CORRESPONDENCE COLUMN. HELPS FOR HOME-KEEPERS. RECIPES AND STYLE NOTES.

O STANDER DE STANDER D A PAGE FOR WOMEN

BRIGHT ARTICLES DAILY ON WOMEN'S INTERESTS AND ACTIVITIES HERE AND THERE

The Seven Ages of Woman in Love: Chapter Two-

WHEN TWENTY AWAITS THE KING!

y Minnie Les

The second of the SEVEN-AGES-OF-THE-WOMAN-IN-LOVE is around and about twenty.

Prince Charming has had his day. It is now time for the KING to approach. A few Twenties listen for the horn of his auto, but most of them like him just as well if he comes a-wooing of the beggar maid In any ordinary disguise.

TWENTY demands that the King shall kneel before his QUEEN. Or he is no king. His willingness to do so is often the only proof of his devotion which Twenty Woman in the FIRST AGE of Love is almost never conscious of her sex. But Twenty poses on the highest pedestal of sex. She doesn't know it, so she isn't blamable. She has only arrived at a full knowledge of sex as a feminine asset.

At last she understands what mother and teacher and preacher mean when they echo each other: "Be good, if you want a husband!

Of course she does; and of course she's good; and of course she quite naturally expects the reward of goodness.

But the trouble is, she lets man sup-pose that she is PERFECT IN EVERY-THING ELSE. She gets an idea that just being virtuous and nothing more entitles her to the adoration of man.

She may be vain, and selfish, and 'extravagant, she may hate to work, she may loathe children, she may gossip, she may lie, and yet believe that her virtue alone qualifies her to rule forever in the kingdom

And so she makes the KING bow very low indeed, as one who recognizes and meekly confesses his own unworthiness.

It is an excellent thing for society that woman should always keep the highest value on herself. It is one of the barricades which protect her from evil.

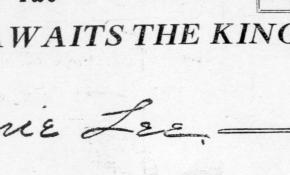

But-the King is human. And soon he discovers that the QUEEN has some pretty UNREGAL WEAKNESSES. And, moreover, he gets pretty tired of the kneeling

Now unfortunately there are women who expect to be adored forever. They never get beyond the second age of love, And when the weary King rises from his romantic worship and changes into a plain and practical partner in the business of living-well, it is not a good plan for any queen to have hysterics about it.

It is much wiser for her to abandon her position of super-woman and to become a helpmate, to try to be at least as useful to a man as, say, his stenographer.

Love means giving service as well as accepting it. Love means paying homage, not demanding it.

And that is what every girl must learn in the second age of love, else she will develop into a petty domestic tyrant-and so lose her queenly crown.

TWENTY demands that the King shall kneel before his QUEEN ontent in their new home.

tion of swarming.

If we do not wish to increase the ees we look into the hive that has swarmed, cut out all the queen cells.

put the caged queen back, and the bees will return. We then put on more surhives, and they usually give up the no-screening, and a board bottom, which

A swarmer is something like a grain

WOMEN AND BEE-KEEPING

Hiving a Swarm-Bees a Good Field for Country Women.

[Written for the Advertiser.]

Pretty,

Young,

Miss

Admired.

O'Gorman.

There are few-if any-prettier girls in Washington's official and exclusive social life than this New York girl-Miss Alice

O'Gorman, daughter of Senator and Mrs.

James A. O'Gorman.

She has recently gone to the national

bag, with a hoop in the top, attached to a long handle; at the end is wire Her wings being clipped, she falls on the grass a short distance from the is made like a little door. To secure the hive. We pick her up and put her in swarm the beekeeper holds the mouth When the warm days come we look through the hives quite often, and before the honey flow we clip the queen's one or two full of honey, and a card of the warm the beekeeper holds the mouth of this under the cluster of bees, gives the branch a quick shake, and they have discovered to the part of the warm the beekeeper holds the mouth of this under the cluster of bees, gives the branch a quick shake, and they have discovered to the part of the branch a quick shake, and they have discovered to the part of the branch a quick shake, and they have discovered to the part of the part of the part of the beekeeper holds the mouth of the part of the part of the branch a quick shake, and they have discovered to the branch a quick shake, and they have discovered to the branch a quick shake, and they have discovered to the part of the branch a quick shake, and they have discovered to the branch a quick shake, and they have discovered to the branch as the branch a quick shake and they have discovered to the branch as the br wings, so if the bees swarm we shall brood from the hive the swarm came two to keep them from getting out, be able to get them. It is claimed that from. All is now ready to receive the and upon reaching the hive opens the swarm they send out new swarm, which is still flying in the little door of the swarmer and gently scouts to find a limb to light on, and air. Finally they settle on a branch; we shakes them out. then a host of bees come rushing out get the swarmer and shake them into pell-mell. We always try to watch it; put the caged queen at the entrance stooping down, we watch for the queen. | too, and soon the bees are busy and

We have kept a few colonies for them at this season, and when we hear a louder buzz than usual we seize a bee veil and run to the hive, where, bee veil and run to the hive, where, or two each year, and doubled up several weak colonies. During seven seasons our profits averaged between $40 and $70. In the past few years we have kept about a dozen hives, and last year, with the price of honey being higher, he realized about clear. We always have a little beeswax to sell. It is nice and yellow, being melted in a solar wax extractor. This is a wooden box with tin arranged about half-way up. Refuse wax is placed in this, with glass over the top, and the heat of the sun's rays melts the wax, which runs through a wire strainer into a pan. Vinegar is also another product made from honey. It s very mild and clear and there is always a ready sale for it. Bees and Pin-Money.

My mother had worked with bees efore for a number of years, and we had quite a few supplies to commence with, an extractor and a good honey house, so we were more fortunate than most beginners. I was very much afraid of the bees at first. Even yet I do no enjoy getting "stung," but I have lost all fear of them and take great pleasure in looking through a hive. young women living at home in the before too many competitors do so.
A MIDDLESEX BEE-WOMAN.

in every block of the city to gain "a cleaner Detroit" is the latest plan of the sanitary committee of the Detroit Public Health League.

FIRST-AID WORK FOR TIMID TRAVELLERS

That the post of "Traveller's Aid" in | ler's Aid work. The lower part is an

Miss Currie intimates such a thing A. ribbon, either in voice or manner, for certainly nothing is farther from her thoughts, extremely busy woman.

in London, as you are the first officer feeble old lady, the other where a 10of the kind to work here," suggested year-old child was concerned. the scribe. Miss Currle smiled in her privilege to be able to show some- travelling alone, she forgot we try to make her feel less lonely. ly to her destination. Sometimes such girls stay over-night, we take them to the station, Many a some misunderstanding he went

Not Always Newcomers. "And are these usually immigrants?"

vas asked. "Oh, no. I find that our own Canaalike. The Scotch girls particularly welcome the sight of a 'Traveller's Aid,' the city of London is no sinecure, is enamel shield in white, with a gold the conclusion one arrives at after a maple leaf stamped thereon and borchat with Miss Currie, recently engaged dered in red. Above is a scroll in dark in that capacity by the Y. W. C. A. blue enamel, on which appear in plain type the words, "Traveller's Aid." With Do not for a moment imagine that this pin Miss Currie wears a Y. W. C

Has Helped Many.

Although she has been in office little but as one gets a glimpse of her work, of day and night trains being met, of more than one month, already Miss hospitals visited, of working-girls he- Currie has personally helped in some ing looked after, and timid travellers way or other some 250 persons, and guided in the right direction, one can-indirectly, many more. It may be innot but realize that Miss Currie is an teresting here to recount two instances where the Traveller's Aid offices have been of service, once in the case of a

It was during a thunderstorm that the old lady arrived in the city from "Yes, that may make it harder at an afternoon train, and frightened at she replied, "but I am counting it the storm or probably unaccustomed to hing of what need there is for a name and the address of her friends, It Travellers' Aid here. Often I meet the was only after much questioning and trains or visit the depots to find a kindly persuasion that the trembling lonely girl, who may have several old body finally remembered whom she nours to wait for a train. In that was to visit, and Miss Currie then case I bring her to the 'Y.' rooms, and boarded a street car and saw her safe-In the case of the child, she had trav-and again they are here only for a elled quite a distance and expected to Then when their train is due, meet an uncle at the London depot. By girl has left us with grateful words for being looked after."

Parkdale instead, and the little girl was almost heartbroken at having was almost heartbroken at having missed him. Miss Currie took charge of the child, keeping her overnight, and glying her in charge of a most perturbed uncle, who arrived the nex dian girls require help as well as the morning. The man was overjoyed to mmigrant girls. But we help them all find his niece in such good hands. These are but ordinary occurrences in the life of a Traveller's Aid. But for these officers are appointed in Scot-land for work in the depots." they go to prove the need of such an officer in London. The establishment Miss Currie wears a very handsome of one has been brought about. What badge, one which has been adopted by are the citizens and church people he Y. W. C. A. in Canada for Travel- London doing towards her support?

PROBLEMS OF THE FAIR SEX SOLVED BY CYNTHIA GREY

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossinie to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn as they are received. No letters can be answered privately.]

Last Words of Great Men.

people. Could you possiblygive me a few or tell me where I might get them? I do not live in the city, so couldn't use he public library. Yours, REGINA. A.—"Allegretto," with cheerful quick-"poco a poco," gradually, or by regular graduation.

God bless you, my dear!"-Dr. John-pleased. son; "What, is there no bribing death?"

Cardinal Beaufort; "It matters little Dear Miss Grey: Please tell me what he word "allegretto" means in music. Raleigh; "It matters little how the head lieth," Sir Walter Raleigh; "It is small, very small, in-Also, "poco a poco." And one thing more, I am anxious to obtain a few quotations of the last words of famous —George Washington. "I must also deed." (clasping her neck)—Anne Boleyn; "Let me die to the sound of delicious music." Mirabeau; "It is well." deed." (clasping her neck)-Anne

Dear Miss Grey: Have you ever heard of such a thing as "mock ginger Here are a few quotations you ask preserves?" I think they are made for: "Let the light enter"—Goethe; from carrots, but have no idea how to "Is this your fidelity?"—Nero; "All my go about making the preserves. I have possessions for a moment of time"— tasted them elsewhere, and like them Queen Elizabeth; "I feel as if I were very much, and if you could give me to be myself again"-Sir Walter Scott; some idea, would be exceedingly MISS LAURIE. A .- I think this recipe will appeal

AS TOLD BY AUNT GERTIE

CHAPTER IV.

"Hooray! Hooray!" sang all the litle storks at once. "Listen to me, children," said the old mother.

"I nave been thinking what you can o, and I have an idea! "I know the pool of water in which brother, both exactly the same age.

all the human babies lie until they are taken to their parents! "The pretty little things sleep ream so pleasantly, "Well, now, I'll tell you what we will We'll take one of these dear little stork. babies, in our long bills, to the home of each good little child we know, to stork, e a sister or a brother!"

he bad boys?" cried the little storks. stork. "Wait," said their mother. "To "We must pick pretty ones of punish the bad children, we will just the pool, too," said the fourth. forget them altogether. We'll pass And off they went to the pool! them by and leave them alone and Do you think little Pe lonely without any sisters or brothers." baby brother and sister? "All right," said the children. "But I am nearly sure he did.

how can we show little Peter, the very cure this? good boy, that we love him dearly for trying to help us when we were weak and could not fly?" "I have thought of that too," said the kind mother stork. "To little Peter we will carry two of ing? these lovely babies, a sister and a

"When a little boy or girl gets brother and a sister, or two brothers and and two sister, who are just the same age, human folks call them 'twins!'-"Oh, how queer," said one little

"Oh, what fun," said another little "Let us hurry and get little Peter's

Do you think little Peter got used

big brother would make you a few hives, if you gave them all the honey they could eat, and with a little study and energy, no one could fail to make them have the seem a more than ordinary sweet to serve at one's table, but let me assure you it was no ordinary sweet to serve at one's table, but let me assure you it was no ordinary sweet to serve at one's table, but let me assure you it was no ordinary sweet to serve at one's table, but let me assure you it was no ordinary sweet this well through the sugar so dinary rhubarb pie! On the contrary! and energy, no one could fail to make them pay. Beekeeping for women is as yet, in its infancy in this country, and dinary rhubarb pie! On the contrary! that it is evenly distributed through the whole. Then sift as much sugar yet, in its infancy in this country, and dinary rhubarb, piece symbol. yet, in its infancy in this country, and dinary rhubarb pies—sunken pastry, thus treated, over the rhubarb, as is now is a good time to enter the field and the juice from the rhubarb flood- needed to make the required sweet ing the pastry. Now, the pastry of this pie was of the sort described cornstarch thickens up the juice and as "melting in the mouth"-short and prevents an overflow beyond the edges She can keep within the allowance not been soaked by the juice of the her husband gives her if she can have charge account at a drygoods only in rhubarb, but in all the small of flavor and no soaking, and therefore fruit pies and tarts, such as straw- no spoiling of the pastry. It is a good home luncheon up, so to speak. I suspected gelatine the other day a myself, yet I wanted to know how it hostess served was done. Here is the recipe, which as dessert - I copy out for the benefit of all who this word not love rhubarb pie-and who does not in the After the rhubarb is cut into proper tainly the thing. No doubt father or rhubarb pie. Now, this may not pastry, the sugar is put on in this of the pie. It is all kept within inclosing pastry. The result is that A permanent organization of women berry, cherry, huckleberry, etc., that method to use in cherry and huckleberry, etc., that berry pies, since those fruits are also ess the secret of restrained juice, that has a presentable appearance,

Carpet Store--Carling Street

SALE OF INLAID LINOLEUMS

MONDAY

Lengths to 12 square yards, Barry Ostlere's and Nairn's makes. Regular $1.25 yard

In order to clean up the Linoleum Department in our carpet store, we've gathered together all the lengths, 12 square yards and under, in all lines and patterns. They include floral, conventional and tile designs, as well as block patterns. Both Barry Ostlere's and Nairn's famous Scotch makes. Goods that sell regular at $1.10 and $1.25 yard.

Do you need a new linoleum in your hall, kitchen or pantry? Do you want a small piece in front of the sink or the stove? This sale affords you an opportunity to buy the very best at a price less than maker's cost. You can buy a small piece or a piece 18 feet long, and instead of the who makes the preserve, the formula sounds alright. Boil small tender carcots, scrape them until free of all spots Steep them for several days in fre quently changed water until the flavor of the carrot has been completely destroyed. Allow one quart of water, two pounds sugar, two ounces whole ginger and the thin peel (yellow only) of one lemon to each pound of prepared car rots. Boil one-quarter hour daily un til the carrots are transparent. When done, a little red pepper may be added to make the preserve hotter if desired Is a New Visitor. your column, and hope you will be ment, able to help me. 1. I am fourteen years old, five feet fatigable and six inches tall. How long should my dresses be? 2. I have chicken skin on my arms, and it makes them rough. What will

You'd better come Monday (we close at 5 o'clock) for the best ends sell first.

3. I also have them tanned. What will cure this? 4. I have light brown hair, blue eyes, fair complexion. What are my colors? 5. What do you think of my writ- Dr. Mary I hope these will not make you tired.

Yours sincerely, BLUE-EYED BEAUTY. Eight inches from the floor. tell me somebody, chicken skin" any relation to "goose ker first became enamored with flesh? thin blood which causes one to become chilled easily. But it would seem impossible for a person to have felt chilly around the date of your last letter, "But what shall we do to punish brother and sister," said a third little with the thermometer registering some enough and brave enough to run the 90 degrees. It may be, however, that gauntlet of current opinion and adopt your blood requires a tonic.

> bare-armed into the sun after using it, and all through the remainder of the and expect results. Nightly applications of lemon juice are also good. 4. Alice blue, rose pink, light browns. and dove grays, should become you

Daily Menu SUNDAY.

Oranges, With Corn Flakes. Coffee. Toast, Baked Eggs. DINNER.

Roast Chicken, Brown Gravs.
Mashed Potatoes. Creamed Carrots Cherry Sponge. FIVE O'CLOCK TEA.

Raspberries and Cream. Buttered Slices of Nut Bread White Fruit Cake, Tea. White Fruit Cake. One cup butter, 2 cups white sugar, up sweet milk, 5 whites of eggs, 31/2 dress after the war. One likes to picups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, pound almonds blanched and cut fine, 1 pound citron cut in thin slices, 1 and nestling close about her throat. grated cocoanut. Bake in two loaves But today, at 70 years of age, the docand ice all with white icing. If preferred candied cherries may be used in in and be buried in masculine apparet. place of the cocoanut. The cherries also She scores strongly the tight skirts make a pretty touch if cut in half and and peek-a-boo waists of the present scattered over the cake while the icing hour, and would, if she had her way, is still soft.

MONDAY. BREAKFAST.
Bacon and Fried Potatoes. Fresh Gems. Coffee. DINNER.

Warm Chicken Pie,

Stewed Cherries.

Hamburg Steak. Scalloped Potatoes. Creamed Eggs. Pineapple Snow. SUPPER.

Cake,

Tea.

OUR JULY

passed. Come early and look them

Wolf & Sons

263-265 Dundas Street.

Dear Miss Grey: I am a new visitor there is plenty of room for improve-No, my child, I am utterly inde

Tea-Table Talk

Dr. Mary E. Walker, The Story

whose picture appeared upon this page yesterday, is one of the most unique feminine characters of a cen-Walker. tury that has produced not a few of the world's most famous women. It was during her service as an army surgeon in the civil war that Dr. Wal; This usually results from too idea of wearing manly apparel, Skirts (and they were not narrow ones in those days) were found to be a serious hamper for the proper performance of active duty, and Dr. Mary was strong a costume which gave greater freedom limb. Special permission twice a day is good; but don't run out Washington had first to be obtained. war the little doctor-woman-for she is only a slip of a body, some five feet in height—busily employed in binding up wounds, setting broken limbs, and hearing the dying sighs of poor soldier lads, pursued her way garbed in conventional coat and trousers. People laughed and called it a whim? But it was more than a whim. The war over, Dr. Mary refused to return to the petticoats prescribed for women since the world began, and it required a speclal act of Congress and a great deal of fuss and comment to gain the desired permission, granted "in recognition of her excellent service on the field of battle."

Would Die in Man's Apparel.

To many of us, this is where Dr. Mary, "falls down." It seems quite natural that man's costume should be more convenient during active service, but how much more romance and "sweet womanliness" would have been connected with her name had she returned to feminine ture Dr. Mary in soft gray silk, with dainty lace falling over her frail hands tor remains determined to end her life dress every daughter of Eve in clothing like unto her own.

The nomas

Although totally blind, Miss Susanna Helmprobst, of Brooklyn, is able to operate a sewing machine and to turn out all sorts of clothing. She is able to thread the needles, guide the mater ial and to take care of the machine in every detail without outside assist-capital to live.