Petrolea Stunned. It was a bitter dose to Petrolea. Confident that they would easily beat London, and have to play off with Sarsnow-covered field. Surprised London Fans Also.

London Started Off Well. Petrolea looked like the class of the district before the game. Both Sarnia and London were easy propositions in the Oil Town, and the former junior champions were looked upon as easy group winners. It seemed as if the "Hard Oils" were just as good as they were two years ago, when they cap-tured the junior honors. However, the game had not been going five minutes before the green and white seemed to be outclassed, and a victory for London was imminent. The locals tore through the Petrolea line like a bareback rider jumping through a paperhoop. At one time Duffield carried the ball for 30 yards before he was down-The famous Petrolea trick plays were not in evidence. It looked as if the visitors had forgotten to bring along the combination and could not open them. London simply smothered everything in the way of fake bucks and long passes that the famous terrors tried to pull, and when a team is beaten at its own game it loses its strength. It was not long before London secured the jump on the vilstors. In the first ten minutes of the play, London had the ball most of the time, Petrolea tried for a rouge at one time, but Johnny Ross ran the ball on a field, inside wings: Fiddes and Ireland, fullback: Edwards, cleason, Knight, balves: McGowan, quarter: Colore, centre: May, Pollard, scrimage: Edwards, It was one continuous they certainly took full advantage of they certainly took full advantage of the poportunity. By one of those strange breaks which are so characteristic of this game, the Argos received six of their points as a present. Maliett dropped the ball when tackled behind his own line, and the converted try which followed made the score for the Oarsmen look a little more pleasing to their supporters. It was the only lucky tally of the game. It was only a fair deal from fortune that the Argos should get one try from having an opponent drop the ball in a tackle, as they have handed away so many points by that mischance during the past autumn.

It was a hard blow to the big crowd Shaughnessy's Team Showed a Return to Oldtime Form.

> Montreal, Nov. 9. - McGill Rugby players showed a return to their early season form on Saturday when they defeated the Royal Military College by the one-sided score or 48 to 12. The match was one of the most spectacular seen in Montreal for some time, the play being replete with sensational runs and britiant kicking. The trick and open plays of both teams added to the interest, making the game more open than any of the previous matches played on the local campus this takes.
