potatoes and groceries from the food ship stages.

The decision of the Miners' Federation to contribute $5,000 a week is hailed with pathetic joy by the strikers, whose confidence that with English support they will overcome their employers' have never been seriously shaken.

FAVOR SPORTS INSTEAD OF PICTURE THEATRES

Epworth Leaguers Discuss Social Problems of Young People.

Cornwall, Oct. 8.—The moving picture theatre, as one cause of the increased habit of dime-novel reading among young boys, was discussed by Rev. W. H. Stevens, Chesterville, at today's session of the Epworth League convention being held here.

Mr. Stevens, who presented a paper on the league and recreation, said the fact that a board of censors existed in almost every province of the Dominion was sufficient to remind people that the moving picture business was none too good.

Mr. Stevens contended that lacrosse, baseball, football and hockey were honorable games if not indulged in to excess. They train the eyes and hands and tended to give bodily exercise profitable to the participants. He stated that Canada had the best list of outdoor sports of any country in the world. The national games were not free from evils, but if at times they had run low, it was through the intervention of gamblers' and promoters, who sought to gain control of the games.

Miss Bessie Durant, of Winchester, read a cleverly prepared paper on "What Shall Our Young People Read?"

The belief was expressed that literature was the greatest of the five arts. That great care, however, should be shown in the selection of reading matter, was also expressed.

Called to Brush Fire.—The hose wagon from No. 3 fire hall had a call to a brush fire on the Wortley road shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon. The fire was extinguished before any damage was done.

KAMENSKY'S WIFE AND CHILDREN GONE

Moulder Asks Police to Locate His Missing Family.

Paul Kamensky, 522 Phillip street, a molder at McClary's, has asked the police to locate his wife and two little girls, who have been missing since Saturday. Kamensky suspects that his wife and children have gone to Detroit, where the wife's stepfather resides. The latter was in the city Saturday, and it is believed he induced his step-daughter to leave with him.

Some time ago he brought her to London, after having secured $100 passage money from Russia from the husband. With the wife and children went $10 from the family bankroll.

STRAY BULLET HITS FARMER

Andrew Harvey Had Close Call For Being Killed Near Wingham.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Wingham, Oct. 8.—Andrew Harvey is in the local hospital with a bullet in his neck as a result of being accidentally shot as he was driving home last evening. He was driving along the road when he suddenly heard shot, and an instant later a bullet tore through his ear and lodged deep in his neck.

He was taken to the hospital, and the injury dressed, but so far the doctors have been unable to locate the bullet, and will not make any attempt to probe for it for a day or two.

Chief of Police Allen made an investigation and learned that the shooting was caused by three local lads, who were out hunting, firing at random. It is likely that a charge will be laid against them.

13-YEAR-OLD BOY WAS SENT TO WORK

Mother Pleads That She Did Not Have Enough to Clothe Family.

Charged with allowing her 13-year-old son to work in the McClary factory, in contravention of the Ontario factory act, Mrs. Mary Griffin, who resides in the south end of the city, appeared in court this morning. She could not afford to clothe her children, of whom she had four, she told the court, and after her son pleaded with her for some time to be allowed to go to work and help fill the family, she consented.

Her husband earned $25 a month at Victoria Hospital, and out of that amount Mrs. Griffin has to purchase food and clothing for six.

The factory inspector, who preferred the charge, asked that the woman be fined, claiming that she or somebody in the family had altered the ages of the children in the Family Bible, and had sent a note to the McClary Company saying the boy was over 14.

The magistrate protested that he did not want to fine the woman, but after the inspector explained the trouble he had been put to, the court imposed a fine of $1.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

Death of Miss Ballagh. The death of Miss Lottie Ballagh occurred in the 28th year in Victoria Hospital on Monday. She is survived by four sisters: Mrs. C. Young, of Bay City; Mrs. L. Yerkes, of Detroit; Mrs. W. McKenzie, of St. Thomas, and Mrs. D. McKenzie, of this city. The funeral will be held at the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. D. McKenzie, of 420 Rectory street, at 2:30 this afternoon. The services were conducted at 2 o'clock by Rev. Mr. McIntosh. Interment was made at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

TWO POWERFUL ARGUMENTS.

The mayor of an Australian mining town had been away on leave, and as he had outstayed a vote of censure was passed upon him. At the next meeting of the council he, in his capacity of mayor, directed the minutes of the previous meeting to be read, which contained the following:

"A vote of censure was passed on the mayor for outstaying his leave, and it was resolved to ask for an explanation."

"Who proposed this vote of censure?" asked the mayor.

"I did," said a councillor, standing up.

"You did, you?" continued his interrogator, stepping from his presidential chair to the unfortunate member. "Then take that!"

With these words the mayor smote his enemy in the right eye, and felled him to the ground.

"Who seconded this resolution?" he again asked, quietly resuming his position.

There was no answer; the councillors were not over-anxious for a physical contest with so hard a hitter as the mayor.

"Who seconded this resolution?" he again repeated.

Still no reply.

"Then," said the mayor, "as there is no seconder it is informal. Scratch it off the minutes."
